Curious Giant Cranes.

Australia, the land of oddities, animal, vegetable and mineral, has few more curious creatures than the giant cranes-often five and six feet in height, with beautiful blue-gray plumage-which are called native companions. These huge birds mate for life and, as mates, are singularly and touchingly devoted to one another.

AGENTS EVERYWHERE ARGENTINA'S FLOOD OF IMMIGRANTS.

Growth of Immigration Into Argentina.

People who think that all the immigrants who leave Europe make a beeline for Canada or the United States will be surprised to learn that Argentina received more immigrants in 1908 than the United States did in 1897 or 1898. In 1908 Argentina received 255,750 strangers. This was about onethird the number the United States received that year, but in proportion to population she is far shead of the United States as a promised land for Europeans who leave home. A glance at the reference books in which these figures appear shows, however, that the rest of South America must not be judged by Argentina. Brazil's immigration is falling off and Chile's is insignificant. From the 76,292 foreigners who settled in Brazil in 1901, the number of annual additions to the population has dwindled until the last census, in 1904, gives but 12,447. In the five years including 1901 and 1905 Chile records a total of only 14,000 immigrants.

One of the main reasons why Argentina is so eagerly picked out for settlement lies doubtless in the determined efforts of the government to populate the island districts. As soon as the immigrants land they are provided with good food and comfortable shelter for five days. The Nationa'. Bureau of Labor finds places for them, if they are laborers or mechanics, and they are dispatched to their destination and supported for ten days free of charge under the direction of an agent of the bureau. If after arriving at his original destination "the immigrant wishes to continue his journey still farther by another railroad, he is provided with a ticket and conducted to the station by the agent." As to the number of immigrants, Argentina received in 1865 11,767 immigrants; in 1875, 42,066; in 1885, 108,722; in 1897, 135,205; in 1905, 221,622; in 1907, 209,108; and in 1908, 255,750 immigrants.

CAPTAIN EDMIND L.G.ZALINSME

and artillery experts have more than a passing innouncement that Louis Gray Zalinski, the inventor of the pneumatic dynamite gun, has passed away at his home in New York

City. For a number of years the Zalinski method of firing safely shells loaded with dynamite, gun cotton or other high explosives has been under experiment by the United States and other nations, with the result that experts seem to be of the opinion that for coast dethe under side of the mantelpiece."- | fense, at least, the gun may have permanent and great value.

Zalinski was born in Prussian Poland, Dec. 13, 1849. With his parents he came to the United States when he was 4 years old, and he grew up in the village of Seneca Falls, N. Y. When the Civil War broke out, though only 14 years old, he entered the army as a volunteer aid-de-camp to General Nelson A. Miles. In February, 1865, he was given a commission as second lieutenant in the Second Now York Heavy Artillery because of gallantry displayed at the battle of Hatcher's Run, Va. In September, 1865, he was mustered out of the volunteer service and in the following February was given an appointment in the regular army as second lieutenant of the Fifth United States Artillery. A year later he was promoted to be first lieunearly twenty-one years, when he was appointed captain.

Lieutenant Zalinski turned his time to profitable experimenting. From 1880 to 1889 his time was almost wholly given to the development of the pneumatic dynamite gun.

Other inventions included an intrenching tool, a ramrod bayonet, a telescopic sight for artillery and a for sea coast and artillery firing. In ten years later was given honorary promotion to the rank of major.

. . . The Zalinski dynamite gun is operated by compressed air. Dynamite, it is well known, is easily exploded by a sudden shock, and because of this fact it cannot be fired from an ordinary gun or cannon. The gun is about fifty feet long and is fifteen inches interior diameter. Three such guns form the equipment of the dynamite cruiser

Vesuvius. The Vesuvius received a test of her effectiveness in actual warfare before the harbor of Santiago, when Cervera's fleet was bottled up by the blockading vessels of the United States navy. Under cover of darkness one night she stole up to within 600 yards of the Spanish fortifications and discharged three shells loaded with gun cotton. Two of the three shots exploded on the hill with terrific effect, but nothing further was attempted and the Vesuvius rejoined the fleet.

Owing to the high trajectory of the dynamite gun's fire the three tubes on the Vesuvius are set pointing up into the air at an angle of eighteen degrees from the horizontal. The tubes extend to the bottom of the vessel, and the loading is done there with the magazine carried along the keel so as to be safe from explosion by a shot received from the enemy. Though the experts are not yet convinced that the Zalinski gun is certain of being useful in future warfare, they see in it possibilities and probably will continue to experiment with it. At the least, the invention is conceded to have been useful in demonstrating the possibility of firing large charges of high explosives for a long distance by means of compressed air.

MILK, ITS CARE AND USE.

Clean Vessel Necessary-Pasteurization-Lime Water.

Vessels used for mllk must be thoroughly cleansed. Tins should be rinsed in lukewarm water and washed with hot water and soap; then rinsed in boiling water and sunned two or three hours if possible. Milk should not be No. 6. covered tightly; use muslin or cheese cloth for covers, which keeps the dust out and lets the air through.

The little pasteboard covers that come in milk bottles are for that purpose. Milk should be kept in a clean, cool place; it absorbs odors very quickly.

Milk becomes sour through the action of bacteria. Pasteurizing destroys tellers. the disease germs, but it does not de stroy the spores. Boiling the milk will kill the spores, but that makes the milk indigestible for a child. There is even a question regarding the digestibility of pasteurized milk. If it is necessary to pasteurize fallk for a child, a tablespoonful of orange juice should be given through the day, this furnishing an organic acid which is that is eaten. Hamlins Wizard Oil is destroyed in the heating of the milk. Fill sterile bottles or jars nearly full of milk, cork them with baked cotton, place on rings in a deep pan and fill with cold water, so that the water may be as high outside the bottles as the milk is inside; put the pan over the fire and heat until small bubbles show around the top of the milk (this temperature is about 155 degrees Fahrenheit); remove to the back of the fire tenant and in this rank he served and allow the bottles to stand there fifteen minutes, then reduce the temperature as quickly as possible, and when the milk is cold remove the bottles from the water and keep in a cold place. In summer milk should be Pasteurized twice a day for babies.

If a child's stomach is acid, lime water should be used with the milk. Put a piece of unslaked lime the size of a walnut into an earthen vessel. system of range and position finding Cover it with two quarts of water, stirring it thoroughly; allow it to settle. 1894 he retired from the army and then pour off the water; add two quarts of filtered water, stir, and when it settles pour the clear solution into a bottle. More water may be added .-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
