SWEDES WANT A CHANCE.

Would Take Sail With Lipton for American Cup.

New York, Sept. 30.—A cablegram was received, so it was learned today from the Royal Swedish Yacht club, asking if a challenge would be accepted for the American cup, and what rules and conditions governed the contest. The New York Yacht club in reply mailed a copy of the resolutions dispatched to Sir Thomas Lipton. This response, it is probable, will not reach Stockholm for a week. The Swedish yacht builders have prepared for a sound, smart, racing craft. The craft is built along lines which allow navigating the heavy Norway seas and local yachtsmen are of the opinion that the Swedish builders will discourage the building of a mere racing machine.

Kicked the Wrong Man.

A young married man in Boston met a friend of his bachelor days and insisted on his coming home with him to lunch. His wife was unprepared for visitors and, calling him aside, told him she had only one dozen oysters and that when his friend had eaten his quota of four he must not be asked to take any more. In spite of his promise to remember, when the guest had eaten his four the host pressed him to take more. The wife looked distressed, and the friend declined every time the husband asked.

Later the wife said to her husband:

"How could you urge him to have more oysters when I had explained to you that there weren't any more?"

"I'm very sorry," said the penitent husband, "but I forgot all about it."

"Forgot about it! What do you suppose I was kicking you under the table for?"

"But you didn't kick me."

A Remarkable Baby.

A teacher disturbed by giggling called upon one of the culprits to tell him the cause.

"Please, sir," responded the lad, "Turner says a baby who was fed elephants milk gained ten pounds a day."

"Turner," said the teacher sternly, "you should not tell lies."

"But it's true, sir," rejoined Turner.

"Whose baby was it?"

"The elephant's, sir."
