Chicago is now called "Cremation City." The most difficult ascent—Getting up a subscription. Susan B. Anthony, aged 55. The Graphic made the discovery. Receipt for a hot breakfast—Admire your landlady's new bonnet. Injun probabilities: "Mebbe snow next week; mebbe heap damn hot." A Memphis paper defines advertising to be a "blister which draws trade." "How Goliath was killed with a sling," is the title of a Maine crusader's lecture. Jones says that why he isn't married is because that when he wooed she wouldn't. In Delaware the price for calling the Court "a bloated old rhinoceros" is just $5. "In the Wrong Nest" is the title of a new novel by an English author. Wonder if Beecher is the hero. To secure a scowl of perfect disgust from a woman, tell her that a caterpillar is crawling on the back of her dress. A Buffalo editor never takes time by the back hair. He simply casts the eye of his mind across the chasm of centuries. It is considered a pretty well-settled fact that death has no terrors for the man who marries a woman after thirty years courtship of her. "Is them the common dog sausage?" inquired a venerable looking lady, as she surveyed a bunch of bananas over her spectacles the other day. A Pennsylvanian bet $6,000 that he could eat fifty quarts of peanuts in twenty-five hours. He got away with forty, and then death got away with him. Judging from the number of drowning accidents this year, says the New York Commercial, there are fewer people born to be hanged than we had supposed. Detroit Free Press: One of the most vexatious things in the world is to have your wife's uncle kicked in the stomach by a horse, will you $20,000, and then deliberately get well. Young gentlemen who have wedding presents to make this month, will be interested in knowing that alligators can be bought at Perry, Georgia, just now, for a dollar apiece. Mr. Greeley did not invent the phrase "Go West," as is generally supposed. The original of the remark was when Rutin said (many years B. C.), "Where thou go West I will go." A darkey, left in charge of a telegraph office while the operator went to dinner, heard some one "call" over the wires, and began shouting at the instrument: "De operator isn't yer!" The noise ceased. We often hear of people who are to poor to marry, but a California couple, who had been engaged for some time, married because they could not afford to keep two separate rooms in a boarding house. "Deserted by all but his aged bob-tailed dog, his life went slowly out as the shadows of the setting sun crept over the front stoop of Darling's grocery," is the way they express themselves in Georgia. "Thistles are growing thriftily in the streets of Victoria, and the papers are clamoring for the enforcement of the ordinance against noxious weeds. The difference in natures was well illustrated at the Boston depot. Two sisters met. "O, my dear sister!" said one excitedly, as they embraced. "You've been eating unions," said the other, fearlessly and calmly. A Davenport newspaper speaks of a doctor in that city "looking with a deep-meaning smile upon a large lot of green cucumbers in the market." On his way home he was observed to whisper confidentially to several undertakers. As to that paragraph about Esther Shaw of Davenport, Iowa, who worked thirteen years in a family without asking a cent, it becomes necessary to say that it was a very large family Esther worked in, and they boarded at the State Prison. A benevolent physician in LaPorte county, Indiana, gave a 4th of July picnic to seven hundred children, not even such delicacies as cake, strawberries and ice cream, being omitted. He got back his outlay in colics, however, before the week was over. A raw countryman, gazing at a garden in the vicinity of Boston, in which were several marble statues, exclaimed: "Just see what a waste! Here's no less than six scare-crows in this ten-foot patch, and any one of them would keep the crows from a five-acre lot!" Remember that appearances are often deceiving. Many a pale, thin young lady will eat more corned beef than a carpenter. Because you find her "playing the piano in the parlor it is no sign that her mother is not at the corner grocery running in debt for a peck of potatoes. Guardian's Sale.
