J. W. JOHNSON,

If in the opinion of the people, the distri tribution or modification of the constitutional powers be. in any perficular, wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this. in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free Governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance. in permanent evil. and partial or transient benefit which the use can, at any time, yield.

SAT THEY OF THE WASHINGTON I hold that this Government was made on the WHITE basis by WHITE men, for the benefit of WHITE men and their postersty forever, and should be administered by WHITE men. and NONE OTHERS. I do not believe that the Almighty made the negro capable of self government. - Douglas.

I repeat. I am for the Union; I am for preserving all the States. I am for admitting into the council of the nation all their Representatives who are unmistakably and unquestionably loyal. A man who acknowledges allegiance to the Government, and who swears to support the Constitution. must necessarily be loyal. A man cannot take that oath in good faith unless he is loyal .- ANDREW JOHNSON.

Oregon Man : To Oregon.

Shopkeeper : For what road? Oregon Man : The Oregon Central.

Shopkeeper: Why I thought that Mr Brooks was to survey that road. Mr. B. was just in a few moments ago, there is a box o instruments for him (pointing to a corner, and he is going up on next steamer.

Oregon Man: Very glad to hear it, shall make his acquaintance.

Shopkeeper: He will be in again to morrow and you can meet him here. Accordingly the Oregon man went next day to meet Mr. Brooks, but failed to meet him. but was assured that Brooks would go up en next steamer. He repeated his visits to the meet Brooks and talk about Oregon Railroad by any mystaphisical, hocas pocus, presto, prospects, but never saw Brooks; was constantly questioned about the posture of offairs up here. The last day he called at the store was day before departure of steamer. when the shopman, broke out as follows:-Brooks has just left here-he is not going up to Oregon."

"Why not?" was the reply. "Well, he has received some dispatches from Oregon, and learns that the Bonds' are not all right—something is up, and Brooks says that now 'Oregon can go to h-l with her Railroads." In a subsequent conversation, the Oregon man learned that a dispatch had beer sent to Oregon, requesting Gev. Gibbs and W. S. add to certify to the existence of a morigage the Willamette valley, and these honorable gentlemen, not willing to father any such a fraud and swindle, hall refused to "certify," and thereby bangs the tale. The P. T. Co's Yambill Trade.

During the last week we took a little pascear" to Portland on the P. T. Co's line of boats and from the affable and gentlemanly Captain of the Union-J. T. Apperson, we learn that within the past two weeks 450 tons of freight have been shipped from this county, and 265 % tons within the week ending, Oct. 12th. Perhaps by far the larger portion of wheat being brought in from the farms is being stored at McMinnville and La Fayette while the country mills are all purchasing wheat, one we know of, having 28,000 bushels on hand. Many farmers are hauling by team to Portland, and from the rise in price, many are induced to believent will still increase, and are holding on, hoping to do better than they could by selling now. Taking these matters into consideration it would seem that Yambill county has produced a large wheat erop; and yet we doubt whether one farmer in one hundred anticipated a greater price than 50 cents

While Capt. Apperson is thoroughly acquainted with the channel, and handles boat equal, if not superjor to any man on the upper river, and though he uses a flat upon which to carry a portion of his freight, twice have we passed down on his boat during the extremely low water and have been detained each time. This is a serious detriment to boats freighting from Dayton. But until there is a considerable increase of water, boats cannot come to this place, or McMinns ville. With a five feet lock at the mouth of the Yambill, which Capt. Apperson estimates could be built for from $1,500 to $3,000, the Yambill would be an excellent navigable stream to La Fayette, at all seasons of the year, and to McMinnville, during seven or eight months. From several gentlemen who have thought of and examined into this matter, we learn that Capt Apperson's, is an over estimate. We are satisfied that the P. T. Co. would take charge of and help in its construction. Will our Representatives at Washingtoo, look to this matter?
