FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4th, 1874. YAMHILL COUNTY.

There is no county in the State that offers better inducements" to the travel-wormimmigrant than Yambill As a general rule, the first question asked by immigrants when they arrive on this coast is: "Where shall we locate; where can we get land at a reasonable figure;" or, should they not possess ands sufficient to purchase a home, they want to know where they can rent farms. To such we would say that this county offers as many inducements as any other in the State Farms can be purchased for a reasonable figure in any part of the county. There is in almost every part of this county vacant lands, more perhaps, on the footbills near the Coast Range of mountains, subject to homestead entry, that with very little capital and labor can be made excellent farms It has been successfully demonstrated that the foot bill land will produce asfine wheat, oats, barley, vegetables, etc, as the prairies. There considerable school land yet vacant in this county. The facilities for market are as good, if not better, than any other county in the State. The Yambill river, running almost directly through the center of the county from West to East, is navigable about nine months in the year. This affords ample opportunity to the farmers and produce raisers to ship 1874 have carried, by clear majoriproduce tognarket. The Oregon and ties, 264 votes for President and Vice. The minutes of the Woman Suffrage Convention furnished us for publication are rather severe on Hou. E. C. Bradshaw. The minutes read: Mrs. Duniway then took the floor and made a speech in which she told some rather uncomforable truths concerning what a certain Representative said in the Legislature. That Representative being present, became somewhat excited and replied in no very gentle terms." Yes, "That Representative" was present, and being loudly called for, took the floor and proceeded to refute the charges made against him by Mrs. Duniway. He acknowedged and repeated what he had said, but emphatically denied saying some things attributed to him. If we are any judges it was the members of the Convention that "became somewhat excited," as cries of order; it's no such thing; etc., were heard,

Among the great more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually zens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy, it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives and an amount of confessions. forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.
