$295 BUYS THIS HOUSE

EVERYTHING NEEDED is supplied at this bargain price—all the material required for the construction of this modern good-looking and comfortable cottage. We are independent dealers—not in any trust or association. At this remarkably low quotation we include all lumber, sash and doors, millwork, siding, ceiling, flooring, nails, stair-work, finishing lumber, window frames, door frames, building paper, eaves trough and pipe, hardware, sash weights, painting materials, roofing, plaster board, wall tint, etc.

The house, which is of solid, double-construction throughout, is 25½ ft. x 25½ ft. in dimensions, and is surprisingly roomy and well arranged.

Architects plans, specifications and full details about construction are supplied.
Our free folder, which tells you all about this house is waiting for you. Ask for Folder K.

METOLIUS MADE JUNCTION POINT

O. W. R. & N. Decides to Abandon Culver Grade and Will Connect With Oregon Trunk at Metolius

Assistant Engineer Geo. Mattis of the O. W. R. & N. road who for the past eight months has had charge of the construction of the viaduct across Willow Creek, stated Tuesday that it had been definitely decided to connect with the Oregon Trunk line at Metolius, making that place a junction for all trains over the O. W. R. & N. It has been announced unofficially that regular train service to Metolius would commence about the 25th of this month.

The report that Metolius would be a division point for the O. W. R. & N. is without any doubt a mistake. Mr. Mattis stated that so far as he knew, nothing had been said or done that would lend support to the story, and that more than likely Bend would have preference over our neighboring town as a division point for their line in Central Oregon.

Construction trains are now crossing the bridge at Crooked River and the track laying machine and crew are laying steel southward as fast as possible. It is the intention of Redmond people now to hold their "Railroad Day" celebration about the first of October and the demonstration at Bend will follow about a month later.

Frank McClintic of Round Butte has leased the J. D. Mayes ranch.

J. T. Hardy, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Oregon Trunk, was a business visitor here yesterday.

How to Make Tamarind Water.
The pulp of the tamarind, that eccentric looking pod which is to be found in New York markets, has a peculiar "tang" and is used in a chilled beverage called "tamarind water." Remove the seeds and pulp from the pods, stripping off every particle of hard, woody fiber that may cling to it. To a cupful of shelled tamarinds add a pint of boiling water. Stir the mixture thoroughly until it is thick. Add a cupful of sugar and squeeze as much of the mixture through a strainer as possible. Set it near ice to cool, then add crushed ice and enough ice water to thin it a little. It should be very cold when served. Tamarind water, it is said, was once as popular as lemonade. It is still used occasionally for patients suffering from slight fevers and is recommended for bilious troubles. It is also administered to children instead of castor oil, as it is so much more attractive in flavor. This fruit is in season the year around, but it is best in the months of May and June.

How to Renew Oilcloth.
When the oilcloth has been down for a few months and is losing the shiny surface it can be renewed easily and made to last twice as long if treated in the following way: Melt a little ordinary glue in a pint of water, letting it stand on the top of the oven till dissolved. Wash the oilcloth thoroughly and let it dry. Then at night, when the traffic of the day is over, go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in the glue water. Choose a fine day for it, and by morning the glue will be hard and will have put a fine gloss as good as new on your floor.

Now is the time to put up your winter fruit. See us for prices
