THE SPELL.—Last Friday evening as per announcement the second orographical match took place at the Lafayette Academy. Miss Mary Harris and Charles Watts chose sides and after spelling awhile to get used to the thing, they commenced to spell down. The first word spelled Chas. Watts. Acclimate floored another, while another had to retire because of too many 'a's in amonable. Amour sent four to the wall, and soon after five others followed suit on the word aperture. Two angels failed to catch an "archangel," the next one tried to spell arsenic with a "y" but it was no go. Two more broke ranks on asylum, one getting it "acilim," which was stood off by the next trying to make "asier" spell azure. Five weakened on unbrageous; while vaccine and variegated took the stiffening out of five more. Vendue only left two contestants, Ada Poppleton, plucky little Miss, and Mr. Pike. A little 'o' in vicar left the champion Pike alone. After listening to some interesting music Wm. Nelson and Miss A. B. Chrisman chose sides. Dr. Watts propounding Miss Chrisman made a very pretty tableau in trying to make it tableau. Charles Watts evidently is not used to "tapistry;" Lou Chrisman gave up the ghost on "tartaric." "Fassel" let John Standley down and out, while tatteredmailu let them fall like grain before the sickle and "tenable" let two professors take back seats. "Tiere" and "tonure" let all of them down but—well, modestly forbids us to say who walked off with the honors. Next Friday evening fifteen of the scholars will spell against a like number of outsiders; three premiums being offered by Professor Morey.

DECIDED.—In the suit of Polly Smith, et al., versus R. H. Lamson, the decision of the court in the above important suit was received by the County Clerk, from his Honor B. F. Bonham, from Salem last evening. The case having been taken under advisement. The decision of the Court is: "That plaintiffs are not entitled to the relief prayed for in their complaint; therefore, the cross-bill is dismissed without prejudice to the rights of Polly Smith, and that defendant R. H. Lamson, have judgment for his costs and disbursements. The decision gives to Mr. Lamson the possession of the land in dispute, as the only defense that could be made was contained in the cross-bill in equity.

LOOK AFTER IT.—The old graveyard on the Henry farm should be attended to in some way. A few days since we had occasion to pass through the premises and were surprised to note the condition a majority of the graves were in; some of them in time past has been enclosed with paling and covered with flowers, now, oak grubs have choked them out. The entire cemetery should be enclosed and cleared off so that the stock would not be permitted to run over the graves not enclosed. Mr. J. L. Ferguson has set a good example in this direction. Let others do likewise. Its a shame to let these graves remain in their present condition.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.—The newly elected officers of the North Yamhill Lodge of Good Templars will be publicly installed at their Hall tomorrow evening, to which all friends of the cause are invited. This lodge is in a thrifty condition, and the members take an interest in making it attractive. There is a paper connected with it, which is an interesting feature and helps make the meetings a pleasant place of resort for both old and young.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At the regular meeting of Lafayette Lodge, No. 34, I. O. G. T., last Tuesday evening, the following members were elected for the quarter commencing May 1st: W. C. T., Frank Martin; W. T. P., Mrs. C. E. Watts; Secretary, G. P. Dorriss; R. S., J. W. Watts; Treas., J. T. Hembree; C., Mrs. A. Higgins; M., John Derby; W. I. G., Sidney G. Dorriss; W. O. S., Miss F. Higgins.

NOT BADLY HURT.—Saratha Morgan, the blind girl that was thrown out of the back at Salem at the time the matron of the school for the blind received injuries that resulted in her death, has returned home with her mother and is getting along finely. She only received a few bruises.

FOOT HURT.—Little Peter Olds of St. Joseph, had the misfortune to get the toes on his right foot badly hurt by one of his little playmates pushing a truck over it while playing together. Peter says he "tant wear his little wed-top boots now."

NOTES.

See Sheriff's sales. Considerable sickness in town just now.

Judge Hurley has our thanks for favors. Can't we have some kind of a "nip-up" to-morrow?

About five miles of snow in the Coast Mountains.

The big spell of the season at the Academy to-night.

R. P. Bird and family have gone to the Dalles on a visit.

A little goat with boots on is the latest novelty in town.

No May festivities in this part of the County to-morrow.

Mrs. H. C. Dale, wife of our efficient sheriff, is very ill.

The Amityites will have a big time to-morrow. Just like them.

How do you spell—is the popular salutation on our streets.

Since the show, last Tuesday night, Starr sings "Mollie Darling."

Sheriff Dale picked up a red hot stove hook but dropped it suddenly.

What to do May Day is the latest subject of conversation on the street.

Firing anvils is the way the boys whooped things up the other night.

The many friends of Mrs. Starr will be pleased to hear that she is convalescing.

Mrs. Carey is, we understand, intending to have her residence enclosed with new paling.

We understand that the Grangers and Good Templars will unite and have a picnic to-morrow.

We are told that a young couple passed through town the other day on a wedding tour without having been married, or at least they had procured no license.

John Haney, the gentlemanly manipulator of boots and shoes heretofore will be found in his new shop, first door north of COURIER office.

C. F. Royal, that whole soul gentleman, is going to plant a melon patch for the benefit of the boys. He intends for them to help themselves when so inclined.

There are over five thousand immigrants on their way to this coast. It would be a good idea for this county to put forth an effort to add to its population some of these people who are seeking homes.

When we ask the farmers if they know any thing strange they generally reply that they don't have time to hear of any items, as they have to rush things up in order to get their crops in before the ground gets too hard. The base ball season has arrived. In a recent game at New Haven between the Atlantic and New Haven clubs resulted in 3 runs for the former and two for the latter. In a game at Washington the Postons made 8 runs and Washington's 2. Quite a number of our citizens visited Hillsboro on occasion of the Odd Fellows' celebration of the 56th anniversary of the Order. Those who attended pronounce the affair a decided success in every particular. We can not give a very extended notice of the exercises observed as we had no jump-som blossom and did not attend, and are glad that we did not go it alone since we have heard how Bob Todd was treated, just because he tried to keep the girls amused.

DIED.—At his residence on North Yamhill, April 23d, James Leughlin. It will be remembered that he was shot in the shoulder some time since, either accidentally or by his son. It is thought that he died from the effects of his wound, although he had been seriously ill for some time.

GRAIN.—During the past two weeks we have noticed the grain in several localities, and as far as we can see, it looks well. Farmers, or at least the most of them will get through seeding the present week.

HANDSOME.—Mr. Murry, is doing some very fine work—plastering—on Hon. A. R. Burbank's residence which is second to none in the county. Mr. Murry makes a specialty of plaster of Paris work.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the bride's father, North Yamhill, April 24th, by B. W. Dunn, J. P., Mr. C. V. Kuykendall, of Polk county, and Miss Jane E. Davis of Yamhill county.

ILL.—The many friends of Miss S. M. Bradshaw, will be pained to learn that she is confined to her bed by a severe attack of lung fever. We hope soon to chronicle her convalescence.

The Texas Border Outrages.

A Washington dispatch dated April 4th says: As in previous cases where injuries have been inflicted on American citizens by Mexicans, the Mexican government will soon have brought to its attention, by the Department of State, the enormity of the offences recently committed by invading Mexicans on the Texas border, with such demands for reparation as will satisfy our national honor. The Mexican view of depredations on the border is thus stated: A year ago Mr. Foster, United States Minister to Mexico, in an official communication to the Department of State enclosing a copy of the report of the Mexican Commission, concerning outrages on the Mexican and Texas borders says:

The conclusion of the commission is that although robberies of cattle are frequently committed on both sides of the Rio Grande, the proportions of this crime are now much less than in former years. The excitement upon this subject promoted for two or three years past by residents upon the American border, is attributable to a desire to involve the two Republics in war, for the purpose of annexation. Practical remedies, the commission proposes the amendment of the penal laws of Texas and of the frontier States of Mexico, so as to facilitate the conviction and punishment of criminals, and especially the extradition treaty of 1861, so as to make it applicable to all cases of cattle stealing and similar crimes on the frontier as also the deserters from the armies of both Republics. It calls attention to the fact that many of the criminals, live alternately and exercise political rights on both sides of the frontier. It therefore proposes, that persons who thus exercise the attributes of citizenship in either Republic be subjected to the effects of the extradition treaty on the demand of the authorities thereof. Bearing in mind that the capital question involved was that of the trustworthiness of the witnesses, the commission took great pains to satisfy itself as to their character, and rejected as unworthy of credit many accusations made against citizens of Texas. There, remained, however, several charges of complicity in robberies of cattle made against persons of some prominence in Texas by such a number of witnesses of all classes that the commission deemed them sufficiently proved. Among those persons figure authorities of the rank of Judge, sheriff, and aldermen, and most of them appeared before the Mexican Border Commission, presenting claims against Mexico for hundreds of thousands of dollars in each case. The commission, it is said, had in its hands the report of the United Border Commission, and took some pains to refute its general conclusions and especially to show the falsity or unlimited extravagance of the principal claims.

Attorney-General Williams has done what Boecher threatened to do, "step down and out." Boecher said if Tilton made certain charges against him he would resign the pastorship of Plymouth Church rather than have the matter investigated. About the time of the adjournment of the last Congress, ex-Congressman Beck of Kentucky, said authoritatively that the Democratic House would impeach Williams immediately on the assembling of Congress next December. Williams knowing this, takes time by the forelock, and resigns to prevent an investigation which he knew would result in his absolute disgrace. But, perhaps they will investigate nevertheless.

When Brigham Young was in jail, the other day, for contempt of court, there were five or six of his wives weeping at each window of that institution, and twelve at the door.

Julius Dickens holds more offices than any other man in Washington Territory, and yet he is not happy, but goes and advertises himself in his own paper as "Maddelar Upplymsingar." We'd hate to be called that.

The Mormons having succeeded in getting Judge McKean off the bench in Utah, find that Judge Boreman is also a man of integrity and honesty, and they are seeking to have him removed. It appears at this distance that Brigham Young and his followers are going too fast, and the administration ought to bring them up with a round turn.
