Had by Villagers,

Salem-The Oregon Library Commis sion has several new traveling libraries national conservation congress in St. ready to send out into the state. The Paul as against the Northwestern idea traveling libraries are intended for farming communities and small villages able to support a library. There is ab- and the fullest protection of the water not enjoying library privileges and unsolutely no charge for the libraries except the transportaion charges both ways. The books are packed in a strong wooden box and sent by freight; the weight averages 100 pounds. The library may be kept six months, and then returned to the commission and exof books. The books must be loaned free of charge to all responsible persons in the community.

The libraries are usually kept in the most convenient public place, a school-house, postoffice, grange hall, store, or in a home. They are made up of the very best books for grown people and for children. Each library contains 50 popular and interesting books of fiction, history, travel, biography, science, sociology, and literature, books which old and young will enjoy.

If you are interested in a traveling ibrary for your community, write to for equality of opportunity for the right the Library Commission, Salem, for further information.
