

HIMEBAUGH IS SUCCESSFUL

Local Architect's Plans for $75,000 Hotel Accepted by Committee.

SEVEN IN COMPETITION

Hostelry should Be Ready by the First of April, 1908.—The Arrangement.

The plans drawn by C. M. Himebaugh for the $75,000 hotel for Marshfield were accepted yesterday by the building committee of the hotel company.

The $75,000 hotel for Marshfield will be ready for patrons next spring and when it is completed, the city will boast of the best hotel in southern Oregon.

The plans of C. M. Himebaugh were selected as most nearly meeting the ideas of the committee as to the style and class of building they wished to erect.

The dining room will be commodious and will occupy a space of 62x34 feet. The grill room will occupy 51x17 feet, and will be under the court which extends to the top of the building.

The attic will be partitioned and arranged so that the total number of rooms will be brought up to 70.

Mr. Himebaugh, who will immediately set to work on the final plans and specifications, says it will be somewhere between six weeks or two months before the details can be worked out.

It is something of a pleasure to Mr. Himebaugh's friends that he was successful in having his plans adopted.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The president's policy of strengthening the defenses on the Pacific coast was practically inaugurated today by the departure from Hampton Roads of the special service squadron consisting of the armored cruisers Tennessee and Washington, on a long voyage around the coast of South America to Magdalena bay, where the two ships will go through regular maneuvers with the cruisers California and South Dakota. Rear Admiral Seebro is in command of the special service squadron.

CONDUCTING GIRL BUREAU IS CHARGED

H. H. Higley Is in Jail Accused of Improper Use of Mails.

Portland, Or., Oct. 12.—H. H. Higley, a large, corpulent man with an extremely bald head, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal McSwain yesterday afternoon and lodged in jail on default of furnishing $1000 bail.

His system, according to the charge against him, was to advertise in the rural papers for "100 or more young women wanted as housekeepers."

Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin got trace of Higley's scheme and she lent her assistance to Postal Inspector Riches. A bogus answer was sent to one of the advertisements and the inside workings of the plan were revealed.

Higley waived examination this afternoon before Commissioner Sladen and was bound over to the grand jury under $1500 bonds.

WHEAT MAKES RICH FARMERS

One Grower in Umatilla County Realizes $70,852 from 1907 Crop.

BIGGEST WHEAT CHECK

Eastern Oregon Wheat Men Ride in Automobiles—Were Formerly Poor Men.

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 12.—Eastern Oregon has had an excellent crop year. It is ever a good country. This has been one of the banner years, but a real failure has never been known.

What is believed to be the largest check ever paid to any one grower of wheat in the northwest has just been received by George E. Perringer of Pendleton, who got $70,852 a few days ago from the Pendleton representative of the Pacific Coast Elevator company, for this season's crop, raised on about 3,000 acres of Umatilla county wheat land.

Ox Cart to Automobile. Many of the wheat kings who are going about the county in expensive automobiles came to Umatilla county in the early days with but a few dollars, took up land, and toiled, and toiled, and today they spend their winters in California.

At present there are about 1,100 Indians on the Umatilla reservation, which has an area of practically 160,000 acres, one-third of which is cultivated wheat land, rented to white farmers at an annual cash rental of from $2 to $6 per acre.

The government has recently made a new ruling to the effect that all white renters of Indian lands on the reservation must reside on the land, and all those leasing lands in the future must comply with the new law.

There is room for many more homes and many more people in eastern Oregon, under the irrigation projects, in the wheat, mining and fruit districts, and the population will be materially increased in a few years' time.

FINE FREIGHT SHIP FOUNDERS

Cypress, 440 Foot Steel Boat, Lost on Her Second Lake Trip.

ONLY ONE MAN ESCAPES

Second Mate, Pitt, So Severely Injured and Exposed That Story Cannot Be Learned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 12.—Bound down from the head of the lakes on the second trip she has made since she was launched at Lorain, Ohio, August 17 last, the fine steel freighter Cypress, 440 feet long, founded last night in Lake Superior, off Deer Park, taking down with her 22 members of her crew.

Second Mate Pitt, was washed ashore on a life raft, and is the only person left alive of the ship's people and his condition is so critical that since he was found on the beach he has been only able to rasp out the name of the sunken ship and the fact that 22 lives were lost.

At present there are about 1,100 Indians on the Umatilla reservation, which has an area of practically 160,000 acres, one-third of which is cultivated wheat land, rented to white farmers at an annual cash rental of from $2 to $6 per acre.

BOWLSBY ACQUITTED IN ASTORIA COURT

Portland, Oct. 12.—A special to the Oregonian from Astoria says J. H. Bowlsby of Marshfield, was today declared innocent by a jury of murdering C. C. Jennings. Bowlsby accused Jennings of misconduct with Bowlsby's wife. The grounds for acquittal were "insanity."

TUNGSTEN LAMP PROMISES WELL

Metal Tested as Filament in Incandescent Globes.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The tungsten ores produced in the United States in 1906 amounted to 928 short tons, valued at about $349,000. The output for the year is a gain of 126 tons, or 15.56 per cent, in quantity, and of $89,191, or 29 per cent, in value, over the known production of 1905.

The noticeable rise in the price of tungsten during 1905 continued during 1906, and the production was stimulated accordingly. There was, however, a very great discrepancy in the prices paid for ore in various places, as there is almost sure to be when an article is produced spasmodically in widely separated and often little known localities.

The greatest producing locality in 1906 was Boulder county, Colorado, but tungsten mining was also carried on in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Washington. The Boulder county ore is wolframite, but the deposits in California are chiefly scheelite. No production of tungsten was reported from the deposits of Alaska, Connecticut, Oregon or Idaho, but considerable development work was done at Osceola, Nevada. New deposits of scheelite have also been found at Murray, Idaho, where it is hoped that production will soon begin.

During the year experiments that have been carried on for a long time produced a wonderful incandescent lamp, the filament of which is made of metallic tungsten. The ordinary carbon incandescent lamp used a large amount of electricity, while its profitable life is very short, and many attempts have been made to construct a lamp that would give a better light with less power.

Large quantities of sodium tungstate are manufactured, much of which is said to be used in fireproofing cloth for curtains, drapery, etc., and as a mordant in dyeing. Tungsten salts are also extensively used in silk manufacture, being added to the silk with the dye to give more apparent weight to the fabric.

CHICAGO TAKES FOURTH GAME

World's Championship Lost to Detroit by Four Successive Defeats.

NATIONALS THE STRONGER

Work Through the Series Was Much Better Than the American Leaguers'.

Chicago Detroit 2 0

Detroit, Oct. 12.—The Chicago National League Baseball team this afternoon, at Bennett park, won the world's championship by defeating the Detroit American League team by a score of 2 to 0. It was the fourth successive victory for the Chicago team in as many days.

The official count of attendance was 7,370. Mullin and Brown both pitched well, but Brown was the steadier, giving but one base on balls to Mullin's three, one of which developed into a run in the first inning. There was missing from the play of the Detroit team this afternoon the dash and vim which characterized them while at the head of the list in the American League.

EXPLORERS REACH CIVILIZATION AGAIN

Will Not Say Whether They Found New Northern Continent in the Arctic Regions.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—After searching for over a year for a new continent in the Arctic seas, Dr. George P. Howe, with First Officer S. Starker and four members of the Anglo-American Arctic expedition, returned to civilization yesterday afternoon on board the whaling steamer Narwhal. The members of the expedition looked none the worse for the time spent in the north.

Dr. George P. Howe, who had charge of the schooner Duchess of Bedford, in which the hardy little party embarked on their northern voyage of discovery, stated yesterday that the report published that certain members of the party had perished in the ice through cold and starvation was luckily incorrect. All the members of the expedition were safe and well. Only three of them were at present left up north, and they were well furnished with provisions and not in any danger.

The Duchess of Bedford started from Victoria, B. C., May 20, 1906, and steamed north through the Bering straits. After passing the Arctic circle the weather was very cold, notwithstanding that it was the middle of the summer. The Duchess of Bedford behaved splendidly in the northern waters. After meeting with much stormy weather the schooner reached Flaxman's Island and became firmly embedded in the ice October 17.

While the vessel was fixed in the ice Captain Mikkelsen and Ernest Leffingwell, the leaders of the party, both of whom were members of the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition, went on an exploring journey over the ice in the sledges. The members of the expedition are sworn not to divulge the results of their discoveries except to the promoters of the undertaking.

The most northerly point reached was latitude 72 degrees, 20 minutes. The whaling steamer Narwhal called at Flaxman Island and took off six of the nine members who composed the exploring party.

While out in an open boat near Herschel Island the second mate of the Narwhal and two men were attacked by a whale. The whale struck the bow of the boat with his tail and smashed it to pieces. The three men were capsized into the icy water and were with difficulty rescued by their companions in the other boats.

Holmes Bought. Some commercial friends of Mr. Holmes gave a parade yesterday in his honor. A large bunch of the boys decorated their hats with advertisements of "Lighthouse Soap" which is sold by the recipient of the lark, and marched through the Blanco hotel and into the barroom, where Holmes did the right thing.

Will Commence Addition. Work will be commenced this week on the Millicoma club addition to the Lockhart building.
