

Farm Work-Room.

On every farm there should be a work-room, supplied with tools, according to the means and taste of the proprietor. Every boy or young man on a farm should be taught and encouraged in the use of tools. I have, in my own experience, considered the money well invested which put into the hands of my boys a tool which they love to work with. They should be encouraged to make tools and implements of their own, as well as to do such repairs about the premises as come within their means.

We want to keep our sons at home, to create within them a love for the old farm. We want to stop their longings to get away from the quiet and honest labor of the farm, and to convince them that "all is not gold which glitters," and that "home is home," though it be no more than the lowly farm home, before they learn this by sad and hard experience. To do this let their hands and hearts work together.

It has been a matter of surprise to me, as I have been looking over the buildings on different farms, that this very essential requisite—a work-room—was not more often found. Almost all farmers are mechanics enough to do nearly all the repairs needed on the premises. I have seen men, however—calling themselves farmers—who could not properly set the handle to an axe, a feat which, by the way, requires no little skill. It is astonishing—to one who knows—how much easier and better an axe can be used when the handle is properly made and set, than when it is clumsily done. And what is true of this important implement holds good with every other tool used about the farm.

With a work-room well supplied with tools—and they need not be numerous or expensive—many a stormy day could be profitably spent which otherwise would be little better than wasted. No man can afford to waste time.

Let your tools be good ones and always kept in the most perfect order. I will name a few which are essential. A set of bench planes; a hammer; three saws, a cutting off, a splitter, and a fine back one; two sets of chisels, hand and mortising, though one set can be made to answer most purposes; a set of augers; a bit-stock and its accompanying "tools"; a steel square and rule; a level; a vise; grindstone; mallet; gimlets, etc.; with a few small articles which will suggest themselves to any man or boy who loves to work. With these you have all that is wanted to save you the interest on several hundred dollars every year; and this saving be made at times when nothing else would be done to any such profit.

The Detroit Tribune mentions the final settlement of a case that was in court over three hundred years. About the year fifteen hundred and sixty, August Troutwein, living in the northern part of Germany, loaned a sum of money to Count Mansfield, who died without paying the debt. Nearly all the claims were contested by the heirs of Count Mansfield, and the whole estate, being indebted to a great extent, was put under sequestration, and has ever since been under the administration of the Prussian Government. Lately, however, the case has been settled, and the money loaned three hundred years ago, with accumulated interest, amounting to over $1,000,000, paid to the heirs of Troutwein. One of the heirs, in Detroit, received his share, which was an 840th part of the whole sum.

WASHINGTON, May 8th.—Secretary McCulloch has returned from Fortress Monroe, and states that from his interview with Jeff. Davis he is satisfied that the treatment of the ex-President of the defunct Confederacy has been unnecessarily severe and strict. The dinner of Davis, which was brought in during the interview, was served upon a pine table without any cloth, and, although of material and plenty in quantity, was not such as a great nation could afford to bestow upon a distinguished although an unfortunate criminal. Secretary McCulloch will use his influence to have a milder form of treatment used in future.

If your lips would keep from slips, five things observe with care—of whom you speak, to whom you speak, and how, and when, and where.

AT LEAST TWO-THIRDS OF THE DISEASES with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause, the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and a long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well-known Chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which he has combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potas, and succeeded in procuring a Medicine that, while it is entirely harmless in every particular, will in a short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities, of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect ROBUST HEALTH. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale at the UNITED STATES DRUG STORE, Corner of Bush and Powell sts., San Francisco, AND BY ALL DRUGGISTS. [No 16-3m]
