Harriman And Hill Roads
Agree To Quit Fighting

NO UNDERSTANDING AS TO DIVISION OF TERRITORY

Right Of Way Difficulties Was Subject
Of Conference—Expensive
Construction Work

No agreement as to what Central Oregon points shall be touched or what sections shall be served by either line is contained in the compact, concluded between the Oregon Trunk Line and Deschutes Railway Company concerning right-of-way conflicts, according to both parties to the understanding.

The agreement deals wholly with right-of-way controversies, most of which occurred before either route touched the tonnage-producing territory of the state's interior and does not include a division of territory. The principal conflict after leaving the canyon began six or eight miles south of Madras, where the two lines came together on the plains and continued more or less so to Crooked River crossing, the Harriman road to go on the west of the Hill road. Crooked River Canyon is to be crossed over the same bridge.

Following the settlement of these points, John F. Stevens, president of the Oregon Trunk Line, yesterday consented to make the first definite statement of construction plans of the Oregon Trunk Line south of Madras.

"The Oregon Trunk Line will be built as far south as the center of Crook County," said Mr. Stevens, "but as to beyond there I am not in a position to say definitely at this time, except that I know that we are not going to California.

"In Central Oregon the railroad business derived from the farming communities is bound to be light for a time. The country cannot be developed all at once, but I am in hopes that by the time the railroad reaches the timbered area large mills will have been established and already cutting timber. There is always a good market for yellow pine lumber."

When asked when the Oregon Trunk Line would be operating trains into Central Oregon, Mr. Stevens said that he hoped it would be early next Fall, but that he could not make a definite promise, as much of the work yet to be done is very heavy.

Mr. Stevens' assertion regarding the extension of the road beyond Madras is an authoritative one concerning the subject already definitely indicated.

Right-of-way men have been at work for weeks between Madras and Bend and it is known that practically all the necessary lands have been acquired. Graders have been at work south of Crooked River crossing several months and men have been engaged in blasting approaches for the bridge spanning the chasm. This is 20 miles south of Madras.

The Crooked River bridge, says Mr. Stevens, will have only one other counterpart anywhere, so far as he knows. There is a steel arch over a canyon on the Victoria Nyanza route in Africa that is very similar. The Canadian Pacific, in its crossing of Stony Creek in the Selkirk, has a bridge that in some particulars, but not all, is similar. The Stony Creek bridge crosses over the water at a height of about 300 feet, but the canyon is "V" shaped, and there is a steel approach to the arch on each side. The Crooked River arch will spring at both sides from perpendicular rock walls and span the river at a height of about 380 feet. It will be one of the highest arch bridges in the world. This arch will have to be built out from each side of the canyon to the meeting point as the canyon is too deep to permit the use of false work. The span will be 320 feet long.

MADRAS HELD FIRST CITY ELECTION MONDAY

The election for the incorporation of the city of Madras and election of city officials was held Monday, January 31. The vote for incorporation carried by a majority of 62, the vote count was 65 for incorporation, 3 against incorporation, and four blank. A total of 72 voters cast.

The following city officers, from the candidates of two parties voted on, received the majority of the votes cast for their different offices:

Mayor, Independent Citizens, Howard W. Turner.
Recorder, Citizens and Independent, John H. Jackson.

Treasurer, Citizens and Independent, J. M. Conklin.
Marshall, Citizens and Independent, Austin W. Culp.

Councilmen, Citizens and Independent, William H. Cook, Independent; W. Riley Cook, Samuel E. Gray, Dr. T. A. Long, Thomas B. Tucker, Warren Smith.

The election returns were transmitted to the County Clerk today and will be placed before the next regular session of the County Court, at Prineville, about March 1, to act upon, and it is expected that the charter will be received about the 20th of March.

PRESIDENT STEVENS RE-TURNS FROM THE EAST

Portland Telegram

"I feel very sure Congress will pass the bill granting us permission to bridge the Columbia River for connections with the North Bank road," said President John F. Stevens, of the Oregon Trunk this morning. He has just returned from a month's visit in Washington, New York, Chicago and other Eastern cities. "We were obliged to ask Congress for permission," he said, "because we must cross a navigable stream separating two states, but the bill is in the hands of the committee, and we look for a favorable report and an early passage thereafter.

"We are rushing all our work ahead with all possible dispatch. The plans for the bridge are now being prepared by Engineer Ralph Modjeska. I had a conference with him a few days ago, and he is making good headway. As to the cost of the bridge, I can't say. It may cost $1,000,000, maybe more, maybe less. It is impossible to announce just when we shall be ready to commence building the structure, but it will be given the same dispatch that all our other work is receiving."

Asked to specify some approximate date for the completion of the Oregon Trunk into Madras, President Stevens remarked:

"I wish I could. I know the people of Oregon are interested in this question, but the best answer I can give is that Porter Brothers will drive the line into the interior to the proposed terminus just as rapidly as their equipment and men can do so. They have more than 1500 men at work now, and as everybody knows, the weather has been unfavorable for rapid progress. Another thing that must be considered is the fact that we have a great deal of very heavy construction in the 100 miles of road we are building."

President Stevens is hopeful of having the road finished to Madras along in the Summer, but he frankly admitted that no date could be set at this time. Cordial in the extreme, and affable enough on all questions not pertaining to undeveloped plans, President Stevens evaded or denied point-blank a number of questions flung at him.

SHERIFF MAKES WHOLE-SALE ARRESTS HERE

Many Suspected Violators Of The Law
Taken To Prineville For Arraignment

Madras has experienced quite a notorious clean-up in the way of illegal selling of booze and gambling, and of the hold-up fraternity. Sheriff Elkins and Deputy Sheriff Cadie arrived in town Tuesday evening and proceeded to locate and place under arrest several men that have been under suspicion of violating the law in different ways.

Two men commonly known as "Smok-ey" Rice, and "Redy" Bryan, Saturday evening got into a scuffle with a man by the name of Morris, a blacksmith working for Tucker and Culp, and relieved him of his watch. The affair was of course planned by the two, and came out quite successfully. Both men were captured by Sheriff Elkins and were identified by Morris.

Two other professional gamblers were also taken into custody, their names being Mason and Fuller.

There were twelve in all taken out yesterday, including the proprietors of the several "soft" drink parlors located here, against whom there is said to be evidence. Two more arrests and several more witnesses were taken to Prineville today.

SPRINGS MAY BE SET ASIDE FOR RESORT

Washington, Jan. 19.—Representative Ellis today recommended to Secretary Ballinger that the nine warm springs on the Warm Spring Indian Reservation be set apart as a resort, so that a sanatorium may be erected for the benefit of those desiring to make use of the springs. These springs will be readily accessible as soon as the railroads are built along the Deschutes River.

The secretary was favorably impressed with the idea, and asked Mr. Ellis to lay the matter before the Indian Commissioner for his views. He will do so when Commissioner Valentine recovers from his illness. It is the plan that several sections on which the springs are located be cut out of the Indian Reservation, and leased to private parties, the Indians to be recompensed in some way to be determined later.

THESE STOCKMEN TAKE NO NEWSPAPERS

In offering their pleas of guilty in the United States Court yesterday, three Prineville citizens informed Commissioner Cannon that they did not take the newspapers and had never heard that any one had been fined in Oregon for surrounding the public land with wire fences.

The citizens who threw themselves on the mercy of the court were C. J. Houston, J. J. Ferguson and Oscar Faught. Judge Cannon pointed out that they had profited enough from the exclusive use of the lands to pay annual subscriptions to the leading newspapers of Oregon for the rest of their natural lives, and imposed a fine of $100 each.

Attorneys for the defendants, after a consultation with their clients, decided not to go to the expense of a trial of the cases.

COMMERCIAL CLUB DENOUNCES FAKE ADS.

Tuesday evening of last week a meeting of the Madras Commercial Club was held for the purpose of helping the movement along to do away with the fake advertising concerning Crook county which has been sent out all over the United States.

A set of resolutions were indorsed similar in tone to those adopted by other commercial bodies of the county. The purpose is to make a protest through the press which will warn innocent people who are being swindled out of their savings by buying property that has no actual commercial value.

Preaching by the Free Methodist minister, A. S. Wright, on the first and third Sundays of each month. Sunday school every Sunday.
