NEEDS MORE MONEY

Far less money is asked of the legislature by the Oregon Agricultural College this year, in proportion to the growth of the institution, than was appropriated in 1911. The regents have cut all estimates down to the extreme minimum, and will call for $64,500 for increased maintenance, buildings, repairs, etc., than the legislature of two years ago granted.

When the college budget is presented, the state will be asked for $249,000 for buildings, equipment, repairs, improvements, books and periodicals, and for an increase of $50,000 a year for maintenance during the next two years. Of these amounts $107,000 is for additional buildings; $60,000 for equipment; $35,- 000 for repairs and improvements; $11,000 for remodeling Science Hall; $21,000 for extension of the heating plant; and $15,000 for books and periodicals.

But one large building is requested, that for the home economics work now divided between the crowded girls' dormitory and the agronomy building. For this $100,000 appropriation is asked.

When this is built and proper heat is given the stock judging pavilion and farm mechanics building, it will be necessary to put $21,000 into extension of the heating plant, installing an additional boiler and enlarging and lengthening the conduits. The rebuilding of the live stock building will take $5,000 and $2,000 is needed for a small storage structure for inflammable materials and show supplies.

Science Hall was built for agricultural instruction, but is now used for the chemistry and pharmacy work. The imperative need of more laboratory space and the present unfitness of the rooms available make remodeling which will cost $11,000 absolutely necessary at once. The college is in great need of a library building, and the best care of the health of the students would demand a gymnasium, in view of appropriations of more urgent necessity, the regents have decided not to ask for them this year. They wish to relieve the pressure on the state treasury, and are doing all they can, though the rapid growth of all departments warrants a much increased appropriation for the work of the next two years.

The report of the register shows enormous increase in both the regular and special courses, but the instructional force has not kept pace with this growth in attendance. Registration in agronomy, for instance, is 60 per cent greater than two years ago, but the instructional force but 38 per cent more; and in the division of horticulture the work has nearly doubled, with only 18 per cent increase in instructional force. These cases are typical of practically all departments, and indicate the necessity for increase in maintenance appropriations.
