Defense In Steunenberg Murder Case Picks Orchard's Story Into Shreds

EVIDENCE IN REBUTTAL

Testimony Offered Shows That Motives of Revenge Led to Killing of Governor.

Boise, June 26.—William F. Davis, of Goldfield, one of the most important witnesses for the defense, was called to the stand today and his cross-examination was not completed when court adjourned.

Davis asserted that he remained at Gem the day the Bunker Hill mine was blown up, and while there he saw the train in charge of the masked men arrive at and depart from Gem.

Mrs. Lottie Day, of Denver, testified in 1904 that Orchard told her about the loss of the Hercules interest, and, with that the chance to "support the only woman he ever really loved," and that he said he would kill Steunenberg for the wrong he did.

John M. O'Neill, editor of the Miner's Magazine, was the only other witness during the day. He testified Orchard came to his office early in 1905 and asked for the address of Governor Peabody and General Bell.
