

MADRAS And The Country

George Summers, the telephone man, was in town this morning.

John Brogan of Antelope was in town the last of the week and visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Robinson.

J. M. Conklin spent several days at Redmond during the week, and while there purchased a tract of irrigated land in that locality.

G. Springer of Culver has received the appointment from Governor Benson as one of the delegates to represent the Deschutes Valley at the National Dry Farming Congress which convenes at Billings, Montana, October 26, 27 and 28.

The first snow of the season was visible on Grizzly Mountain last Friday morning. It disappeared rapidly. The white mantle was somewhat of a surprise as this section was visited by a heavy rain the same evening and the day before was quite balmy.

F. W. Wooley, traveling salesman for Marshall-Wells Hardware Co., and Mr. Matthews, representing Lang & Co., of Portland, arrived in town Sunday evening and next morning called on the merchants here. Each of the gentlemen is touring the interior in his auto. The joy wagon is found to be a great convenience among traveling salesmen.

John Helfrich of Lamonta, and his sons Ben and James and their families and Dave Rogers and wife of Opal Prairie, all expect to go to Pittville, Shasta County, Calif., to make their home. The elder Mr. Helfrich recently sold 80 acres of his land at Lamonta to Rev. Adams of Moro, a brother in law of Tom Leech, for $1000. Ben Helfrich and his father have been offered $19 an acre for 300 acres of their land at Lamonta, and this deal will probably be closed this week. Other Lamonta people are also thinking of going to Pittville.

William A. Lee and Mrs. A. M. Barlow of Madras were married at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday evening, September 29, by Rev. Levellen.

J. C. Cockerham and Will Barber were in town Tuesday from their homes near Culver. Mr. Cockerham is from Butler, Oregon, and owns considerable property in the Madras and Culver districts.

County court is in session this week. Judge Ellis and Commissioner Bayley taking up minor matters on Wednesday. Commissioner Rice arrived today. There are many things before the court of great interest to the county. A lot of troublesome Madras road petitions are to be disposed of this term.

Tillman Teuter was in town from Madras last Friday and Saturday. He says real estate prices are going up there, ranchers holding their dry lands at about $20 per acre. Madras is on the boom now with railroad construction camps as the mainspring of activities.
