

WINS THE FIRST PRIZE

H. B. Stewart of Myrtle Point Attracts Much Attention With His Strawberries

HAS 40,000 PLANTS

And Is Producing Some Excellent Plants Off a Five Acre Tract.

(Times Special Service.)

Myrtle Point, May 3.—H. B. Stewart, one of the largest strawberry raisers on this part of the coast, is highly flattered, as well he might be, over the awarding, a few days ago, of the first prize of the entire United States on photographs of strawberries. Strawberry growers from all parts of the United States sent pictures and accounts of their product, and of the many thousand received, Mr. Stewart received first prize.

Since this time Mr. Stewart has received letters from all parts of the United States regarding his strawberries. At the present time he has 40,000 plants out but by this time next season he will have at least two and a half acres of bearing plants and about five acres all told. It is needless to say that his berries must be fine to receive the notice they have.

Since the death of the late Edward Bender at this place Mr. Stewart has been appointed assistant postmaster, but he says he will not be hindered in the least in his strawberry raising.

MYRTLE POINT WANTS SEWER

Much Talk There of Establishing a Thorough System For the City

PLACE IS TOO LARGE

The People Think To Go Without the Improvement Any Longer.

(Times Special Service.)

Myrtle Point, May 3.—There is a great deal of talk in this city about installing a sewer system throughout the city. Those who ought to know state that in the course of a summer a complete system will be under course of construction.

The city has grown past the time when so sewer system is needed, so say many of the residents, and it is to the interest of all to have the improvement soon. The health of the place always has been good and it is the plan of those who are at the head of the agitation to see that the city remains in a sanitary condition. This, they say, cannot be done unless a sewer system is installed at once.
