J. F. McCoy, PORTLAND.

A COMMENCEMENT.—Dr. J. W. Watts has made a commencement which we trust will be the signal for others moving until Lafayette shall not compare to disadvantage with any point in this behalf in the State. We speak of street shrubbery. The Doctor has lately planted in front of his premises fronting on Court street a distance of upwards of 150 feet, a row of nice, straight maples which will adorn his locality and add materially to the cash value of his property.

MISTYPES.—In printing the result of the late election of officers of the Masonic Lodge of this place for the ensuing Masonic year, we had H. H. Snow reported as "J. D." when it should have been "S. W.;" we also had "E. Martin, S. D.," when it should have read, "J. W."

During the year just closed, there were 63 rainy days, 74 showery, and 228 days on which no rain fell, in the Willamette Valley. Neither Ohio, Indiana, Illinois nor Iowa, will beat this showing for "dry weather" much.

WE found this week a paragraph or so belonging somewhere about the middle of our last week's leader, on a "standing gally," which, in consequence of having been "emptied" there, escaped being garbled by the Oregonian, however much the "symmetry" of the article may have suffered by reason of the circumstance.

THE Advocate warns the public against a lot of bills, and gives their names, who have swindled it out of sundry advertising bills. Served them right.

STOLEN TYPES.—For some months past an extensive commerce has been carried on between some young "bloods" of this place in types of various kinds which were purloined from the Courier office. We have now obtained a clue to the principals in this business, whose names we shall be under the disagreeable necessity of giving to the public, set up in type quite as large and attracting as some that were stolen from us, if reparation be not speedily made.

THAT TEMPERANCE LECTURE?—On Wednesday night last, "Capt." Adams held forth in this place pursuant to previous notice, when and where the good people were treated to what he called a temperance lecture. If to declaim a "piece," agonizingly embellished with Sophomoric flourishes and then subside into a most disgustingly commonplace narration of the speaker's experiences about "Astoria," where he "taught school," might be denominated a temperance lecture, then indeed did we hear one on this occasion.

The Advocate thinks the "Capt." is too learned for a successful temperance lecturer. He deals unsparingly in "I," "my" and "me," which leads us to suspect that the "Capt." is in sympathy with "my policy." The richest thing the "Capt." got off was that it "cost him last week, ten dollars more than his expenses."
