

FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1875.

JAMES JAMISON SHASGREEN.—The Bulletin gives an account of the death and resurrection of the person whose name heads this article at Fairfield the 17th of last month.

THE PALMER CREEK BRIDGE.—It will be remembered by many of our readers that some time since the old bridge across this stream fell.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Yesterday, as Mr. Dunn and wife were walking up one of the principle streets, a horse which had broken loose, but still had a piece of studding fastened to the rope, came running towards them.

THE MOOR PLOW.—Some weeks since mention was made of Mr. H. Moor applied for a caveat on a gang plow.

CLAIM SOLD.—Judge Reed has sold his Galice Creek placer diggings, ditch, etc., to an English company.

MAILS.—It causes us to smile to know that after the first inst., the mail from Portland is to be carried on the cars instead, as heretofore per cayuse-back.

SENTENCED.—Monday last Judge Bonham passed sentence on Cooke and Wyant for house breaking.

LAMP EXPLODED.—One night this week as Mr. Harris was turning out the lights in his saloon, one of them, a kerosene lamp, exploded.

ILL.—We regret to hear of the severe illness of Mrs. L. V. Starr.

The Bulletin denounces the man, P. Hiatt, who represents himself as an agent for the Kansas sufferers as a fraud.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

We are informed of an accident which is very apt to prove fatal, owing to the age of the injured person—Mr. J. Laughlin, of North Fork.

William Laughlin being the only other person in the room at the time he was asked for an explanation.

NOTES.

This county needs a jail. A social hop at the Hall to-night.

We wish Noah would bring his ark around this way.

61 scholars in attendance at the Lafayette Academy.

Since March 31st John Baker has been the happiest man in town—it is a boy.

The nearest that March came to going out like a lamb was that it got ram-bunctious.

"Only one crossing over," sighed a fair Cammel as her "feller" toted her over a mud hole.

Sheriff Dale accompanied by Jessie Dixon escorted the two prisoners to the Hotel de Watkinds, yesterday.

Query: Are notes payable in Dundee, Scotland, taxable in Oregon? Let some competent person answer.

Drift wood lodged at the Lafayette and Dayton bridges delayed the steamer Dayton several hours Monday last.

Quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church, South, commenced last Saturday under the auspices of Rev. Michels, at this place.

Some three card monte sharps put in an appearance on the O. & C. R. recently. The conductor promptly ejected them at the first station.

Some fears were entertained as to whether the bridge would stand, should a heavy drift strike it or not. It looks as though a six year old boy might shake it down.

We should dearly like to see the chap who predicted this was going to be a mild winter, sitting on the fence in a linen duster, and listening to the mocking bird.

Now is the winter, &c., caused by the road supervisor warning us out to work on the road! He says for us to bring along a grubbing hoe! Wouldn't we look smart behind an instrument of this kind.

Jake Haines caught a coon marked with a swallow-fork in right ear, two slits in left ear and bob-tailed. Jake has the skin nicely tanned. In the language of Upton, "Here Durbin, is a chance for another coon-skin."

The Assessor has been improving the past two weeks assessing parties in attendance on Circuit Court. The assessment will be much larger this year than last. That $1,000 arrangement plays thunder with many.

An old Oregonian, S. C. Adams, now in Ohio, writes that the Oregonians have more sense than the Ohioans. This coming from the "source" that it does, is certainly a compliment to the citizens of this State.

Our friend from the country tells a story to this effect: "During the recent cold snap one of my porkers was rooting around in the ground and had a hole rooted two or three inches deep, when I noticed it did not move from the spot, I went up to see what was the matter. I found that its breath had caused its nose to freeze solid to the ground." Go up head.

A petition is in circulation for the pardon of Henry Norden, who was convicted of larceny and sentenced to four years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Mr. T. S. Glandon has shown us a model of a gang plow which his son has made. The principle is about the same as the Moor plow so far as we can see.

Charles Thurber has been attending Court during the present term. The Grand Jury found a bill against him for selling liquor to a minor.

Mr. William Lemmon paid us a visit the other day. Billy runs a big saddle and harness shop in Sheridan.

Two weeks' term of Circuit Court is a luxury this county ain't used to. It causes the tax-payers to scratch their heads and swear.

Mail closes at 6:30 o'clock instead of eight as heretofore. Govern selves accordingly.

Mr. R. J. Lancesfield, of Amity, gave us a call to-day. He reports all quiet at that point.

To make a dog lively saturate his hide thoroughly with camphor.

BORN.—March 16th, to the wife of Dil Roberts, a son.

FUN AHEAD.—Next Monday evening Col. Jo Meek, the old mountaineer, will deliver one of his interesting and unique lectures at the Court House, in this place.

CIRCUIT COURT.

BONHAM, J.

The cases given below have been acted upon since our last issue:

State vs. C. Starr; larceny; continued.

W. G. Scoggins vs H C Dale and W. J. McConnell; action at law to recover personal property; jury trial; verdict for defendants.

A and H Tyler vs Jas T Auger; action for damages. Trial in progress.

[FROM THE PORTLAND DAILIES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Dispatches from various points throughout the central part of the State from Visalia to Marysville, report general rain to-day. The crop reports are of the most favorable character.

U. S. Treasurer Spinner has resigned, to take effect July 1st. It is understood he pressed upon the President the necessity of his retirement.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Special Treasury Agent Jos D. Evans will leave here to-night for the purpose of making certain investigations as to the management of the revenue service on the Pacific coast.

The President and Mrs. Grant with Fred Grant Mr. Satoris and their wives, leave to-morrow morning for New York. The President will remain till Saturday.

A lazy school boy who spelled Andrew Jackson "Aru Jaxou" has been equalled by a student who marked the first of a half dozen shirts "John Johnson" and the rest "do."

In Dixon, Cal., they report the grain as having already reached the height of twenty-two inches.

For the very best Photographs, go to Bradley & Rulofson's Gallery with an ELEVATOR, 429 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Calvin and George Witherel, of Yreka says the Journal, returned last Friday from a trip to Galice Creek. They say there are huge ledges of granite quartz in that section, which, if containing gold or other minerals in paying quantity, are extensive enough to furnish employment for a very large population.

Believing in the motto: "Live and let live," we respectfully ask a share of the public patronage.
