BASKET MEETING, -- The Basket Meeting for Dayton work, including the Fourth Quarterly Meeting for that circuit came off last Saturday and Sunday. It was a time of more than ordinary interest. Rev. Wm. Roberts, Presiding Elder, being called elsewhere, Rev. Geo. W. Izer of Portland came in his stead, as P. E. in all points. Seldom a man of his large deficiency in the salary of Mr not present missed a rare treat.

STOVES .- J. R. Lake was in town during the week, making arrangerangements with parties to supply them with Oregon made stoves. This great expense to get everything necessary to make it a success, and now good mechanics as could be secured in any State employed. Recently they found sand of superior quality, ing them you keep your money at home.

"Cresarism" and a Third Term. About a year ago the New York Herald evoked the ghost of Caesar ism, and declared that there was scheme on foot to run President Grant for a third term. Most soberminded people were at the time disposed to look upon this as a mere sensationalism, designed to enliven the dull-monotony of the heated term, when live to topics were scarce and the perspiring public yearned for something to accelerate its sluggishpulse. The Herald's ghost accomplished all that it was supposed to have been-raised for. It furnished a fresh subject for breakfast-table talk and provoked general ridicule, being nowhere (except in the Herald) treated seriously. The idea of the American President attempting to play the role of Caesar might well be regarded as too preposterous for grave discussion, if it were assumed that he expected to accomplish this, and overthrow a republic of forty of the meeting. There were several millions of freemen, by means of the hundred persons present and the military power at his command. preaching of Mr. Izer was superior Caesar, backed by the regions whom age-being only twenty-six - has the be had so often led to victory, and learning and preaching ability of who recognized no authority but his, Mr. Izer. The three subjects he could easily subjugate Rome; but if spoke from were "The Barren Fig General Grant should dream of mak-Tree," the "Cross of Christ," "The Worth of the Human Soul," all masterly efforts in every respect. The States, he would prove himself an good order that prevailed was com- idiot or madman. The legion could mendable. AN ARMY OF TURKEYS CLEARING

Two days ago the owners of the fields procured one thousand hungry turkeys and turned them loose on the ravagers. The turkeys went at the pest voraciously, but made but little headway, though they devoured the worms in millions. To-day 1:400 more of the hungriest turkeys to be found for miles around were turned into the fields. The scene that ensued when the entire 2,400 turkeys got fairly to work was thrilling in the extreme. The turkeys charged Many on the black, crawling, seething mass of loathsome things, and devoured in great bunches, gulping them down in their eagerness like starving vultures. SACRAMENTO, July 14.—The best growers around Brighton, five miles from this city, have been greatly excited for a week past over the appearance of the army worm in their beet fields. The worm is a new-comer, and has appeared in vast quantities over an area of at least three miles. The worms average about two or three inches in length, are as thick as an ordinary lead pencil, and of a dark-brown color, with longitudinal stripes of black and white on either side of the brown back, The head resembles that of a 'silk worm, and is armed with keen, nipper-like teeth.
