The baseball season opened with a splash on Sunday when the initial games of the Coos County League were played on Coos Bay, Bandon, North Bend and Coquille. The bats with Marshfield. Altogether 200 was realized at the different offices, and judging from the financial success of the season seems assured. All of the made excellent showings. Especially credit is due Captain Peralto, the Coquille team, for he practically made his team up without any variation for a game. Although North Bend won from it by a wide margin hardly more could have been expected, considering that the local team has had the benefit of much work which the valley team secure as time progresses. North Bend and Bandon put up a game that was a gate charge. If by those teams they will be in the race for Excursionists made the restaurants Sunday. It being estimated that almost 1,000 people were fed at the La Bon Vivant, Palace, and Java Coffee House restaurants. On account of the advertised opening of the La Bon Vivant that cafe did a record breaking business, it being necessary to close the doors against the continual stream of humanity that kept coming in. Almost 400 people ate there during the day.

At the Marshfield game Sunday informal one-act comedy drama depicted which, though not advertised highly entertaining to spectators and the contesting "Buckshot," who is the whip span of horses that pulls the bus to and fro from the railroad, got in an argument with McKay regarding the merits of the ball teams. McKay not see the force of argument, the latter extracted a knife of removing some of the umpire at this time. The umpire at this time "Time" for the ball game centered on the eminent dissection of McKay. Bert McCullough, night policeman, rang down the curtain on the little comedy-drama by separating the two actors, and the same proceeded without further incident.

The government engineer boat was taken up from the lower bay this afternoon and will remain at Marshfield Commission Commission over Sunday. Mr. Carroll soundings on the bar have been taken. They will be made in a few days. The engineer in charge soundings secured on the twenty feet of water at the bar, which is the same the soundings were taken ago. The depth of the bar up toward the

NORTH BEND VICTOR

In Close Contest Wins From Bandon by Score of Eight to Four.

North Bend and Bandon met in the initial game of the Coos County league season Sunday afternoon on the home diamond and the North Benders scalped the latter to the tune of eight to four. Bandon was a surprise. The team, considering its lack of practice, put up an exceptionally good article of ball, while the playing of the North Bend team was glitzy. Pratt, the twirler for the aggregation down the coast, serves up a good variety of fast and slow balls, and these contributed largely to the close score, only eight hits being secured by the North Bend team. With the exception of one or two weak spots, which team work practice will no doubt eliminate, Bandon has a team that will be trotting in close proximity to the top notch when the season closes.

North Bend put up a star article of baseball Sunday. There is a noticeable improvement in the team work that grows more marked with each game.

As guardian of the second bag Doc Gale has no superiors. When the little white spheroid comes anywhere around the intervening dust plot between the initial sack and second he is generally waiting to give it a pleasant reception with the gloved left. Equally well do the other members of the team show up. Jim Lyons, the North Bend backstop, smothered the assortment of "ins" and "outs" and "drops" served by Box Artist Graham with the regularity of a Waterbury watch tick. About three hundred persons witnessed the game in North Bend Sunday and indications point to a goodly crowd of supporters attending the game in Coquille on next Sunday. Following is the tabulated result of the game:

MARSHFIELD WINNER

Coquille Team Beaten by Score of Eighteen to Five—Bandon Next Sunday.

The first game of the league series played on the local grounds was won Sunday afternoon when the Marshfield team scored 18 runs against Coquille, which team scored but 5 times. The game was loosely played on both sides after the first three innings, several errors being made both by the Marshfield and the Coquille teams, although the latter had a little the worst of the argument. The 17 errors made by the Valley team is explained by the fact that the team has had but little practice as a team, some of the players not having been able to practice together at all before the game. This is also true of the local boys to a certain extent, changes in the line-up having been made at the last minute, all of which will be remedied as the season advances.

Peralto, the Coquille manager, has some good material in his team, and will no doubt give the rest of the teams in the league a hard run. Collier, while a young pitcher, has the making of a good artist, and in fact, the entire team when in good form can put up a good article of ball.

Manager McKeown has not yet made his selections for the permanent team, but has a wealth of material from which to fill all the positions, and by next Sunday he will have a strong aggregation together to meet Bandon at that place.

The attendance at Sunday's game was 400, which is an exceptionally large crowd considering there were two games on the Bay.
