PARTY OF BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT KLAMATH FAIR

Portland, Ore., Oct. 14.—Organization of a party of business men to attend Portland day at the Klamath county fair, October 19, is now progressing under the agency of the Commercial Club and Frank Ira White, of Klamath Falls. The fair will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and a special program is being arranged for the occasion. Instead of the old time program of races, there will be broncho busting of the wildest order, and the events will be intensified by competition for valuable prizes. Visitors will be entertained with short tours of inspection through the huge irrigation projects now under construction by the government, which aims to reclaim 200,000 acres of land, possessing limitless wealth.

The excursion will enable those participating to see the Klamath country at its best, and the trip will be in the nature of an education. It is being encouraged from a business point of view, as it will bring Portland into closer touch with one of the most promising regions of the entire west.

The excursion leaves Portland Thursday, October 17, at 8:15 a. m. Friday, October 18, the excursionists will arrive at Thrall, leaving at 7:30 a. m. Pokegama and Keno will be visited for a short time, and the excursion will arrive at Klamath Falls at 5 p. m. The round trip will cost $25, which covers only transportation, but the tickets provide for the return trip at any time within 15 days. Special sleeping care will be provided.

Perpetual Motion.
Myrtle Point, Oct. 10, 1906.—Editor Coos Bay Times: As near as perhaps men will solve the perpetual motion has been solved by Frank Sherman in Philadelphia.

The apparatus consists of a long wooden box over which a covering of window glass lays, on top of this are coiled iron pipes painted black, this again is covered by another layer of window glass.

The pipe is filled with ether. The rays of the sun will vaporize the ether and develop a power of from three to more horse power, the vapor concentrated are returned into the pipes. The appliance is secured by patent.

The newest thing in clothing is limestone wool. Powdered limestone and a certain chemical, exposed to an intense air blast will make as fluffy white wool as such grows on sheep's backs.

Would fishing with electricity be unlawful? Such is lately used to catch the dwellers of the deep.

Here is something for our loggers, it will make the best shoe paste known. Boil three gallons best linseed oil for one hour, then light the top of the oil and let it burn for three minutes, smother with a cover and add three pounds of rosin and three ounces of lamp black, stir it well. When cool grind it into a paste.

CHINESE TO FIGHT THE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Have Secret Service System—Propose Breaking Tong Which Protect Slave Dealers.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The Examiner says a secret meeting in Oakland last night of 100 members of the Chinese Native Sons of the Golden State revealed the fact that an elaborate secret service is maintained on the Pacific coast among native born Chinese to fight the slave traffic which has become so prevalent within the past five years. The meeting also resulted in the adoption of a plan to overthrow the Tong war and Tong organizations which have become a great factor in the protection of slave dealers. The secret service system or organization extends along the Pacific coast as far east as Montana. At the meeting last night, plans for drafting a petition to be presented to Secretary Oscar Straus of the department of commerce and labor, asking him to utilize the Chinese organization for prevention of slave traffic, were adopted.

JOHN PAUL JONES CALLED BY DEATH

S. P. Traveling Passenger Agent Succumbs To Blood Poisoning at Hospital.

Portland, Oct. 15.—John Paul Jones, the Southern Pacific traveling passenger agent, died at the Good Samaritan hospital at 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning after an illness of five months. He was 55 years of age and had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific since 1887. He leaves a widow. The remains will be interred at Salem tomorrow.

Few railroad men had a wider local acquaintance than Jones. He was known by almost everybody interested in railroads from Portland to San Francisco. Practically all his active career as a railroad man was passed on the line between here and the Bay City.

Jones was born in the middle west, and when he first came to Oregon entered the service of the Oregon & California company as foreman. This was in 1881, in the construction period of the Southern Pacific system. That fall he went east, and remained until the spring of 1887, when he returned to Oregon and accepted a place as traveling passenger agent for the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon. This position he held constantly ever since.

Three Hundred Men Taken Into San Francisco Court for Bribery Cases.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Bribery cases against Glass, Schmitz, Ruef, Calhoun, Mullally, Ford and Abbott were before Judge Lawlor of the superior court today and were by him continued until Thursday, when Ford's second trial will be begun. Attorney Robinson presented a voluminous bill of exceptions in the Glass case today. This, the court said, will be taken up for settlement on Thursday.

Three hundred talesmen for the formation of a regular jury panel for trial of these defendants were brought into court today.

BROWN CARRIED BIG INSURANCE

Baker City, Or., Oct. 14.—It was learned today that Harvey Brown carried an unusually large amount of insurance for a man of his wealth and resources. When figuring up the policies of the different companies and lodges in which her husband carried insurance Mrs. Brown found that altogether his life had been insured for $27,500. The following companies carried the risk:

Provident Savings Life	$10,000
Pacific Mutual Life	2,500
Bankers' Life of Des Moines	6,000
Royal Arcanum	3,000
A. O. U. W. Secret Order	2,000
Standard Accident	3,000
Masonic Mutual Accident	1,000
Total	$27,500

The fact that he carried so much insurance on his life, both life and accident, is looked upon as an indication that he must have expected something to happen to him at almost any time.

Adjudged Insane.
G. W. Thompson, of Empire, was brought before Judge Hall, of the county court on Monday for examination as to his sanity. Dr. McCormac was called in to testify and with other evidence produced, the case seemed clear enough to the judge to order his commitment to the asylum at Salem. Mr. Thompson is 83 years of age, and has friends at Empire. His condition is not violent, but simply a breaking down of his mental faculties. He is being cared for by friends until guards arrive from Salem to escort him there.

The management of the Crystal in the future will have but three matinees a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays, commencing at 4 p. m.
