

FIVE THOUSAND JAPS WAITING

Southern Pacific Officials Say
Many Are On Mexican Border.

U. S. OFFICIALS ARE ALERT

Coolies Ship From Japan to Mexico
To Work in Mines—Thence to America.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—One hundred and six coolie Japanese were brought to San Francisco Wednesday from Texas in custody of armed Southern Pacific railway guards, and were put aboard the steamer Manchuria to be deported today to Yokohama.

These Japs are but the vanguard, Southern Pacific railway officials say, of between 4,000 and 5,000 coolies stationed just across the Mexican border awaiting a chance to slip into this country. The railway guards report that large bodies of Japanese are waiting near Laredo, Eagle Pass, El Paso and other points along the frontier. A small army of 300 Japs is reported to be assembled at Juarez patiently watching for a chance to evade the authorities and get into the United States.

It has been customary, according to Southern Pacific information, for these Japanese to be sent back into Mexico again and again. Then about the fifth or sixth time they try to slip into Uncle Sam's domain they are no longer hustled back into Mexico, but are rounded up, put aboard Southern Pacific trains under guard and sent to San Francisco for final deportation back to the land of the chrysanthemum, whence they cannot make a fresh advance.

According to Southern Pacific information, these Japanese belong to a lot that have been landed from time to time at Salina Cruz, under contract to work in the coal mines and work their way up to the border, hoping to get past the customs officers and safely into the land of promise.

TONOPAH CLUB TO CLOSE DOORS

Monte Carlo of Nevada Will No Longer Be the Gamblers' Paradise.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 11.—The Tonopah Club, which for the past six years has been the Monte Carlo of the West, has closed its doors, and the games through which have been won and lost many a bank roll have ceased operations. The famous gambling resort of Tonopah has, perhaps, seen more wild games of chance and experienced more fatal quarrels than any resort west of the Rockies.

Employing over 100 dealers and employees and some forty tables, it was the rendezvous of all who went to the mining town of Tonopah. There is hardly a man of prominence in this state who has not stood at the tables of the Tonopah Club, and many there are who have tried to break the bank, which have made fortune for the owners, who have now decided to close the resort and retire.

The gambling palace was always crowded to the doors, as no other amusements were present except the games of chance. Scarcely one entered who did not in a small or great degree tempt dame fortune with a play at the wheel or faro bank.

There never will be a better time to build you a house than at the present time.

Lumber is cheaper now on Coos Bay than it will ever be again

But we are not selling lumber. We are in the power and electric lighting business and are at work putting in a gas plant. And when you put up your new building have it wired for electric light and plumbed for gas.

If you have ever used electric light you would hardly think of going back to tallow candles or foul-smelling kerosene; if the housewife has ever used an electric flat-iron she would not be disposed to surrender it. And if you have ever used a gas stove no one could induce you to go back to the old sooty, grimy coal stove.
