Tariff Revision Urterances and Anti-Trust Views Are Attacked.

INCOME TAX IDEA OPPOSED

Washington Politicians Discussing Columbia Speech Unfavorable

Washington, Aug. 26—Some of the politicians here who are watching the present Budget debate say that the tariff revision is now in full swing.

Mr. Taft, wearing a heavy suit of brown, was seen by the press waiting for the train which would take him to his home in Wisconsin. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. H. G. Taft. Mr. Taft was seen to be in high spirits, and he told the reporters that he had made a long journey and was glad to be back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—A revised tariff bill has been introduced in Congress by Mr. Taft, the President. The bill aims to decrease the tariff on a number of items, including sugar, coffee, and tobacco.

The tariff revision is expected to have a great effect on the economy of the country. It is hoped that the new tariff will help to reduce the cost of living and increase the purchasing power of the people.

The bill is expected to be debated in Congress next week.

The President's action in this matter is in line with his policy of economy and reduction of taxation. He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

March 12

To Mr. Taft.

Dear Mr. Taft,

I am enclosing a check for $100. I hope it will be of some help to you in your work.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Tariff Revision Urterances and Anti-Trust Views Are Attacked.

INCOME TAX IDEA OPPOSED

Washington Politicians Discussing Columbia Speech Unfavorable

Washington, Aug. 26—Some of the politicians here who are watching the present Budget debate say that the tariff revision is now in full swing.

Mr. Taft, wearing a heavy suit of brown, was seen by the press waiting for the train which would take him to his home in Wisconsin. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. H. G. Taft. Mr. Taft was seen to be in high spirits, and he told the reporters that he had made a long journey and was glad to be back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—A revised tariff bill has been introduced in Congress by Mr. Taft, the President. The bill aims to decrease the tariff on a number of items, including sugar, coffee, and tobacco.

The tariff revision is expected to have a great effect on the economy of the country. It is hoped that the new tariff will help to reduce the cost of living and increase the purchasing power of the people.

The bill is expected to be debated in Congress next week.

The President's action in this matter is in line with his policy of economy and reduction of taxation. He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

The tariff revision is expected to have a great effect on the economy of the country. It is hoped that the new tariff will help to reduce the cost of living and increase the purchasing power of the people.

The bill is expected to be debated in Congress next week.

The President's action in this matter is in line with his policy of economy and reduction of taxation. He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

He has long been a proponent of a lower tariff, and his action in this matter is in line with his policy.

March 12

To Mr. Taft.

Dear Mr. Taft,

I am enclosing a check for $100. I hope it will be of some help to you in your work.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]