Author Heiney of Prince Rupert, B. C., came in on the train Monday evening and will locate here, taking up his trade of contractor and builder.

A. C. Sanford made a trip to The Dalles last week and was accompanied home by his two daughters, Gladys and Iline.

Mrs. S. E. Gray was the lucky person at the Central Oregon store yesterday in winning the dishes. The clock stopped at 9-19-50, and she held the card with this number.

Orlando C. Dickerson, who has been spending the winter in Washington returned to this section the latter part of the week, bringing with him a new Ford Auto.

B. Ablowitz, who has been spending some time in Portland and other coast towns returned to Madras the latter part of the week. During his absence J. Loveall has been looking after the store.

R. T. Starr, Traveling Agent for the Great Northern Express Company, has been in Madras several days arranging the affairs of that company in the handling of express over the Oregon Trunk Line.

Max Lueddeman, former owner of the Pioneer, and Harry C. McAllister, well known through Central Oregon as a traveling salesman and later as fish warden, have entered into a partnership in the real estate and investment business. Their head office is in the Electric Building in Portland.

An advertising pamphlet of particular merit, both for information and its workmanship, issued recently by the Central Oregon Investment Company, has been received at the Pioneer office, and is entitled "A Few Pertinent Facts Relative to Madras." Its matter specially concerns the "Madras Country" and Mayfair Addition to Madras.

Charles T. McCall, who has been spending several weeks at Portland, returned to Madras last evening.

Ralph A. Brown of Kasas station on the Oregon Line, arrived in the city Tuesday evening for a visit to his mother, Mrs. M. E. Percival, and his family.

When E. Binder, a former resident of the Agency Plains, accompanied by his children, spent the past year in California, has returned to his ranch four miles north of Madras Thursday evening. Mr. Binder intends to make his home in this section from this time.

Berlin and son, merchants at Washington, have been in Madras the past week. These men are looking over the prospects of starting a general merchandise store at this point. The old hands at the business and the opportunities afforded have attracted their attention.

Central Northern and Northern are continually covering this territory soliciting freight shipments and they seem to be getting the business, too. No shipments too small for them and business is overlooked. It appears that the Shaniko territory for this county is now really a cipher, everything that can be brought to Madras that way over the Oregon Trunk.—Prineville Review.

The warm weather of the last few days has started the snow so that Willow Creek is running. The weather now every indication of spring. The pesky sage rats, are said to be the surest sign that winter is over, and it behooves the farmers and ranchers to start at once a crusade of extermination. A good dose of poison now applied will do more than if ten times the amount were used two months ago.
