

COMMUNITY PUBLISHTY

headquarters at Cleveland, former general manager of the O. R. & N.

"The community booklets which the people of Oregon issue seem to be exactly the right thing to obtain the desired results, and the right class of people for settlement along your line," he writes. He added that that line of publicity, with newspaper advertising, is bringing Oregon into favorable prominence throughout the East.

Ben Campbell, in charge of the traffic of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road, and former traffic manager of the O. R. & N., after making like comment, gives the information that the officials of that line are contemplating a similar campaign of publicity through the New England States.

The passenger department of the Grand Trunk Railway, with headquarters in Montreal, also wishes to keep supplied with exploitation literature. An official of the line writes that he has daily requests for Oregon literature and information. People there, he says, are desirous of securing land in Oregon and of settling in the larger cities and towns.

In addition to these the Pennsylvania system through J. W. Lee, Jr., has asked the oft-repeated question, "How is it done?" and implies that his line wants to do likewise.

Local railroad officials are assisting the Eastern roads in every way possible to spread Oregon advertising through that portion of the country. They are glad that the results of their persistent campaign have been noticeable there.

Another line of community publicity that has made Oregon known throughout the East is the practice of sending display cars of state products over the Eastern roads. These Western lines now operate cars of that kind. It is probable, however, that that feature of advertising will be discontinued after a few more years, as the movement of display cars is said to entail considerable difficulty.

The permanent display rooms established by the Great Northern and other Western roads in many of the large Eastern cities are likely to replace the traveling exhibit. By constantly renewing these displays with fresh fruit and vegetables, the development of the state is pictured to the Eastern admirers vividly.

This practice, too, has brought forth many inquiries from officers of civic bodies in other parts of the country who contemplate adopting similar methods.

DEMOCRATS WILL CONTROL HOUSE

Chicago—That the next House of Representatives will be controlled by the democrats is conceded. The democrats gained from the republicans seats in congress in eight states.

In New York seven republican seats were secured by the democrats; in Maryland, Massachusetts, North Carolina, each, the republicans lost two seats. Losses are definitely known to have been sustained in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri and Ohio. The known democratic gain of 18 seats, is offset by two republican gains from the democrats, one each in New York and Pennsylvania. Reports received from other states indicate that the democrats will have ample margin to secure them the 22 seats necessary to give them control of the House, two democratic gains previously having been reported in Maine. Twenty-four were acquired before the Maine election.

Joe Cannon is Elected.

Danville, Ill.—Joseph G. Cannon will go back to the House from the Eighteenth district of Illinois. Returns indicate that his plurality is much smaller than that of two years ago.

DEMOCRATS MAKE GREAT GAINS IN EAST

Dix Defeats Stimson in New York—Ohio and Indiana Democratic.

New York—Elections throughout the country Tuesday resulted in a political convulsion of far-reaching extent, similar at many points to the famous wave of 1892, and apparently more widespread in its effect.

In New York, John A. Dix, democratic candidate for governor, is elected over Henry L. Stimson, republican, by about 55,000, reversing the republican plurality of 70,000 in 1903 for Governor Hughes.

New Jersey is Democratic.

In New Jersey, Woodrow Wilson, democratic candidate for governor, is elected over Vivian M. Lewis, republican, by about 15,000, reversing the previous republican plurality of 8,000 for governor.

In Massachusetts Eugene N. Foss, democrat, has defeated Governor Eben S. Draper, republican, for reelection, by about 30,000, reversing Governor Draper's former plurality of 8,000.

In Connecticut Judge Baldwin, democrat, is elected over Charles A. Goodwin, republican, by about 4,000, reversing the previous republican plurality of 16,000.

In Ohio, Governor Judson Harmon, democrat, candidate for reelection, appears to have carried the state by about 15,000, over Warren G. Harding, republican.

Vote in Rhode Island Close.

In New Hampshire, Robert P. Bass, republican candidate for governor, is leading C. E. Carr, democrat, by about 6,000.

In Pennsylvania, the election of John R. Tener, republican, for governor, is conceded by a large majority.

JOHN A. DIX,

Successful Democratic Candidate for Governorship of New York.

In Rhode Island, Governor Pothler, republican, is elected by a plurality of 1200.

In Tennessee, the fusion candidate, Ben. W. Hooper, is elected by 15,000.

In Iowa the democrats claim the election of Claude R. Porter for governor, but this is not yet conceded.

Wisconsin to Return LaFollette. In Wisconsin, the election of the republican candidate for governor, Francis E. McGovern, is claimed by a reduced majority, and the return of Senator LaFollette to the United States senate is assured.

In Michigan Charles S. Osborn, republican candidate for governor, is assured.

Theodore Roosevelt's home district in Oyster Bay, Long Island, gave Dix a plurality of 204, as against a plurality of 793 for Hughes in 1903.

In Utica Charles A. Talcott, democrat, defeated Charles S. Millington, Vice-President Sherman's nominee, for congress by 3768.

There were notable upsets in the congressional districts. Representative Herbert Parsons, a life-long friend and political associate of Theodore Roosevelt, was ousted by Jefferson M. Levy.

Representative W. W. Cocks, of Nassau county, Theodore Roosevelt's home seat, was tipped out by Martin Littleton. William S. Bennett was defeated for congress by Henry George, Jr., a son of the political economist.

Sereno Payne, father of the tariff bill, was re-elected, but his home town, Auburn, went for Dix, and Vice-President Sherman's candidate for congress was defeated by a democrat. Colonel Roosevelt's home town went for Dix and the democrats jubilantly shouted they had "beat him to a frazzle."
