IN RE THE HARRIMAN STORY

reported interview with Mr. pose to build a new road, fol-Harriman, in which the latter was said to have referred unfavorably to the Central Oregon railroad is given prominence in county to bear half the expense this week's paper. The story and Crook county citizens to was not given much credence put up the balance, amounting here when first published, but to about $600. It is estimated it will nevertheless be of interest to many to read Mr. Stanley's denial, and what he says regarding the prospects for a road.

Much has been said in papers throughout the state regarding the Central Oregon railroad, and the public has about reached the point where it will have to see "dirt fly" before it is sure that the road will be built, or which route will be chosen. But, no man in the state has kept in closer touch with the railroad situation in Central Oregon than Mr. Stan ley, and for this reason his opinion will have weight. He says he has good reasons to believe that the work will be begun at once.

considerable interest was manifested in the project. Messrs. Rooper and Howell represented Wasco county at the meeting, the former explaining at length the attitude of the Wasco county court towards the proposed Mr. Stanley's denial of the improvement. It is their purlowing the creek and avoiding the steep pull "over the horn," and to improve the grade all the way up the canyon, Wasco that about $200 of this amount will have to be raised at Mad.

The meeting called for Monday evening to discuss the im provement of the Cow Canyon

ras by subscription. An organization was effected with A. C. Sanford as chairman and Max Lueddemann as seeretary, and a committee consisting of J. W. Robinson, C. E. Roush and John McTaggart was appointed to solicit subscriptions. Don Rea was ap pointed a special committee to take the matter up with the D. L & P. Co. and the other interests at Bend.

The several local branches of the Farmers' Union have also taken the matter up and will lend their assistance, and the success of the undertaking is assured, so far as this section is concerned.

HELPING ALONG OUR FAIR

One of the bills passed over the veto of Governor Chamberlain, was the bill of Represent ative Belknap, appropriating $750 annually to the First Central Oregon District Fair Association, the meetings of which are held at Prineville. The bill funds for the support of other district fairs throughout the state, and it was just and right that the district fair held at Prineville should also receive some state aid. Central Oregon is developing into one of PAINTING and Paper Hanging-Firstthe great agricultural districts of the state, and its district fairs, whose purpose is the advancement of the agricultural interests, should receive proper encouragement.

THE ARTESIAN WELL BILL

Senator Smith of Umatilla county has introduced in the legislature what is known as DAYLIGHT STAGE-There will be a the artesian well bill, and the measure has passed the Senate with only one dissenting vote. If it becomes a law it will unquestionably prove beneficial to many sections of Eastern Oregon, where artesian water may ESTRAY HOGS TAKEN UP .- Came be secured by deep drilling. Drilling for artesian water is an expensive business, and it has not been very extensively engaged in in Eastern Oregon, for the reason that it has not been practical, even where there were good prospects of securing artesian water, to get all the property-owners who would be benefitted thereby to join in the enterprise. The Smith bill provides a practical way in which districts may be organized and the co-operation of all property owners to be benefitted may be secured, since all property in the well district must share in the expense of the drilling Such a law will open the way to much development work of that kind.
