

THE COURIER.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1867.

SALUTATORY.

When a man assumes the Editorial control of a Newspaper the people demand at his hands that he tell them what will be the course of his paper. While we do not approve of the practice of pledge making, yet, we bow to the rules of the craft, and say to you, hereafter as heretofore, the COURIER will be Democratic in politics. Let time develop the remainder.

We shall discuss our own views of the issues of the day freely, and should we differ from some of our Democratic Journals, as to the precise line that separates the powers of the General Government from the rights of the States, we at least may all concur in the fundamental principles of Democracy, "the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

Though but a babe in the editorial chair, we ask of our Democratic Bros. to "spend their ammunition" upon the common enemy.

We may say with Bro. Brown, "when every reserved right of the States is denied by our opponents, it is worse than folly for us to divide our forces upon the exact measure of those rights." It should be our leading object to convince our opponents that we are right, not from feelings of pride, but for the high and noble purpose of gaining and maintaining strength sufficient to restore and preserve our once glorious Constitution and Government, now bleeding at every pore. If your passions are aroused Bro. take a private fight, rather than a public quarrel.

See card Weatherford Druggist in another column. Dr. W. is an old-time citizen of Yamhill Co. and will be gratefully remembered by many whom his skill as a Physician, has restored to health. The Dr. is now in the wholesale and retail drug business in Portland.

While we would recommend all to purchase from home establishments, yet if they do go to Portland they can do better than buy of Weatherford.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.—We have received the list of premiums of the Washington Co. Agricultural Society to be awarded at its first Fair to be held at Hillsborough on Sept. 24, 25, 26, and 27, 1867. We doubt not but that it will be largely attended. The premiums offered are liberal.

STATE FAIR.—A. C. Schwatka, Cor. Secretary favored us with a complimentary ticket admitting us to all the privileges of the Fair Grounds, for which we return many thanks to the gentlemanly Officers of the Society. The Fair will be held Oct. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

THE NEWS.

Official orders were issued to-day assigning Gen. Thomas to the command of the Fifth Military District; Gen. Sheridan to the command of the Department of the Missouri, and Gen. Hancock to the command of the Department of the Cumberland. Gordon Granger is his successor in the Freedman's Bureau.

The President has ordered that no orders can be properly issued in conflict with courts of the United States.

DEMOCRATIC REVIEW.

This old and valuable laborer in the cause of Democracy, closed its career forever on Saturday last. In its stead will be issued, the Capital City Chronicle, under the editorial management of J. H. Upton, Esq., late of this paper. It needs no assurance from us to satisfy the readers of the COURIER, that the Chronicle will be a valuable paper and such an one as the Democracy needs at the capital.

The Review says: "The importance of a respectable sized Democratic paper at this point must be apparent to all thinking men. This is the center point and the stronghold of our enemies. Here we must meet them, and every Democrat in the State ought to feel an interest in a paper at this place. It is now arranged so that there will be no doubt of the permanency of the new paper, and we hope that a sufficient support will be given us to make the paper the equal of any published in the State."

The Review is dead and yet the good it has done, will, like an ever living sprig, bud and blossom in our memories. We hope Bro. Noltner will be abundantly rewarded by his new enterprise for his trials and labors in the hour of our adversity, and we bespeak for him and Bro. Upton, the liberal patronage of a grateful Democracy. The Review says:

"Started, as it was, after the suppression of the Register, its career has been beset by every difficulty that its enemies could heap upon it. The name is no more, yet the good or evil it has been the instrument of doing will long be remembered, and if any of the patrons will take the trouble to examine the files five years ago, they will find the present unhappy condition faithfully recorded, and a warning of the great danger which was surely coming unless the people would heed. Its labors are now done, and we ask of the patrons to forget what may seem to be an error and remember only the good it has accomplished.
