

NORTH BEND PLAYS WELL

Score of 11 to 0 Shows Neighbors Are Improving in Their Work

GAME WAS INTERESTING

North Bend Held Three Times on Five Yard Line—Fumbled on Getting Ball.

MARSHFIELD ..... 11
NORTH BEND ..... 0

North Bend boys from the high school gave the Marshfield high school team a bigger scare yesterday than they did two weeks ago, and the smaller players had many good plays to their credit. The Marshfield team outweighs the visitors by a comfortable margin and it would not have been surprising had the score been larger yesterday than it was two weeks ago, when it was 16 to 0 in Marshfield's favor. But Marshfield had practiced little, and had been negligent. The outcome of the game proves that it takes practice to play football. The North Bend boys have another team at home to practice against, while Marshfield has been practicing signals for the most part, and have not been in actual play except for the game at North Bend.

The game of yesterday was exciting every section of the route. Three times did North Bend players hold their opponents on the five yard line, the last time, just before the time was up, and thus saved five points, and perhaps six. In the first hold, North Bend obtained the ball on the third down, and then was carried back over their goal for a touchback, which, owing to the new rule, was an aid to them, as it counted nothing, and gave them a kickoff from their 25 yard line. Harold Briggs made the two tackles which forced the North Bend player over his own goal for a touchback. In the second instance, when the plucky North Bend boys held on the five yard line, and obtained the ball, they lost it on the first down on a fumble. Marshfield was so near the goal line that it looked good to Ole Olson, who was playing his first game this year with Marshfield, and he went through on the second down for a touchdown. Rasmussen let out with his long right leg and booted the pigskin straight between the goal posts.

The score at the end of the first half was six for Marshfield, and North Bend had not scored.

The next goal was made by Wieder on a good fifteen yard run. Rasmussen failed to kick goal. The ball was entrusted for the most part in the Marshfield play, to Wieder and Ole Olson. Rasmussen had it under his arm once for a fifteen yard gain. Pat Flanagan circled the end once for a thirty yard run but the ball was called back on a rule which required a fifteen yard circle on a quarterback play. The tackling of Rasmussen for Marshfield was a feature of the game, and that of Harvey Redfield and Russell for North Bend was as good. The playing for the most part on both sides was excellent and all the boys deserve mention for their work. The halves were of 25 minutes each, and there was little time taken out, as no one received an injury which incapacitated him for any time.

The Marshfield team tried several forward passes, but gained nothing at any attempt, one time fumbling.

The officials were as follows: Hevener and Tower, linemen; Hutchins, referee; Lacey, umpire; Nasburg and J. Lacey, linemen.

The North Bend people turned out a large assemblage and the girls had some good yells and songs. Prof. Raab accompanied the team and students and enjoyed the game from the side lines. The North Bend contingent came down on a launch and scow, and landed at the Southern Pacific docks. Prof. Golden, of the Marshfield school, was on hand and saw the game. There were no unpleasant features and the North Bend people went home well satisfied with their showing. Marshfield's friends felt that the boys played well but showed lack of practice. The Marshfield students were in the minority as a crowd of rooters, but the few girls who were out to assist in songs and yells kept busy during the entire game. It was considered a first-class game of football, and if North Bend improves as much as she has in the past two weeks, the game on November 17th will have an intense interest for patrons from both cities, and Marshfield will have a hard task on her hands to defeat their opponents.

OTHER FOOTBALL GAMES

Stanford, University, Nov. 2.—Vancouver again went down to defeat before the Stanford varsity this afternoon by a score of 5 to 3. The game was hard fought throughout and neither side had any material advantage.

MARSHFIELD BUSINESS FIRM IS EXPANDING

W. L. Waley, of the Coos Bay B. & U. Co. Takes Partner and Enlarges.

Mr. W. L. Waley, owner of the Coos Bay Bedding & Upholstery Company, has taken into partnership Mr. Hugh C. Brown, of St. Louis, Mo., the new partner putting a large amount of money for the purpose of increasing the facilities and output of the plant. It is intended by the gentlemen interested that the business will at least treble within the next ninety days.

Mr. Waley has succeeded in building up a very nice business and in taking in a partner and increasing the capacity has been actuated solely by a desire to make the business, not only successful but a credit to the city in which it is located. Both these gentlemen have unlimited confidence in Coos Bay and it is Mr. Brown's intention to invest additional capital in our city.

We are gratified to note any improvement and extension of business on the part of enterprises located here and appreciate that the patronage given by our people will encourage their upbuilding, as well as tending to induce other industries to locate here.

COAST DEFENSES ARE VERY STRONG

Columbia River Forts Declared Powerful by Army Expert.

Los Angeles, Nov. 2.—Recently appointed by the president to the post of chief of ordnance department of the Philippines and with orders to take charge of the work of fortifying the island possessions, Major George W. Burr of the ordnance department of the United States army arrived here yesterday. He is en route for Manila and leaves today for San Francisco.

"I know little of the work that has been done or is to be done, but I understand that a complete fortification of Manila and Subig bay adjoining the city of Manila has been mapped out," said Major Burr. "As far as the Pacific coast is concerned," he continued, "there is not the slightest danger. The Puget Sound district has a powerful battery of guns, the Columbia river is strongly fortified with some of the most powerful guns known, and San Francisco is known far and wide for its almost impregnable fortifications."

Thief Breaks His Neck By Fall.

Portland, Nov. 2.—The theft of an ax belonging to the proprietor of a front street lodging house was the final act in the life of an unidentified man who tonight fell down the stairs of the building immediately after his piffling. The fellow's neck was broken and he died instantly. The body, with the stolen ax beside it, was found a few minutes later at the bottom of the stairs.

The Compeer, Bertie Minor and Annie Larsen are loading at the Southern Pacific docks with lumber for the south.

NEWS OF NORTH BEND

Doings as Recorded by Times' Regular Correspondent

Mr. P. S. Clayton was a city visitor Friday.

Mr. C. S. Tigard, of Portland, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Edward H. Fish, of Bandon, is in the city on business.

Mr. T. V. Davis, of Portland, is in the city attending to business matters.

Mrs. Fisher, of Portland, is in the city calling on friends. She will stay here indefinitely.

Mr. Fred T. Marsh, of San Francisco, was a business visitor Friday. He will return on the Plant.

Mr. Esterbrook is on the bay looking after his interests. His schooner Bandon is loading lumber from the wharf of the North Bend Lumber company.

Mr. Amos Ruines, who has been building a large barn on Coos River for Mr. Geo. Ross, was in the city Saturday. He will return to his work Monday.

Mr. Cody, of Bandon, was in the city yesterday attending to business matters. Mr. Cody has his large mill in operation on the Coquille river, which he recently built and the new machinery is all running smoothly.

Mr. and Mrs. Esterbrook, of San Francisco, who have been in the city the past week, will return to San Francisco on their schooner Bandon. The Bandon finished loading lumber from the different wharves Saturday evening and will sail this morning.

A large number of people from North Bend witnessed the football game between Marshfield and North Bend Saturday afternoon. North Bend was defeated by a score of 11 to 0. Our boys played a very fast game from start to finish, but as Marshfield's team is much the heavier we could not expect to win.

Mr. Henry Stopp, of Portland, arrived on the bay last Friday to seek work for himself and forty men who are now in Portland awaiting his instructions in regard to the labor situation on Coos Bay. Mr. Stopp was here but a few hours when he ordered his men to come to North Bend that he had positions for them all in the different mills here. We need forty more from all reports.

Miss Estelle Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Jacobs, of Eugene, died in Portland on October 29th. Miss Jacobs was a sister of Mrs. Maud Frey, of this city, and made her home here nearly a year with Mrs. Frey. She had many friends and acquaintances here. The funeral took place at the Dunning-McEntee chapel October 31, at 8:45 a. m. Interment at Riverview cemetery, Portland.

WOMAN'S SCALP TORN FROM HEAD

Her Hair Catches in Machinery and a Painful Accident Results.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Gorgonia Garcia, an employe of the Mendoza & Reveles restaurant at 2914 Fulton street, was frightfully injured yesterday morning by having her entire scalp torn off. The accident happened in a shed at the rear of the restaurant, where a corn grinding machine was in operation. While stooping to remove some of the corn Miss Garcia's hair became caught in the swiftly revolving machinery. Her screams for help brought several people to the scene, but before the motor could be stopped her scalp was torn from her head and left hanging on the revolving wheel.

She was rushed to the Central Emergency hospital, but, beyond relieving the pain, it was impossible to do anything for her. Owing to the fact that the skull had been stripped of all flesh it was impossible to graft the scalp back on, and the unfortunate woman will be compelled to carry the scars of her accident through the remainder of her life. After being treated at the Central Emergency hospital she was removed to the University hospital at the Affiliated Colleges.

Miss Garcia is 65 years of age and lives with friends at Hinkley alley.

NURSE LAYS DOWN LIFE FOR PATIENT

Sublime and Fatal Devotion of Genevieve Brown, Spokane Nurse.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 2.—Miss Genevieve Brown, a pretty nurse, aged 23, died of typhoid today at St. Luke's hospital. She contracted the malady at Hunters, Washington, while attending a typhoid patient. She graduated recently from the nurses' training school at Great Falls, Montana, at the head of her class. She came here a month ago to begin work and took the typhoid case at Hunters. To reach there it was necessary to travel 25 miles by stage. On this journey she caught cold. Though then in good health, save for the cold, she soon contracted typhoid but stayed until the patient recovered. She returned to Spokane where she was met by her only relative, her sister.

The patient at Hunters was a youth of 17. Her efforts to save him were so faithful that the father came all the way here to help care for her.

W. W. Hills, of Tull & Gibbs, Portland, is in Marshfield to figure on the decorations for the Millicoma Club's new quarters.

A. H. Powers is building a barn on his lots on Balnes street, where he has a new home about completed.

LIKE THE STORY OF ENOCH ARDEN

Husband and Wife Meet Again After Separation of Years.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Separated thirty-two years, the wife having gone east and married again after hearing that her husband had been killed in a mine explosion in Arizona, the husband baffled in his earlier quest and reconciled to the thought that his wife had died, a family reunion was effected in San Francisco Monday, when Walter English came down here from Oregon and met his long-mourned wife and their three grown sons.

Back of this more than Enoch Arden romance are two stories of strangely similar and yet dissimilar nature. They were a young couple when circumstances separated them a third of a century ago, but now in the afternoon of their lives they have been reunited without even the cloud of the wife's second marriage, for her second husband has been dead some years.

The mother has been living here in San Francisco, in the Mission district, for some time, and one of her three sons is employed by the United railroads. Not long ago a fortune teller, it is said, informed the mother that her first husband had not been killed, as generally supposed, but was alive and well and, unconscious of her existence, was living somewhere in Oregon. This peculiar vision of the future is said to have developed into a search for Walter English in Oregon, with the result that such a man was found and, after an exchange of letters, proved to be the long-lost first husband.

It was with more than the ordinary excitement that the two sons went with their mother to the Oakland pier Monday to meet the father they could scarce remember having seen, and the mother to rediscover the man she had first called husband.

SAILORS RESCUED FROM DERELICT

Schooner Anglo-Saxon Is Driven Ashore Near Nome and Crew Nearly Perish.

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 2.—In one of the fiercest gales which has prevailed here for three days past, the steel schooner Anglo Saxon of San Francisco was driven ashore on a reef at Sinrock and totally destroyed. Captain Isaacs and his crew of thirteen men clung to the rigging for 24 hours, finally being rescued by the life-saving crew after a terrible struggle with the elements. The sailors were encased in ice and nearly frozen to death but were brought to shore safely.

Some cheap curiosity hunter cut claws from Clay Moore's fine mounted panther Friday night.

NEW YORK BANKS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Feeling in East is Much Better and Imports of Gold Will Set All Aright.

New York, Nov. 2.—The financial week came to an end without any notable developments. The stock exchange was comparatively steady the day with little action. Runs upon banking houses seem practically at an end and few important conferences were held by financiers. The decline in the reserves of the New York clearing house banks was heavier than in any of the recent excitement but will be covered by arrivals of gold next week. The actual loss in cash is about $30,000,000 which reduced reserves on hand to about $225,000,000. All engagement of gold for import, now totals $29,150,000. If all these amounts should go into the reserves of the clearing house's banks, it would practically restore their supply of cash lost during the past week. Even the divergence of a large amount to other cities will still leave the bulk of gold arriving to go into the New York banks and it will result in an increase in the reserve being shown next week. Reports from various parts of the country indicate the system of meeting payrolls by check instead of currency is being largely adopted without any essential inconvenience to wage earners.

HONEYMOON NOT ENTIRELY JOY

Lieutenant Nevin and Bride Are Separated by Red Tape Officialdom.

Honolulu, Nov. 2.—The part of Lieutenant and Mrs. Nevin's honeymoon which was spent on Midway was short. Mrs. Nevin returned from the lonesome island yesterday by the steam schooner Florence Ward. She will await her husband here, as his stay at Midway now is short.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Nevin were married just after he received his orders to proceed to Midway to take command of the detachment of marines there. Mrs. Nevin decided to go along with her husband. A honeymoon spent in the lonesome spot in the world would be romantic. But an unromantic Navy Department stood in the way. Lieutenant Nevin applied to the Navy Department for permission for his wife to accompany him on a naval vessel on which he had orders to go. This was refused, the wives of officers not being allowed to travel on naval vessels. Then he got permission to come as far as Honolulu on a transport. From here he went to Midway about a year ago on the Annapolis. She remained here for several months awaiting an opportunity to join her husband. Finally she was able to secure passage by the Iwalani, a small steamer sent from here to Midway by the cable company.

Her husband's service at that post will expire soon. There was no certainty that any other opportunity for her to get away would offer itself before her husband was ordered away. Hence she took the opportunity offered by the Florence Ward, a steam schooner owned by the cable company. She will await her husband in Honolulu.

SECOND BLOWOUT OF PAYETTE GAS

Oil and Water Thrown 200 Feet—Gas to Light the Town.

Payette, Ida., Nov. 1.—Another blowout, the second to occur from the oil well being drilled here by the Oregon Oil & Gas company, has occurred, and there now is enough gas in the well to supply every house in the city. It will be piped to the city as soon as the company can accomplish the work.

The blowout was similar to the first one, which occurred October 18, but was much stronger, and as the tools were out of the well it did not plug up with sand.

Water and oil were thrown more than 200 feet high. Big stones were hurled into the air with great force. After about ten minutes the force began to subside and a plug was driven into the top of the well, which now holds the roaring gas beneath it. Another well will be sunk as soon as possible with the intention of going considerably deeper than the first well, which is 725 feet deep. It is expected that a vast flow of oil will be tapped.

FLYNN A MARK FOR JOHNSON

Colored Pugilist Disposes of Colorado Man After Eleven Good Rounds.

WILL NOW FIGHT BURNS

Johnson Left the Ring Without a Mark—Sullivan and Kauffman To Fight.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—"You're a clever nigger," were the last words uttered by Jim Flynn, the Colorado fireman, in his scheduled 45 round contest with Jack Johnson, colored heavy weight at Colma this afternoon. A straight right flush to the jaw, cut off further speech and Flynn toppled to the floor completely out. The finishing blow was delivered in the 11th round and it took fully four minutes to reinstate the defeated pugilist. Throughout the contest, Johnson toyed with his antagonist as a terror would with a rat. In the initial round he practically closed the Colorado man's left eye, and thereafter made it a target for his unerring left jabs. Johnson landed at will on his man and seemed to have the contest well in hand at all stages. He left the ring without a mark and only once did he receive a telling blow from his opponent. The beginning of the end came in the 10th round. Near the end of this round Flynn slipped to the mat from the impetus of a misdirected punch. He was so quickly and as he rushed in, Johnson clipped him in the pit of the stomach with a short arm uppercut. Flynn dropped to the floor and was carried to his corner, the gong saving him temporarily. In the 11th, Johnson taunted his man and forced him into close quarters. Then Johnson, backing away, shot a wicked straight, flush to the jaw and Flynn sank to the floor utterly helpless and completely knocked out. Billy Roche, the referee, said, "Johnson is a better man and outclassed Flynn in every department of the boxing game."

Arrangements will at once be made to match Johnson and Tommy Burns for the heavy weight championship of the world. In the preliminary today, "Denver" Ed. Martin got the decision over "Spike" Kennedy in the sixth. After the preliminary, and before the main event, Jack "Twin" Sullivan issued a challenge to Al. Kauffman; the latter being at the ringside, announced his acceptance.

EMMETT DALTON GETS PARDON FROM HOCH

Famous Bandit Will Spend Rest of Life With His Aged Mother.

Topeka, Nov. 2.—Governor Hoch today issued a pardon to Emmett Dalton, who had been in prison for the Coffeyville bank robbery in 1892. The governor called Dalton to his office by telephone and while talking to him, the lights suddenly went out, leaving the room in darkness. The governor finished talking to Dalton, ending by handing him the pardon. Dalton thanked the governor and then said: "There is someone in Kingsfisher who will be glad to hear of this." He was referring to his aged mother. Dalton did not state what he intends to do.

Note—The above dispatch has exhaustive article was published some time ago in the Times, being an interview from William Grimes, who was United States marshal in Oklahoma during the days of the Dalton gang. Mr. Grimes was well acquainted with the highwaymen, and with the mother who always confided in him and frequently came to him for advice regarding her sons. This summer he received a letter from Mrs. Dalton seeking his aid in freeing her son Emmett, and now that the pardon has been granted, the mother will feel that the greatest hope of her life has been fulfilled.

More Holidays Coming.

Portland, Nov. 2.—Gov. Chamberlain tonight issued a proclamation designating Monday, November 4, a legal holiday in this state. Chamberlain says he will declare each consecutive day a holiday until the present money famine is over.
