

Openings at Madras.

E. Spinks of Culver was in town Monday. Fisher was in town Monday from Mendonhall of Clilver was a visitor in town Monday. Mrs. M. Lane of Shaniko was in town last Sunday. Mrs. W. Akeyson of Youngs was in town last Friday. Springer was a business visitor at Madras the last of the week. C. Sanford returned last Friday from a visit at Shaniko. A Young was in town Monday from the Mud Springs district. O. Lee and L. A. Hunt were in town Monday from the Haystack country. Thomas E. Braskett was in town Tuesday from the Ashwood country after seed. Mabel Durham of Portland arrived last week, and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas A. Taylor. Rilla McReynolds of Bend arrived in Madras last Friday, and is visiting with her sister, Mrs. S. D. Percival. E. Lovell and family arrived Friday from Shaniko, and have taken up their residence in Mr. Lovell's building on the street. It is reported that O. G. Coliver of Culver bought the D. A. Cook home. The consideration was in the neighborhood of $1650. Lena Lamb Adams arrived Monday morning from Spokane, and will spend some time on her homestead adjacent to the townsite on the South. F. Magill, who has been looking for a farming interest in this section, is expected to return in the next few days to the townsite where he has farm land leased. An Ordination Council will be held at Madras, Saturday, October 24, by the Oregon Baptist Association. An invitation is extended to delegates from other churches in this district to be present. A. J. Opal Prairie Friday, September 19th, Mildred Bernice, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Whittier, died at one month and 20 days. The bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. Charles Smith was in town from the Deschutes ferry on the Deschutes today. He says there is quite a lot of water across the ferry these days, a good deal of the travel to and from The Dalles being by way of the road across the river. James Crabtree of Albany, Oregon, arrived here last Thursday and will visit for some time with his son, Ed. Crabtree, who lives South of Madras. A brother, Harry, is also visiting Mr. Crabtree, but expects to return to his home at Albany in a few days. Frank Blair of Youngs was a visitor in town Monday. He says the Harri-son surveyors are busy in that locality and have run a line up Sage Brush to Spring canyon, and then on up Spring canyon to the flat above the line leaves Deschutes river at the mouth of Trout creek. H. Kilmer of Seattle, who recently purchased the U. S. Cowles ranch East of the place, arrived week last with his family and they have taken up their residence at their new home. There is some over 1100 acres in the tract purchased by Mr. Kilmer and he is planning to improve the property as rapidly as it can be accomplished. When moving from Shaniko to Madras week John Lovell had his iron safe on the bottom of the wagon bed and the locking "mixed" combination could not be opened. Judge Smith was put to work on the safe and about three hours had the safe open and the combination working O. K. The judge's ability as a "crackman" is surely established. The many friends of Howard W. Turner of Madras will regret to learn that he died at Prineville with typhoid fever. It is reported that he has a mild type of the disease and that his condition has not been serious. Mrs. Turner is at Prineville also, and is expected to nurse him through his illness. Mr. and Mrs. Turner have been living on the former's homestead near Powell since they left Madras. A man named Allen from the Sisters country lost a fine colt last Saturday while crossing Agency Plains. Mr. Allen and his family were driving through to The Dalles to attend the fair at that place, and while crossing the plains the colt, which was following them, ran under a fence into one of the fields adjoining the road, and followed inside the fence. When they came to a cross road the colt became alarmed and bolted through the fence, striking itself so badly on the wire that Allen had to shoot it.

Dave Rogers was in town the latter part of the week from his home on Opal Prairie. Alex Houk of Culver was in town Tuesday with a load of red Juniper wood from the desert. Rev. J. K. Craig returned the last of the week from Wenatchee, Washington, where he attended conference. Eleven passengers passed through Madras Tuesday morning on the Bend stage. Travel for the interior has been quite good this Summer. Robert Rea, who has charge of the Central Oregon survey between this place and Bend, was in town last Friday. The surveying party has been camped at the George Osborn ranch for several weeks, but has now moved camp out on the desert. The survey crossed Crooked river about a mile below Trail Crossing. James Kinnersley, who, with the Oregon Trunk Line surveyors when they first camped at Madras, was operated on for appendicitis at The Dalles last week. He became ill the day after he reached Madras and only went out one day with the surveying party, severe pains in his right side giving him much trouble. He left the next day for The Dalles, where an examination was made and it was found that an operation was necessary. Louis H. Arensmeyer and Miss Jessie Hartley, both of this place, are teaching in the Prineville public school, the former in the 6th grade and the latter in the 5th. Prof. P. C. Fulton of this place was also elected principal of the Prineville school, but resigned in order to accept a similar position in the Madras school. Prof. J. F. Blanchard of Madras, who last year was principal of the Prineville public school, has a position as instructor in science and mathematics in the County High School.

J. W. Livingston has had the lower floor of the building formerly occupied by the Elk Drugstore cut up into rooms to accommodate the overflow from the Green Hotel. Railroad talk has stimulated interest in Central Oregon, and there is already a good deal of travel to Madras and on into the country South in search of cheap lands and other good investments in the country to be tapped by the railroad. There seems to be no longer any doubt that a railroad will be built into this section at once, and no other section of the Northwest offers such an attractive field for investment.

Registration books for voters were opened on the 28th of this month, and will be kept open until October 20, to afford an opportunity to register to all who failed to do so before the June election. Those who registered before the June elections need not do so again, but persons who have changed their residence since that time can register again and record the change. Six months residence in the state is necessary to entitle an American citizen to vote, and if the voter will have been in the state six months at the time of the November election, he can register now and qualify to vote at that time. Naturalized citizens can vote after one year from the date of declaration.

C. E. Roush, of the Madras Trading Co., left Tuesday for Portland, where he will spend a week or 10 days. Mrs. J. K. Craig, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis last Thursday morning, is reported to be improving, and her many friends hope for her speedy recovery. Mr. Craig has also been quite ill since his return from conference, suffering with an attack of asthma. He is also improving, however, and if he and Mrs. Craig are able to travel, he expects to move with his family to White Salmon some time next week. Their departure will be generally regretted in Madras.
