FRUITS FOR BAY SPOIL

Delay In Transportation of California Fruits Causes Local Merchants to Sustain Loss

FIRST SHEEP TRAILED

Now Costs Three Cents a Head to Cross Umatilla Reservation—Sheepmen Protest.

The Casco arrived from San Francisco yesterday, after having laid outside the bar all day Tuesday waiting for the fog to lift. The vessel left San Francisco Saturday with a shipment of fruits and vegetables for the local market taken from the steamer M. F. Plant. Owing to the delay in reaching Coos Bay it was spoiled, entailing a loss to local merchants of approximately $300. Probably the heaviest individual loss was that sustained by F. S. Dow, placed at $125. The majority of the fruit shipments were a total loss.

First Sheep.
Pendleton, Ore.—The first band of sheep to be trailed across the reservation since the government imposed a toll for crossing is now being driven across. The band belonging to Joe Conelly, consisting of 2,000 grown sheep and 1,000 lambs, is crossing. A toll of 3 cents per head is required for sheep crossing the reserve, and aside from that the sheepman has to give a bond for damages and pay an Indian policeman to act as an escort. The expense to Mr. Conelly will be in the neighborhood of $100.

Aside from the Conelly band nearly all the sheep were driven around the reservation, but as Mr. Conelly was late in leaving for the mountains he was forced to cross.

The sheepmen hold that the toll of 3 cents per head is wholly unjust. It is understood that the government will change its policy in this regard.

OREGON CITY IS DRY ON SUNDAY

By Request of Mayor Canfield Saloons Observe Sabbath--Saloonmen Like It

Oregon City.—Pursuant to the orders of Mayor Canfield, relative to the closing of the saloons in this city on Sunday, which were issued last Saturday afternoon, every liquor resort was closed, and not a drink was to be had at any price. At promptly 12 o'clock Saturday night every saloon keeper in the city closed his doors and the dry spell began. The morning business on the Q. W. P. lines was much smaller than usual, only a few of these in search of a drink coming up from Portland, and these, after learning of the situation, turned back to find other places more to their liking. Not an arrest was made Saturday night, something quite unusual for this city, and order reigned from the time the saloons closed their doors. Several of the saloonmen were about the city during the day, and seemed to take the new rule good-naturedly, only one or two displaying any feeling towards the officers. In the afternoon most of the citizens left for other places, while others went to The Oaks in search of a cool and refreshing place where they might spend the afternoon.

No action was taken by District Attorney Hedges in regard to the closing of the remainder of the county, although several rumors are afloat that they had been ordered to close.

—THERE WILL BE A MEETING of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce in their new room in the Douglas block Friday evening at 7:30. Members and all subscribers to the publicity fund are expected to be present, and all interested in Coos Bay's development are cordially invited to attend.

J. T. McCORMAC, President.

U. S. WARSHIP ORDERED OUT.
Washington, June 26.—The possibility of serious trouble in Central America growing out of disturbances there incidental to the alleged ambition of President Zelaya to form a union of the Central American states has caused the American government to dispatch the cruiser Milwaukee to that locality.

A piece of printing matter without personality is like a man with a diseased brain.

It Can't Convince.

The only way to obtain "personality printing" is to employ a printer whose service is made up just as much with brains as technical ability.

Among printers of "personality printing" stands the

The Coos Bay Times Printing Co.

We are anxious to get in touch with you and make you a figure on that piece of printing you are contemplating having done.
