Continental received in two years. "Ours is a New England farmer's home, and as we are twenty miles from a large town, we are obliged to depend very largely upon family medicines we keep on hand all the time. "First and foremost among them is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have always found a true friend and helper. When I had suffered dreadfully from dyspepsia, without finding relief, Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me quick help, and when I had used four bottles I was in better health than for many years. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla "A Great Spring Medicine to build one up when strength is most needed, to create an appetite, and in short to regulate the whole system. I have lately been taking Sarsatabs, which I find convenient, easy to take, and very beneficial." Mrs. E. L. Berry, West Troy, Me. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. HE HAD AN ABSENT PART.

Recruit Glad to Start Toward Stage Glory as "Carlos, the Fiddler."

"The son of a wealthy old friend of mine, being stage struck, joined with a 10-20-30 opera company. I met him loading and strutting about a hotel in Duluth, Minn.," said the veteran actor to a representative of the New York Telegraph.

"Come over to the opera house and see the show," said he.

"I went, but I saw no signs of this young man on the stage, nor was his name on the program. Afterward I met him in the lobby of the hotel.

"I did not recognize any of the characters as you," I remarked. "What part are you playing?"

"Why, I am playing the part of Carlos, the Fiddler," said he.

"There was no such part."

"Oh, yes there was. Didn't you notice how they talked about him? In the first act, in order to get the chorus off stage, didn't the soubrette put her hands over her eyes, look off L. 4 E. and say: "Oh, girls, Carlos the Fiddler is going to have a dance on the green; let us hasten or we will miss it?" Then burst into song and skip off? You bet they did.

"Then again, in the second act, when the bell is tolled without, don't the prima donna say: "Hark that bell! That bell can stand an awful lot harking, for who is pulling the rope but Carlos the Fiddler?"

"That is true, young man, but they only talk about you. You do not show yourself on the stage during the whole performance."

"I am aware of that, but you must remember I am as yet a raw recruit, still I feel I am on my way to fame and glory, though the path may be strewn with thorns."

"Oh, if the hope and optimism of youth could be with us in our later years," sighed the veteran actor.

Fool—I woke up last night with a start. I dreamed that my watch was gone. Drool—Well, was it? Fool—No, but it was going.

An English lecturer on chemistry said, "One drop of poison placed on the tongue of a cat is sufficient to kill the strongest man."

"And does your husband still think you the an angel?" "Oh, yes! At least he seems to think I don't need any new clothes."—Pick-Me-Up.

Knicker—Wouldn't you like to wake up and find yourself famous? Bocker—I'd rather be so famous I wouldn't have to wake up.—New York Sun.

Tom—What was that sentence the choir repeated so often during the litany? Laura—As near as I could make out it was "We are all miserable sinners."

Clara—That man who just passed was an old flame of mine. Kate—Indeed! What happened between you? Clara—Oh, he flared up one day and went out.

"A fool and his money are soon parted," quoted the pessimist. "Yes," rejoined the optimist, "but it's worth while being a fool to have the money to part with."

Loafer the First—I thought this year unemployed fund was for charity. Loafer the Second—So it is, isn't it? Loafer the First—It ain't. It means work.—The Sketch.

"I can not tell a lie," declared the eminent magnate. "You don't have to," urged his eminent counsel. "Just say that your mind is a blank on that subject."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"What are the names of that young couple next door?" "We won't be able to find out for several weeks. They've just been married, and he calls her Birdie and she calls him Pettie."

Suburbanite (to visitor)—Oh, how are you? Come right in. Don't mind the dog. Visitor—But won't he bite? Suburbanite—That's just what I want to see. I only bought that watch dog this morning.

"So you have named your little girl 'Investigation'?" "Yes." "Isn't that a queer name?" "Well, we read every day of some rich man courting investigation and we shall want our daughter to marry well."

The Artist's Wife (in a whisper)—There's someone knocking. Jack. Shall I open the door? The Artist—No; it's Jabber's knock. It's a special knock I gave him, so I wouldn't let him in by mistake.—Life.

"All writers are not impractical, are they?" "Oh, no. One man will write a joke and sell it for fifty cents. Another will write a comic opera around it and draw $20,000 in royalties."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

O'Brien—Oh, but me daughter's the smart girl. She set two min fighting for her hand. Landers—And she married the winner? O'Brien—Begorry, no! She married the one she could lick easiest.—Boston Transcript.

"Give woman the credit she deserves," the suffragette cried, "and where would man be?" "If she got all the credit she wanted, he'd be in the poorhouse," sneered a coarse person in the rear of the hall.—Stray Stories.

"Pa, will you please tell me what a financial genius is?" "A financial genius, my child, is a man who can spend money that he has never had, and which the people who think they are getting it will never see."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Still Struggling.

"Uncle Hiram, have you ever written any magazine stories?"

"No—no, not yet, dear; I have only written stories for magazines."

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living aright. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects by the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.
