Personal and Local

J. C. Rush, the Lamonta merchant, was in the city yesterday.

Sheriff T. N. Balfour was in this part of the county yesterday.

Mrs. Fred Davis left Tuesday for a visit with relatives at Albany.

W. H. Sayre left Tuesday in his auto for Upper Soda on the Santiam, where he will join

S. Cowles has returned to his home. It is understood that he expects to engage in business there.

Thomas Alderdyce and W. O. were among the ranchers in the Culver district who returned to town Saturday.

Gladyes Sanford has returned home from Prineville where she has been the guest of Nora Livingston at the home on Crooked river.

Belknap has returned to Salem where he went a time ago expecting to bring his wife and baby home with him. Mrs. Belknap, however, is ill with typhoid, and he returned without her.

Thomas McGrath of Bend disappeared over two weeks ago and no trace has been found. It is believed she has committed suicide by drowning herself in the Deschutes river. Mistreatment by her husband is believed to have been the motive for her destruction.

The tools which were stuck in the deep well being drilled for the Deschutes Railway near town were removed from the drill hole Tuesday, and drilling was resumed by the Central Oregon Well company yesterday afternoon. The well is down about 300 feet, but no water has been struck.

James Baker, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. J. W. Baker, is at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, where he was taken last Saturday for surgical attention. His condition is very serious, said to be due to a knot in the intestines. The case is so critical that the surgeons are deferring the operation.

John T. Dizney, postmaster at Vanora, was in the city Tuesday. There will be regular services at the Christian church next Sunday, August 6, morning and evening. Charles A. Sias, minister.

Charley Baker is now at Lewiston, Idaho, where he has several months' work with his team. He expects to get a ranch there before long and engage in farming.

Perry Wible was in from Medford yesterday.

Lee Lawler was in from Ashwood last week and says that he and his brothers have purchased the K. D. Huston ranch comprising 520 acres and expect to engage in the stock business, making cattle their main line. In the deal they got about 60 head of cattle and some hogs and seem to be very well contented to again be owners of Crook county land. They went to Modoc county, California, last fall and bought a big ranch, but found that conditions there for stock raising were not so favorable as in Central Oregon.

Bobwhite is the most popular bird. State Game Warden Proposes to Foster Their Propagation.

If, in the general economy of Nature, provision had been made for their work. After 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, August 9, only subscription ballots will be good, and any coupons found in the ballot box when the judges open it will be destroyed and not counted. Don't forget this, but be sure you get every available coupon in the box before noon on next Wednesday.

The contest will close at 10 o'clock p.m. Saturday, August 12. All candidates and their friends who are in the Pioneer office at 10 o'clock, closing night, will be waited on, and votes given on all subscriptions which they might have ready to turn in. However, no subscriptions will be taken from any person, nor votes issued thereon, who is not in the Pioneer office by the closing hour on August 12. This must be remembered for no exceptions will be made.

As soon as the last votes are cast on the closing night, the ballot box and the keys to the same will be turned over to the judges, who will have charge of it until the votes are counted and the winner announced.

From now until the close of the contest, subscriptions may be turned in and votes secured thereon from Howard W. Turner or C. A. Riddle at the Pioneer office, as well as from the contest manager in D. W. Barnett's office.

He Wasn't Acrobatic.
Miss True Dent—Papa says you are imprudent and that he will never consent to my marrying a man unable to make both ends meet. Orrville Harduppe—Well, I'm afraid I shall never be able to do so. I'm no contortionist. Good evening.

Anxious to Comply.
Professor (to student)—You should have written on the subject, sir, so that the most ignorant of your audience could understand all that you have to say on the subject. Student—What part of my production is not clear to you, sir?

Her Status.
"Oh, that my son should wish to marry an actress!" shrieked the proud patrician mother.
"Now, ma, don't take on so," beseeched the unfortunat heir. "She isn't really an actress; she only thinks she is."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Her Part.
"I understand that your wife collaborates with you?"
"Yes; her work aids me immensely." "I don't believe I have ever seen any of her writings."
"She doesn't write; she prepares my meals."—Houston Post.

The Main Difficulty.
Harold's mother questioned her son as to why he received so low a mark in music.
"I don't know, mother," he declared. "I get along pretty well with everything except the sharks and flaps."—Delineator.

Different Effects.
"The same thing will make entirely different impressions on different readers," remarked the man who writes.
"Quite so," replied the lawyer. "Letters which bring tears to a girl's eyes frequently make a jury laugh."—Washington Star.

Making It Easy.
Chimmie—I told the boss I'd quit this elevator boy job unless he made it easier. Jimmie—What do you want him to do? Chimmie—Just put on an arrangement so that the elevator will stay still and the floors will run up and down in front of it.—Puck.

He Was Doing It.
The Stage Manager—Mr. Heavysides! Mr. Heavysides—Sir? The Stage Manager—When the heroine says "Villain, do your worst!" please remember that that is one of her lines. You seem to have mistaken it for a stage direction.—Chicago News.

Effect of Advertising.
"My largest item of expense is on account of advertising."
"Indeed! I was not aware that you were in business."
"I'm not. But my wife reads the ads. in the newspapers."—Boston Transcript.

A Shiver Figure.
"Now, Arthur," said his father, "you've been going to school long enough to write decently. Don't you know how to make a figure 3?"
"Sure!" said the boy. "You put your pencil on the paper and then you shiver."—New York Press.

Balanced.
Two for five was the brand of cigar the man was smoking. "This cigar," he said, regarding it closely, "has one very good point and one very bad one. The good point is that it contains no cabbage. The bad one is that it contains no tobacco."
