

THE O. T. COMPANY

First and H Street, Madras, Oregon, Near Oregon Trunk Depot

Furniture, Wall Paper, Draperies,
Linoleums, Carpets, Rugs, Housefurnishings, Etc.

Although our prices on Furniture are the cheapest in Central Oregon, we announce a 5 per cent. reduction on everything in our store on purchases exceeding $5.00, for thirty days. If you are in the market for Furniture, you will lose money in not getting our prices before buying.

The O. T. Co., Furniture

G. F. OWEN, Manager

000-pound car of furniture for the O. T. Company, will be recognized by the many friends of Fred Zell, one of the natives—better known as "Sharkey." Mr. Zell is a native of Central Oregon, is one that is alive to progress. Mr. Zell swears by the Oregon Trunk Railway and President Taft, from whom he recently received a special commission for a mail contract. Fred is proud just at this time of a bright new set of harness recently made on special order by Fred Davis, the popular post master and harness manufacturer of Madras.

Don't forget the O. T. Company when in the market for Furniture. Store near the Oregon Trunk Depot, Madras, Oregon.

might have ready to turn in. However no subscriptions will be taken from any person, nor votes issued thereon, who is not in the Pioneer office by the closing hour on August 12. This must be remembered for no exceptions will be made.

As soon as the last votes are cast on the closing night, the ballot box and the keys to the same will be turned over to the judges, who will have charge of it until the votes are counted and the winner announced.

From now until the close of the contest, subscriptions may be turned in, and votes secured thereon from Howard W. Turner or C. A. Riddle at the Pioneer office, as well as from the contest manager in D. W. Barnett's office.

Now then for another special offer. Beginning Friday, July 23, and closing Thursday, August 3, we are going to make old and new subscriptions all of equal value, and they will remain of equal value until the end of the contest. This is done for the reason that the contestants have found that some of the old subscribers think it unfair that they should receive a fewer number of votes than new subscriber, and are unwilling to help for that reason.

Therefore, during the remaining two and a half weeks of the contest, new and old subscriptions will all receive votes according to the schedule which appears in this week's issue of the Pioneer.

And in addition to doubling the votes on the old subscriptions, and making them of equal value with the new, we are going to give 5000 votes extra for every yearly subscription, and more or less, in proportion for longer or shorter length subscriptions respectively. This is exactly the same offer that was made last week, with the additional feature of increasing the value of the old subs. This week, therefore is a mighty good chance to rustle and get all that is coming to you.

William Blair, postmaster at Youngs, was in Madras today, attending to business.

Henry Corum, a cousin of A. C. Sanford, was here this week. Mr. Corum is the inventor of a patented fire escape, which he is selling throughout the United States.
