Thomas Alderdyce, of Opa City, was in Madras Tuesday attending to business matters. Uncle Tommy says that he has the best crop of everything that he has ever had in Central Oregon. His fruit crop this year is a wonder, and it would put many of the doubting ones out of business, if they would come and take a look through his orchard.

Fine Fruit This Year

A sample of the fruit raised in this section this year was brought to this office by H. E. Jacobs, who lives two miles north of Madras. They were apples of the Gravenstein and Early Sweet varieties, and from the size, color and quality of the fruit, it is an assured fact that with proper culture all kinds of fruit may be profitably grown throughout this section.

There are several other orchards on the Agency Plains that are bearing for the first time this year, and some that have been bearing several years, that are loaded this season, many varieties of which it had been thought impossible to raise except in the Columbia River basin.
