Loss In Heating Value of Fuel. Recent tests of the loss of heating value of coal in storage indicates that it is so small that it is hardly worth consideration. Illinois coal put to the he replied: "No, sir, when God Altest at the University of Illinois lost less than 3 per cent, in the course of I take mine off, gir." a year, but the most serious matter is the loss by fire from spontaneous combustion and the breaking up of the coal into small particles so that the loss by dust is a matter of some moment.

Unavoidable.

A correspondent writes to correct a story printed in the Cleveland Plain Dealer several days ago. "In the snake story I sent you," he complains, "you made one mistake. I told you that the snake was 20 feet long and you had it only ten feet long." The editor says he is very sorry, but the error was unavoidable. "We were very much crowded for space when we used the story and we had to cut everything down."

The Brain's Eye. R. W. Doyne, in Medical Record, states that "eye" really exists in the brain. It is, in fact, a very compound thing, a subconscious brain judgment involving many other organs than the actual anatomical eyes. It involves knowledge, experience, very largely the sense of touch, and sometimes the sense of hearing or smell.

Whale Stranded on England's Shore. Losing its bearings in the shallow waters of the Wash, a specimen of the fin-whale became stranded on the beach at Holme-next-the-Sea, England. When first discovered it was wounded and was seen spouting and lashing the water into foam close in short. When the ebb tide set in it was stranded, and numerous people witnessed its dying gasps. It was some thirty feet in length and about sixteen feet in wirth

Idea From South Africa. A South African baker has perfect ed a baking process by which steak is grilled at a temperature of 1,000 degrees. Steam at 220 degrees is transformed through pipes and a superheater into the grilling air. The hot air will cook a whole ox, so it ought to do for barbecues .- New York Press.

Changes of the Hair. Hair darkens some 55 per cent. during the first five years of life, and a further 33 per cent, up to the age of forty-five. This darkening is more marked in males than in famales.
