Erecting Residence.—W. J. Rust is erecting a fourteen-room residence on lots one and two in block seven, Flagstaff. The carpenter work is completed, and when the house is ready for occupancy, he will move his family there, but will retain his office in Marshfield.

Lost.—July 12, on Front street or near Alert Landing, small plain gold watch, no initials or engravings; open face. Suitable reward offered. Leave at Times office, or address Mrs. S. A. Yoakam, Marshfield, Ore.

Lecturer Passes Through.—S. M. Yoran, grand lecturer of the Masonic fraternity, passed through Marshfield yesterday, on his way home from Bandon, where he had visited the Masonic lodges of that city.

Return From Hunting.—J. W. and Tom Bennett and Frank Lamberton returned yesterday from their hunting trip on the west fork of the Millicoma. They secured three deer and came home well satisfied with their outing.

For Sale.—The best location, the best trade, and the best stocked millinery store in Coos county. If you mean business, got the money and want a snap, apply to Coos Bay Auction Co., Second street, between B and C. Telephone 874.

Situation Improving.—H. Behnke, a real estate dealer, of North Bend, said, in speaking of the local situation: "So far as I can see, it is improving fast. In North Bend there is a demand for city property and outside lots, and the dealers are making many sales."

Partner Wanted in auction house, in another town. Big money for right party. Snap. Coos Bay Auction Co., Second street, between B and C. Telephone 874.

Visits In Marshfield.—A. W. Varney, of Coquille, took advantage of an enforced lay-off while the Despatch is having a new boiler installed, and came over to Marshfield to visit friends.

Golden Building Sold.—A. A. Adams, who last year bought the Golden business building on Front street, occupied by the Sengstacken drug store, has disposed of the property to Nels Rasmussen, the deal to be closed today.

Meets Family.—Mr. E. Larsen, who is proprietor of a shingle mill on the Coquille river near the county seat, was here yesterday to meet his family who came down from Portland to locate in Coquille.

Don't Forget Dance at Summer, July 27; music by Coos Bay Orchestra.

Oil Painting.—The Chamber of Commerce has an oil painting of Sunset Bay to show visitors who call to learn something about the Coos Bay country. The canvas is the handiwork of Mr. Stratford, who lived here some years since.

For Sale.—Store doing good business. Owner sick. Small capital. Apply Coos Bay Auction Co., Second street, between B and C. Telephone 874.

Brings Down Fruit.—The Alert brought down a fine lot of vegetables and berries from the North Fork of the Coos River yesterday. Oregon for this class of goods against the world, and Coos Bay against Oregon.

Sells Plat B Lots.—J. P. Morris reports the sale of two lots in Plat B and a half block in Plat C, resales.

Organize K. of C.—A lodge of the Knights of Columbus will be organized in Marshfield on some date in August. Further information will be given as the matter develops.

Addition to Barn.—George Thomason is building an addition to his barn on Sheridan street.

Brings In Deer.—Dr. B. M. Richardson brought in his second deer for this season yesterday.

Purchases Lots.—C. W. Varney, of Anaconda, Mont., has purchased eight lots in Plat C, of L. B. Billings.

Arago Repaired.—The Arago, which was laid up for two days at North Bend for fire-box repairs, is in commission again.

PHILIPPINE INQUIRY ABOUT COOS BAY

McNeil & Ferguson, real estate dealers, received an inquiry from Cavite, Philippine Islands, for business lots on the installment plan. The matter of advertising the Coos Bay country is thus shown to be well done, since one so far away from here would never hear of Coos Bay unless he read the advertising in some magazine or newspaper. This reply was thought to be the result of advertising done by this firm in the Pacific Monthly.

LOGGING OUTFIT TO BEGIN WORK

The Smith-Powers Logging Company, an organization that will operate logging camps in this territory, ordered its outfit yesterday from A. B. Daly. Among the accessories are a 10x13 road engine manufactured by the Willamette Iron & Steel Works, of Portland. The order will be filled expeditiously, and the work will first begin on Coos River, where the C. A. Smith Lumber and Manufacturing Company has large tracts of timber lands.

MODEL BAKERY CHANGES HANDS

The Model Bakery changed hands and went under new management last Monday. Davis & Davis, the new firm that will open about the first of August in the Rogers Block, purchased the business and will either consolidate it with their new business or conduct it separately. Mr. Potthoff, the former proprietor, has not decided what he will do as yet.

JOTTINGS FROM A REPORTER'S BOOK

Containing Some Philosophy; Some Humor and a Dash of Nonsense

Dr. Ingram, who returned to Coos Bay on the Breakwater, is authority on seasickness, or at least, knows all there is to learn about it. He intimated yesterday that there is no possible preventive for this distressing condition, and gave it as his opinion that seasickness is an invention of Mephisto. He says it is occasionally aggravated by the most trifling causes. For instance, his dread of it was so great that he was ill shortly after leaving Portland, where there is fresh water for a hundred miles, and no rolling ocean waves. The dinner bell, the Doctor says, is a signal for concerted nausea by passengers who are carefully tucked away in their bunks praying for arrival of the boat at its destination.

A man with an overgrown jag made a spectacle for several observers on First street yesterday. He came around the corner of C street under full sail and started northward. He was going comparatively steady on turning the corner, but the spectators suspected he would collapse before proceeding far. Their suspicions were immediately realized, as the sidewalk turned up edgewise and dumped him alongside the furniture store. He was game and did not propose to rest in quiet, and scrambled to his feet. He wriggled up the street as far as Gow Why's and then sat down on the steps, looking thoroughly disgusted with himself and with the condition of the sidewalk, which to him seemed circling for an opening, to get at him again.

Everybody on Coos Bay is supposed to be a philanthropist, whatever that means. But some people are called upon to contribute a greater proportion to charity than others. And the nature of requests often depends largely upon what your calling is or what business you are engaged in. A man in the grocery business could subscribe prunes; a hardware merchant, second-hand stovepipe; a dry goods house, gunny sacks; and so on, down the line to the real estate man, who has nothing of value of late outside of advice. But it takes considerable circumlocution at times to reach a point, and there was to be a point in this item. Mr. Haines, who sells fiddles, band instruments, funnygraphs, etc., received the prize request yesterday in a letter. A patient at the Mercy Hospital wrote him requesting the loan of a violin on which to practice and help pass away time, which hangs so heavily on a convalescent. Nothing extraordinary in this; only odd enough to chronicle. And somebody with an idle violin can make a soul happy and dispel a little gloom by sending it to the hospital for a short time.

EKBLAD & SON

A Complete Hardware Stock. OLD DEAN STORE

Supremacy in the art of Piano making can only be attained by a combination of Age, Experience, and Intelligently applied ambition to produce something better than has been made. And that care of minute detail guaranteeing permanent satisfaction to the performer, more than the allotted span of life has been devoted by three generations of the house of Earnest Gabler & Brother toward developing the Gabler Piano to its present high state of mechanical and artistic perfection. The oldest and among the most reliable piano houses in the United States have handled the Gabler Piano since 1854. Call and let us show you the long list of piano dealers, personal opinions and testimony.

We are buying these pianos direct from the factory and will give you same prices as you obtain in New York City plus the freight to San Francisco or Portland.
