

Young Men's "Standard"

The Coat that Wins Enthusiastic Praise

A VERY strong feature of Ederheimer-Stein clothes is the enthusiastic approval they inspire—first, from those who wear them—second, from all who see them on others.

That fact, and the actually greater value and better style, explains why we sell this brand and why it's a mistake on your part when you permit any pressure or influence or inducement to lead you to take ordinary kinds.

No garment within the range of our experience represents so many desirable features as this

"Standard" Overcoat
It is stylish, roomy, durable.
Sizes 30 to 38. Prices $15 to $30.

NAGNES & MATSON

Personal Notes.

Mrs. W. F. Piper, of Allegany, was a city visitor Tuesday.

Mr. Jesse Smith, of Coos River, was a city visitor yesterday.

Mrs. Murr, of North Bend, was in this city shopping yesterday.

EAST MARSHFIELD.

Mrs. Charles Gorden who has been very sick is now better.

Mr. John Sandell is busy building a house for himself.

Mrs. J. W. Peterson had the pleasure of receiving a visit from her brother Chas. Willdahl, from Chicago, Illinois, via Goldfield Nevada, she had not seen him for a number of years.

Miss Mamie Sherden departed for Creswell where she is to assist her father in teaching school.

Mrs. Robert McCann and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hodson are preparing to move to North Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peterson gave a birthday party in honor of their oldest son Willie Anderson, this being his thirteenth birthday. There were fifteen guests present.

Miss Bronte Jennings, of Sumner, was down Saturday.

—Just arrived—Teddy Bears and children's furs at Ladies' Emporium.

Foulkes' Funeral Services.

The funeral of Robert Foulkes, who died at Coquille on Sunday from injuries received last week, was held at the Odd Fellows' cemetery in Marshfield yesterday, the body being brought over yesterday noon on the train. The deceased leaves besides his mother, Mrs. William McEwen, of Marshfield, three sisters and two brothers. Rev. Thurston conducted the services.

ALLEGANY.

Burt Gray and family were in Marshfield and North Bend last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Thurman and Mr. Parker went to Ash Monday.

Mrs. Frank Lerry, of Coquille, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Gould at Riverside.

Alice and Will Evanoff went over the trail to Camp Creek Monday.

Ray Whitted fell from the upper staging in Geo. Stemmerman's new house through two sets of joists to the ground. Fortunately he was but little hurt.

George Stemmerman was quite sick Friday and Saturday.

Chas. Kadine's new house is completed. They expect to move in soon.

Miss Effie Rolin is home from South Marshfield for a couple weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemper started overland for California Thursday.

We hear one of J. R. Bunch's ranches changed hands. We have not learned the buyer's name.

Mrs. Alfred Tyberg was brought from her home above the Golden Falls Wednesday for medical treatment in Marshfield.

Some one thought to play a joke on Joe Schaffer, brought twelve sacks of chittum from the warehouse at the Golden Falls and put it in the warehouse immediately and was followed up with no trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham, of Coquille, are visiting Mrs. Ham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stemmerman, this week.

—We are now handling Umbrellas, Ladies' Emporium.

THE HORSE WAS BLIND

Most everybody has read of the many thrilling experiences that are encountered by chauffeurs. He is the man "behind the wheel" in other words the man who runs the automobile. There are none who entirely escape thrilling experiences, and some have hair-raising times, but Mr. Andrews, the gentleman who is here trying to establish a line to Florence, had an experience yesterday he will never forget. It is the truth, when it is said he will never forget.

It happened about this way. He had stopped by the roadside near North Bend, to take on some water at a watering trough. Shortly a vehicle appeared a short distance ahead. That didn't interest him much, as the car was at a standstill. Then he heard a polite request, "Mr. will you please lead my horse past that big thing? It is frightened."

Mr. Andrews is nothing if not polite and accommodating. He proceeded to guide the ladies' horse past his "awful machine," but just as he got out of the supposed danger he discovered the animal was stone blind—couldn't tell the difference between an automobile and a feed trough.

His car was full of ladies and they had discovered the horse was blind also. That was too rich for them to stand and bedlam broke loose, and such sympathy(?) as Mr. Andrews got was truly overwhelming. It's a safe bet that the next horse he attempts to lead will have its eyes thoroughly examined by Dr. Hayes.

BRIDE DIES AS SHE TALKS TO HUSBAND

Falls Backward in Fossil Garden and Is Picked Up Lifeless.

Condon, Or., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Robert Lee Mote, daughter of Mrs. R. B. Stillwell died at her home in Fossil on October 18, at the age of 21. Mrs. Mote was born in Coos County, Oregon, and when six years of age came to Fossil with her parents and resided there since that time. She was married to Robert Lee Mote on February 18. Her death was very unexpected. She was in the garden with her husband, watching him dig potatoes, and was talking pleasantly, when suddenly she fell over backwards. Her husband thought she had just fainted, but found the body lifeless. She left a widow, a mother, three brothers and three sisters. She was well known in both Gillman and Wheeler counties. Her father died three months ago.

—A. H. Eddy has been busy since coming to town. New cottage designs.
