

A SUDDEN GOLD.

Miss Helen Sauerbier, of 315 Main St., St. Joseph, Mich., writes an interesting letter on the subject of catching cold, which cannot fail to be of value to all women who catch cold easily.

PERUNA ADVISED FOR SUDDEN COLDS.

Should be Taken According to Directions on the Bottle, at the First Appearance of the Cold.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept., 1901.—Last winter I caught a sudden cold, which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits. A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it, and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned and within nine days I was in my usual good health.

—Miss Helen Sauerbier, Peruna is an old and well tried remedy for colds. No woman should be without it.

KASPARILLA

This sterling household remedy is most successfully prescribed for a "world of ills." For derangements of the digestive organs it is a natural corrective, acting directly upon the liver and alimentary canal, gently but persistently stimulating a healthful activity. Its medicinal influence extends, however, to every portion of the system, aiding in the process of digestion and assimilation of food, promoting a wholesome, natural appetite, correcting sour stomach, bad taste, irregularities of the bowels, constipation and the long list of troubles directly traceable to those unwholesome conditions. Kasparilla dispels drowsiness, headache, backache and dizziness due to inactivity of the liver, lungs and digestive tract. It is a strengthening tonic of the highest value. If it fails to satisfy we authorize all sales to refund the purchase price. —WATKINSON & CO., Portland, Oregon

S.S.S. FOR BAD BLOOD

When bad blood is caused from an infection of the circulation by the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, it usually shows in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots on the body, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. These general symptoms, affecting all parts of the body, show how deeply poisoned the blood becomes, and emphasize the dangerous character of the trouble. If allowed to remain in the system the disease will finally wreck the health and break down the strongest constitution. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the virus. S. S. S. is the one real and certain cure; it goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and by removing every trace of the poison, and adding rich, healthful qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. S. S. S. is the most reliable of all blood purifiers, and its concentrated ingredients of natural vegetable extracts and juices, especially adapt it to curing this dangerous trouble. Write for our home treatment book, which is a valuable aid in the treatment of the different stages of the disease, and ask for any special medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

Both Guilty.

The man who prided himself on his keen perceptions watched the witness on the stand with intensity, and nodded his head vigorously at the closing words of the bewildered witness.

"That man's concerned in it," said the keen observer to his friend. "Didn't you notice how his eyes shifted around?"

"How about this next one?" inquired the friend.

"He's guilty of something," asserted the keen observer. "No man stares at people in that bold, defiant way if he has a clear conscience."

No Right to Kick.

Customer—It seems to me that's an awful price to have to pay for a pound of liver.

Butcher—You must remember, ma'am, that the liver is a choice part. This steer weighed nearly a ton, and he had only one small liver.

Too Hazardous.

"Yesir," admitted a waiter, "I shall be compelled to throw up my situation here."

"Indeed! What is the matter?"

"More than I can put up with. The governor insists on my eating mushrooms in the presence of customers to prove they are edible fungi."—London Tit-Bits.

Only a few years ago the only article tasting of maple was maple sugar. There is now an article on the market that is so like the real maple sugar that even old Vermonters are unable to tell the difference. In fact, on account of its healthful qualities, being a purely vegetable product, neither sticky nor sickly, it is preferred by many people who formerly used only the regulation maple sugar.

This new extract is called Mapleine. It is a Seattle product and can be used to advantage by the housewife in a variety of ways. For instance, a syrup like maple can be made by simply dissolving granulated sugar in water and adding a few drops of Mapleine.

The Crescent Manufacturing Company who make Mapleine have published a booklet called Mapleine Dainties. This will be sent free on request to anyone who asks for it. It is full of wholesome recipes.

Cholly—Let me see—what's that quotation about a nod being as good as a wink, and so forth?

New Industry.

"Who is that striking looking man near the head of the table?" asked one of the guests.

"That's Mr. Jypes," answered the other. "He's a blood boiler."

"What! A workman at the stock yards?"

"No, no; don't you understand? He writes these shocking stories of corporation cruelty to children and ignorant employees that you read in the Magazines."—Chicago Tribune.

FARMS AND FARMERS

Save the Rotten Trees.

When the trunks of cherry trees have started to decay probably the best way of checking it is to clean out the dead wood, paint the wound thoroughly with whitewash, or, better yet, with Bordeaux mixture, and then cover the whole wound with grafting wax or clay, so as to keep the water out. While this may not result in an entire healing over of the bad wounds, it will probably stop the decay, and make the trees last longer than they would if left without treatment. Don't be afraid to remove all the rotten wood, as it adds nothing to the strength of the tree and has a tendency to promote rot in the new tissues. It is quite likely that this rot started in the tunnel of a borer and has gradually spread until it is serious.

Demand for Trained Farmers.

The last ten years has seen an enormous increase in the demand for men trained in agricultural lines. The number of such men has enormously increased, but the demand is not yet supplied.

Many of us can look back twenty years to the time when untrained men were at the head of agricultural instruction in most of our agricultural colleges. These men had to be employed because they were the best that could be found.

One man who rose to be the chief dairy instructor in a State afterwards went to a dairy school and took a full course, showing that he felt that he had something to learn, even though he himself had been an instructor.

To-day we are getting the result of the past twenty years of training in the agricultural schools and their dependencies, the dairy schools. The men at the head of the departments to-day are vastly superior in training to the men that occupied the same positions twenty years ago. They have not only learned all that their instructors knew, but have dug up other facts and have assimilated the new facts dug out by other people in all parts of the world.

But where there were few positions to be filled twenty years ago, there are thousands of places to be filled to-day. There are more schools and all of them are larger. Moreover, private enterprises are levying toll on the young

SANITARY COW STALL.

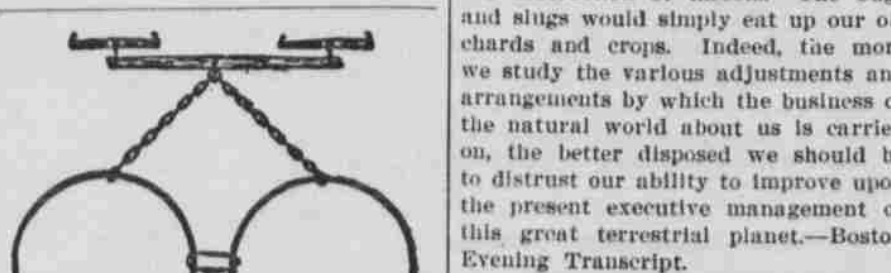

Cattle of different ages must be provided for in constructing a row of stalls. Even when all are mature animals, the larger ones will require a few inches more standing room than the shorter ones. The stall at one end can be made six inches longer than the stall at the other end. A slope of one inch from manger to gutter is necessary for drainage. The illustration shows the dimensions of the several parts. A, manger; B, platform; C, adjustable piece; D, where cow's hind feet rest; E, gutter.

trained men going out of the agricultural schools and experiment stations.

Another twenty years will possibly show as great an advance as have the past twenty.—Agricultural Epitomist.

New Form of Drag.

The illustration shows a drag made with four old wagon tire irons, the two front ones being heavier than the rear ones. If the ground is very lumpy better work can be done by wiring a log on the front tires. The drag is inexpensive and will be found useful under certain conditions.

Egg Eating Fowls.

Egg eating is due to one or two causes—either lack of shell-forming material or a bad habit acquired by close confinement and bad example. If the fowls are receiving too little they consume the eggs in order to satisfy their craving. In one hundred eggs of ordinary size there are about twenty-two ounces of lime, and all this must be taken into the system in one form or another. Broken oyster shells are, perhaps, the best and cheapest shell-forming material. If due to a bad habit, it is rather more difficult to overcome. If the culprit can be discovered, and it is not a valuable bird, it is better to kill it at once, as the habit is one that quickly spreads to the other fowls. A good old way of curing this vice is by blowing an ordinary egg and refilling with a mixture of cayenne pepper and mustard. This should be left in a prominent place, and if the fowls peck at it they will not, in all probability, repeat the experiment. Too few nest boxes sometimes cause the eggs to be laid on the floor and in the run, which is putting unnecessary temptation in the way.—S. S. C., in the American Cultivator.

To Kill Cut Worms.

In India the formula used by the government for poisoning cutworms is 4 pounds of white arsenic and 8 pounds of sugar, in 8 gallons of water, used to moisten 80 pounds of fine-chopped straw. Small quantities are dropped at the bases of plants.

News of the Grange.

There are now 418 subordinate granges in Maine, with a membership of between 56,000 and 57,000. Ten new grange halls were dedicated during the past year, making eighty-nine halls owned by granges in the State. The total cash receipts of the secretary's office were $11,274.

There were 1,200 persons in attendance at the Ohio State Grange meeting at Kenton. Twenty-two new granges had been organized and there have been large accessions during the year to granges already organized. The treasurer showed total resources of $23,788. The committee in charge of the trade arrangement reported that sixty-four tons of binder twine had been purchased, worth $12,000, and fertilizer to the amount of $21,000.
