FARMING PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

Congress to Meet in Lethbridge in October to Study Agricultural Conditions

All farmers are invited to attend and participate in the World's Greatest Agricultural Convention, and the Seventh International Dry-Farming Congress at Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, October 21-26, inclusive, 1912.

This Congress of Farmers will consist of nine Sectional Conventions, as follows: the Conference on Soils, Tillage Methods and Machinery, the Conference on Crops and Crop Breeding, the Conference on Agricultural Forestry, the Conference on Livestock and Dairying, the Conference on Agricultural Education, the conference on Farm Management, the Conference on Scientific Research, the Conference on Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, and the International Congress of Farm Women.

This is the great world gathering of farmers, and the farmers themselves will predominate in the program. Every nation in the world is interested and has been invited to send delegates. Many of the most notable men and women of the United States and Canada will appear on the general program of the Congress each evening.

Every civilized country in the world is now studying the tillage and cropping methods taught by the International Dry Farming Congress. Its monthly bulletins and reports go to every corner of the earth.

Dry-Farming is a scientific term used by colleges and authors to differentiate between the new system of agriculture and the older methods utilized in the rainbelts and irrigation districts. A special system of tillage of the soil for the purpose of moisture and fertility conservation is known to be necessary for at least 63 per cent. of the agricultural acreage of the world, and the Dry-Farming Congress was brought into existence for the purpose of working out these problems and remedies for the troubles confronting farmers of the sub-humid districts, or in districts where there are frequent droughts or failing soils. Dry-Farming is free from mystery of any kind; any farmer on any soil and in any climate can increase his acreage production, crop quality and bank account.

Dry-farming methods can be utilized with profit upon every acre, and in every district of the world. The phrase does not mean the operation of farms where no moisture is obtainable, but does mean the utilization of such tillage methods as are, from time to time, demonstrated to be most efficient in the reduction of evaporation and the production of a practical storage reservoir, the utilization of minimum or untimely moisture, etc. The work of the Congress includes the study of farm machinery tillage, the development of drought-resistant plants and better methods on the farm.

No Use Waiting.
