NEW GAME WARDEN IS A SCIENTIST

William L. Finley is A Prominent Naturalist

WILL IMPORT NEW BLOOD

Announces Policy of Fostering The Propagation of Fish and Game Birds

Oregon has a new state game warden in the person of William L. Finley. This is the first instance in this country when a leading scientist has been appointed to a position of that kind.
No man knows the animal and bird life of the Pacific Coast as well as Mr. Finley, who for the past twelve years has devoted his entire time to the subject and has published books, and magazine and newspaper articles that are recognized as authorities on the subjects covered. Mr. Finley is a member of the leading ornithological societies of the United States, an officer of the National Association of Audubon Societies, and is intimately acquainted with the eminent naturalists of the world. He is a close friend of Ex-President Roosevelt, and it was through his recommendation that President Roosevelt set aside the game reserves of Klamath, Malheur and Three Arch Rocks.

"The policy of the State Game Warden, in the past," said Mr.
Finley, "has been characterized very largely by policing. The belief has been general that Oregon has enough game and that its protection is all that is necessary. As a matter of fact, game cannot be made abundant by making and enforcing laws. We have not enough game and in spite of protecting what we have, we observe that there is less and less every year. It is absolutely necessary to have the influence of the people, and the farmers in particular, back of the movement, but, above all, the infusion of new blood, meaning the propagation of game, as well as its protection.

"It will be one of the policies of the present warden to continue the work of protection with vigor and an efficient force of deputy wardens. Another and equally as important a feature will be the propagation of game.
The national government is doing valuable work in restocking the streams of the state with salmon while the propagation of trout is left largely to the state. The establishment of trout hatcheries will be one of our first efforts.
Along this line it is well to state that one change in the work will be to keep and feed trout until they are two and one-half inches long and able to protect themselves, instead of releasing them when they are an inch in length.
As far as the funds collected from anglers' licenses will permit, this work of hatching trout will be prosecuted.

"In the line of game, we intend to introduce 250 pairs of Chinese Pheasants direct from China, for the new blood. This will be done while the two years closed season is in force. In addition to protecting those we already have, we will propagate new birds. We are already in negotiation with parties to furnish 100 pairs of Reeves Pheasants to be released on reservations that will be established from time to time."
