All Startled Up Again.
 Mr. Makinbrakes had just been introduced to the fair debutants.
 "I need not tell you, Miss Gizzard," he said, "that I am very happy to—and yet, I suppose, of course, it's the proper thing to tell you—and I am sure you know I didn't mean it—though I did mean that I was happy to—to make your acquaintance in this informal—though, to be sure, it's formal, and quite properly so, for there is nothing so enjoyable as to witness the opening—I should say the unfolding—of the premature, or, rather, of the immature—which is the word I intended to use, of course—in this delightful and conventional function, to—to stand with reluctant feet, you know, where the—I beg your pardon, Miss Gizzard, but one of your hairpins is coming out."

Tarring and Feathering.
 The first recorded instance of tarring and feathering a human being was in 1189, during the time of the crusades. In that year, the first of the reign of Richard I., a law was passed that "any robber voyaging with the crusaders shall be first shaved, then hot pitch shall be poured upon him and a cushion of feathers shook over him." After this the criminal was to be put ashore at the first landing place the ship reached.

"Raising the Hand."
 The raising of the hand which replaces the kissing of the Book in the oath which witnesses in England will henceforth take was in origin a pointing toward heaven. The oath taker extended his hand toward the Being whom he invoked—a pagan, for instance, touching the foot or knee of his god's statue. "I have lifted up mine hand unto the Lord," says Abraham. Our Germanic ancestors raised their spears toward high heaven. A quaint case is that of the Shrewsbury parliament of 1398, when the lords took a solemn oath by the cross of Canterbury, while the commons—no doubt to mark the distinction between the two orders—swore simply by lifting their hands.—London Chronicle.

Rightful Resentment.
 Member of Legislature—What particular thing are you around here lobbying for, anyhow?
 Long Haired, Wild Eyed Person—I am not lobbying, sir! This is a propaganda!

If It's Your Eye Use Pettit's Eye Salve

A Deeply Felt Want.
 Steward (the first day out)—Did you ring, sir?
 Traveler—Yes, steward. I—I rang.
 Steward—Anything I can bring you, sir?
 Traveler—Yes, at-teward. B-ring me a continent, if you have one, or an island—anything, steward, so I-lull-lull-lull as it's sold. If you can't, su-sink the ship.

Uncle Allen.
 "A preacher who draws a big salary," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "sometimes gets a tempting offer to go somewhere and give a lecture, and he asks a college young man who is studying for the ministry to fill his pulpit for one Sunday. The college young man does it, and all he gets is thanks. Such things happen sometimes, and I suppose it's all right. I'm not blaming the preacher, understand. I'm only kicking because the young chap lets that sort of game be played on him, by jinks!"

PHES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

Giving Himself Away.
 "You're always complaining about your 'ruinous taxes.' I wish I had your taxes to pay."
 "What for?"
 "Because then I'd have your property to pay 'em on."
 (Snarling.) "That's you, exactly! You'd like to have plenty of money to live on, without having to earn it yourself, as I have—that is—"

Harem Cheaper than Wife.
 A few months ago King Edward announced that the distinctive feature of an American woman was her back. He could tell at a glance from the rear whether a woman hailed from this country by the way in which she was gowned.
 This is all right so far as it goes, but it is a very slight instance. There are a good many other distinctions which go to make up the American woman, notably her general outlook on life, which is that man was made for her amusement and her support. Our men do not dispute the fact. They are never permitted to talk back, so they simply grub a little harder to pay the ever-increasing pile of bills which come in.
 It is estimated that a man in Persia or Turkey can maintain a first-class harem on half the sum that a single American wife costs a man of equal standing with the oriental. We give this for what it is worth, not that it bears upon the matter in hand. Americans are immune from polygamy, even if there were no other factor than the cost.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.
One Glaring Exception.
 "Is there anything the people of this country cannot do," vociferated the orator, "if they unitedly say it shall be done?"
 "Yes," spoke up the fussy old person in the audience; "there's one thing they can't do."
 "What is it, sir?"
 "They can't get the battleship Maine raised."—Chicago Tribune.

One on the Doctor.
 The Rev. Dr. Fourthly—Brother Hardesty, in view of your present spiritual coldness, how do you think you would feel if you were called upon to die?
 Brother Hardesty—I think I'd feel a good deal of curiosity, doctor, to know whether all the things you've told me about the other world were quite correct or not.

Elaborate Revenge.
 "Paw, wasn't that a horrible dinner?"
 "It was, Tommy."
 "But you handed the waiter a dime when we went away. What did you do that for?"
 "I wanted to convey the idea to him, Tommy, as delicately as possible, that if he'd brought us a good feed it would have been a half dollar."
