CORRESPONDENTS IN COOS COUNTY.

DO YOU WANT EASY MONEY? The Daily Coos Bay Times will place a correspondent in every town and community in Coos county. For every line of newsmatter turned in correspondents will be liberally paid. In a short time the paper will be materially enlarged and equipped with new machinery. Its aim is to build up and develop the richest country on the Pacific coast and in the United States. To attain that end the paper is not only willing, but determined to spend money. If you have a few spare moments each day you can utilize them to your financial benefit. Write today.

COOS BAY TIMES, MARSHFIELD, OREGON.

HOTELS.

Following is a list of those registered at the hotels Central and Blanco yesterday:

Blanco Hotel.—L. P. W. Quimby, Portland; A. L. Denney, Portland; Charles B. Kroll, Roseburg; William L. Hasbrouck, Kansas City; E. E. Stannard, Portland; Walter Cullin, Coquille.

Central Hotel.—Frank Murphy, North Bend; Chas. B. Coleman, San Francisco; D. E. Marshall, Beaver Hill; Jess Oliver, Beaver Hill; John Spencer, Los Angeles, Cal.; G. A. Blake, Eugene.

League Give Picnic.—The Epworth Leagues of the Methodist Churches of Marshfield and North Bend gave a picnic yesterday at Charleston Bay which was attended by about 75 from this city and 50 from North Bend, all of whom enjoyed the day a great deal. The steamer Alert left Marshfield at 8:30 with those from this city and the gasoline boat Fish took the crowd from North Bend. Following a fine picnic dinner at the Bay games were played until time to return for the evening.

The only incident to mar the pleasure of the day happened when Miss Laura Vignars of North Bend fell, injuring herself slightly.

The local league cleared about $12; last evening the members of the North Bend league did not know how much they had cleared, as the tickets had not been checked up.

Plant Brings Horses.—The steamer M. F. Plant is billed to arrive in the bay this afternoon, providing the heavy fog at sea does not interfere. She will sail on her return trip Saturday. F. S. Dow, local agent for the ship, received a wire yesterday that she had 290 tons for Marshfield, 80 for North Bend and 7 for Empire. Among the special shipments are some running horses being sent here for R. D. Hume, of Wedderburn. They will be trained on the local track for the races to be held on July 3.

Skating Rink Concert.—D. L. Avery, manager of the skating rink, has made arrangements to have the Acme Band give the third of the series of band concerts at the rink Tuesday night next instead of Friday night of this week, as had been intended. The change was made on account of the graduation exercises to be held in the Masonic Opera House on Friday evening. The usual hours will prevail at the rink that have been in force heretofore.

Railroad Progress.—Two schooners are unloading cement at the Gardner Mill Company warehouse for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, which makes over 20,000 barrels of this material to be shipped there by the Southern Pacific. It is estimated that the cost of the cement now on the grounds amounts to more than $120,000.

Hold Funeral.—The body of the late Thomas Blanti, who died Saturday at the Mercy Hospital, North Bend, was buried yesterday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the Catholic Church in this city. Father Curry officiated. The funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives.

Larry Owens Out.—L. Owens, who has been in Mercy Hospital, North Bend, for the past several weeks as a result of an injury, was taken to his home yesterday. His condition is much better, although he is still suffering a great deal of pain.

Veteran Commercial Traveler.—Colonel Jack Hale, the veteran commercial traveler of San Francisco, of the Strauss & Company wholesale house, left yesterday after a several days' visit on Coos Bay.

Receive Flat Cars.—A shipment of about fifteen flat cars was received on the Casco by the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern Railroad Company. Born.—Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Campbell, a daughter.

Insane Asylum Patient.—J. White, of Curry county, who was committed to the Oregon Insane Asylum, will be taken to that institution today by the attendants who arrived yesterday.

Visit On Bay.—Mrs. Irving Spencer and baby will arrive on the steamer Alliance to visit several weeks with W. S. Chandler and family.

Coquille Men Here.—James Watson, county clerk, and Dr. Cullin, both of Coquille, were in the city yesterday.

Orvil Dodge Here.—Orvil Dodge, editor of the Coquille Sentinel, was in Marshfield yesterday to meet his relatives. Mr. Dodge also attended the Commandery.

BISHOP SCADDING BELIEVES IN BAY

Oregon's Foremost Church Leader Impressed With Possibilities-- Building Up Church

Charles Scadding, Bishop of Oregon, who is now on Coos Bay and is making a tour of the State, is a firm believer in the future of Oregon.

Speaking of the strong tendency to centralize most of the religious, social and industrial energy of the State in Portland, Bishop Scadding said he knows only the diocese of Oregon and his efforts will be devoted to all parts of the great State alike. While his headquarters will necessarily be located at Portland, yet he hopes to work personally with churches in every nook and corner of the State and no remote section will be so far away as not to receive every attention from the head of the church.

He has come to Oregon to join in the development and upbuilding of the State and as churchman and citizen will be found fighting her battles and telling the wondrous story of the west.

Bishop Scadding said he was deeply impressed by the vastness of the diocese and the magnificent opportunities for work for God which the rapidly increasing population in some places presented.

The great need of the Episcopal Church in Oregon is for clergymen of the right kind—optimistic, constructive, zealous, tactful men—and for means with which to pay them fair living stipends.

Many people expect to get in the ministry what they never look for in business, namely, a $5,000 man for less than $600 per year. The services of a Christian minister, however, could not be measured by dollars and cents, and he knew there were many clergymen making great personal sacrifices for the cause.

The Bishop expressed his regret at finding so many weak or closed missions in the diocese, and intends at the earliest opportunity to strengthen these, just so soon as they show readiness to be strengthened and bear their share of a missionary's support.

Without formulating any definite plan, he desired to be considered as much the bishop of Eastern Oregon as of Southern and Western Oregon, and is pleased with the loyalty and spirit of the people of Marshfield. He believes in a splendid future for the Coos Bay country, and hopes the church people will keep pace with its material prosperity by supporting the preachers and missions with which they are connected.

Oregon is no longer a missionary jurisdiction of the Episcopal Church, but a regularly constituted diocese and as such must become more and more self-supporting.

He believes it would be a conservation of energy, and proper, to combine some of the missions and serve them from some strong center; and his present policy is to "strengthen the stakes before lengthening the cords."

DIGGING CANAL AT TEN MILE

L. J. Simpson and Others Will Improve Mode of Transportation--Fishing Parties

L. J. Simpson and others have a donkey engine at work near the Lake creamery cleaning out the logs and stumps from the lake, after which the engine will be mounted on a scow and rigged to do dredging. The little channel between North Lake and Ten Mile is to be deepened and to enable boats to travel between the lakes at any stage of the tide. The channel is to be dredged for about half a mile.

It is important that the two lakes be connected, as a great deal of milk is gathered up from the farmers along the edges of both lakes, which work is done in gasoline launches.

Several fishing parties are now fishing at Ten Mile. Deer are said to be plentiful in this territory at the present.
