D. Bolter and Miss Shultz of Madras were in town Monday evening at the St. Valentine's dance.

Morrow, one of the large land sheepmen of upper Willow River, was a visitor in town last Saturday.

Mrs. Claude C. Covey are overjoyed over the arrival of a charming baby—although a day late—which they call their home at Warm Springs, February 15, 1910. It is the first little one to take up its abode at the Covey home, and Mr. and Mrs. Covey are greatly pleased over the event.

Scheuret returned last Friday from his former home at Grass Valley, and brought back with him his standard bulldog, "Kid Caution," which he is training on the Canby, Oregon track during the winter. Local sportsmen who are interested in breeding bulldogs will be pleased to learn that this valuable animal is to be kept at the Canby track this season.

The whole gray homestead is to be divided into town lots, including the West side of the road purchased last Fall by W. H. Spokane, while the remaining portion will be sold under contract by the Lancaster. The 60 acre tract is being platted by R. L. Kunev, an engineer formerly in the employ of the Oregon Trunk Line.

Murray of Spokane has been buying over Madras and other portions of the Northwest Crook County for several days past, in the interest of Spokane real estate capitalists and real estate men who are thinking of investing quite heavily in Madras property and also at other points to be touched by the two proposed roads building toward this section.

May has investigated this portion of the Deschutes Valley quite thoroughly, and many photographs and securing specimens of value to investors.

Livingston has purchased the new place about one mile East of the Pine Trading Co.'s store on the River, the property formerly owned by Frank Forrest. Mr. Livingston has 240 acres of good bottom land of which can be irrigated from the River ditch, and a greater portion of the land already being planted.

It is reported that the consideration for the purchase of the Livingston family will move onto their new ranch in the near future.

Monday evening shortly after school dismissed, fire was discovered in the office of the Methodist Hall school building about one mile North of the church. Everything possible was done to check the flames, but they ran too much headway before being discovered, and the efforts of the pupils were directed toward saving the contents and a greater portion of the building.

The cause of the fire is not yet known, but is supposed to have started from a defective fuse. The estimated loss is about $800.

William Frank Osborn died at his home in Virgil, Kansas, Sunday, January 23, aged 82 years, 9 months and 12 days. He was born in 1828. Osborn of Dodge City, Mo., and George H. Osborn of Calver, Oregon.

J. C. Sothman, who lives on Northeast slope of Round Butte, West of Madras, arrived in town last Saturday with a well-drilling outfit which he expects to use in his locality. The machine will drill to 500 feet. On the North slope of Round Butte there is a spring not 120 feet below the surface of the surrounding country, which makes it probable that water can be secured in that section at between 100 and 200 feet. Mr. Sothman commenced Tuesday drilling a well at the slaughter yard of Campbell, Stroud & Co.
