WOODMEN MAY BUY PENDLETON BONDS

Pendleton, Or., Nov. 5.—The board of head managers of the Woodmen of the World is investigating the proposition of buying a large block of Pendleton city bonds, which are now offered for sale to the highest bidder. John Patterson, mayor of Colfax, and a leading attorney of that city, who is a member of the board of managers of the Woodmen of the World, has been in the city investigating the matter and will make a favorable report at Denver, where the managers of the order will meet next week.
 The amount of bonds to be disposed of is $135,000 and Mr. Patterson says the order will take from $75,000 to $100,000 of them.

To Whom It May Concern:

A WONDERFUL LAKE.

How Its Yield Benefits the Rural Residents as Well as the City Dwellers.

(The Pacific Northwest.)

Trinidad Asphalt Lake, down in the British West Indies, is one of the most remarkable and interesting formations ever wrought by Dame Nature. It is called the eighth wonder of the world.

The bed of the lake is evidently the bowl-shaped depression about half a mile in diameter.

Instead of being filled with water this natural receptacle contains a mass of black viscous material—natural asphalt.

Probably the first questions you are likely to ask are: How did it get there? Where does it come from?

This lake is fed like many lakes of water by subterranean springs, but these springs, instead of giving forth water are the media through which the asphalt comes up from the interior of the earth, whose "internal workings" are responsible for the production of this peculiar material which has proven so useful to civilization.

The Barber Asphalt Paving Company, Philadelphia, was among the first to recognize the immense commercial value of asphalt and after making repeated tests of this material were so impressed with the quality of asphalt yielded by Trinidad Lake that they secured control of its output and have been bringing this product to the United States for many years and adapting it to the use of modern civilization.

One of the most important uses to which they have put it is to make a water proofing roofing that defies the storms, heat, cold and every other weather condition. This is called Genasco Ready Roofing. It doesn't leak, and thus has the advantage over shingles which warp and rot; tin, which pits and rusts; and the coal-tar roofings, which crack and go to pieces.

Genasco is adapted for every building on the farm, from your own residence down to the chicken house—and if you cover the chicken house all over with Genasco it keeps it mighty warm in winter.

Any handy man about the farm can lay Genasco Ready Roofing. This saves the expense of an experienced roofer, and gives lasting protection, so that there is considerable saving every way.

LOW TEMPERATURE AT GREAT HEIGHTS

Interesting Facts Recorded by Experimenter With Small Balloon.

New York, Nov. 4.—That a balloon has reached a height of 46,680 feet and there recorded a temperature of 111 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, was one of the statements made in the course of an address at the last day's discussion of the Aeronautical Congress here by Professor A. Lawrence Rotch, of the Blue Hill Observatory, Boston.

Professor Rotch told of his long series of experiments with miniature balloons for the purpose of testing currents and securing temperatures at high altitudes. The balloons are made of rubber and carry special instruments for recording distance traveled, altitude and temperature, which are attached to a parachute. When at a great height, the hydrogen with which the balloons are filled expands to an extent where the balloon itself explodes, and the parachutes carrying the instruments and the records made on the trip float down to earth.

Railroads Deny Charge.

Portland, Nov. 4.—Railroads deny the charges of the Portland clearing house association, that they are compelling payment of freight and other bills in coin and sending the coin to New York. The railroads say they are using the coin to pay off in cash the thousands of men flocking to Portland and who have been discharged from various railroad improvements.
