BANDON NOTES

Bandon, Nov. 14.—A. J. Hartman has commenced a new warehouse at the rear of his concrete store building to be 25x30 feet.

C. H. Chandler returned yesterday from the bay. He was compelled to quit his work there on account of a large tumor on his hand.

A. R. Whitney informed the city authorities that he had been set upon and assaulted by three men with knives last Tuesday night, exhibiting many slashes in his hands and slight wounds on the surface of his skin. The alleged assailants escaped. The police are investigating the facts.

The Price shipyard is working on the first vessel since rebuilding the yard. She is well under way with keel laid and framing partly finished. J. H. Price, head of the concern, returned from San Francisco yesterday.

her 16th birthday last night. The Miss Ethel Timmons celebrated occasion was marked by an exceedingly good time and the young lady received many beautiful presents including several pieces of hand painted china.

Business is progressing as usual in Bandon in spite of the holidays with a few exceptions. A. D. Morse reports a real estate transaction of considerable importance held up for and order confirming sale by the county court of Umatilla county. Attorneys Trudgold, Wheeler and Wade each have proceedings in the justice court obstructed by the holidays. Justice Topping has delayed several criminal matters because of his doubt as to the proper procedure and it is understood that operation of the mills dependent on San Francisco exchange will be rendered impossible after another week unless employees will agree to accept time checks; however the feeling here is so characterized by prosperity and general optimism that all contemplate a near change for the better and none are waiting for the crash.

Marshal Lundy stated that he was about the streets as usual during the evening, and in making his rounds noticed these three men acting as if they were disposed to cause trouble. He ordered them to leave town at once. At first they seemed disposed to obey the order, but later again made their appearance upon the streets. This time the marshal thought best to take them in and therefore started in pursuit of the trio. He overtook them after a short chase and started for the City Jail to keep them out of mischief until this morning.

When near the jail one of the men suddenly showed fight and succeeded in getting away from the officer. He ran to the middle of the street and placed his hand upon his hip pocket as if to draw his gun. Mr. Lundy, not liking this move, brought forth his own gun and with one shot wounded the man to such an extent that he died a few minutes later.

The remains were taken to the City Jail, where they are awaiting disposition.

The two companions of the dead man will be held until Sheriff McClallen can make arrangements to remove them to this city. When questioned as to their whereabouts of late the men stated that they were on the road looking for a position. They are hard-looking characters and little credence is given their story, the officers believing that they are yegg men traveling through the country with an idea of robbing.

Sheriff McClallen was notified of the occurrence at an early hour this morning and leaves today for the scene. It is quite probable that the pals of the dead man will be detained until their records can be looked up. The townspeople at Yoncalla were much excited this morning when they learned of the tragedy, many expressing themselves as pleased with the work of the officer.

Yoncalla, like other towns throughout the state, has been overrun of late with hoboes. The local justice of the peace at Yoncalla was ordered by Coroner Hammitte to make an investigation, which he did, and no blame has been attached to the officer who shot the man. The victim has as yet not been identified.

A. H. Eddy has been busy since coming to town. New cottage designs.

DRANK BLOOD OF ALLEGED WITCH

Shocking Case of Superstition That Occurred Recently in Poland.

London, Nov. 13.—Incredible though it may seem, the power of witchcraft still holds sway among Polish peasants, and those within an hour's journey of Warsaw and eleven hours of Berlin. The following incident, worthy of the middle ages, occurred at the village of Wieliszew, in the government of Warsaw. A peasant named Jan Zbroh had a grudge against a neighbor, Josephine Ziolkow, and determined to vent his anger upon her. He took his daughter Marya in a life's confidence. One morning Marya did not appear in the fields as usual. Her father said, in answer to inquiries, that she was ill. The neighbors went to visit the girl, who told them that while she was milking the cows on the preceding evening Josephine had bewitched her in such a way that she had not the least strength left, and could not raise from her bed. "But," she added, "I feel that I shall be well if I drink some of the witch's blood."

The news had spread through the village like wildfire, and a crowd of angry peasants now gathered around the unhappy Josephine and beat her till she lost consciousness, and taking the blood that ran from her nose and ears and gave it to Marya to drink. The girl, as soon as she had swallowed it, declared that she was cured, got up, and went to work.

The victim, more dead than alive, sent for the priest, who communicated with the police. The two chief offenders have been arrested, but none of the peasants who beat the woman can be persuaded that he has not done the village a good turn by punishing the witch.

Cold Day for Suffragists.

Topeka, Nov. 14.—Scarcely half a dozen women delegates are in Topeka today to attend a meeting of Kansas Equal Suffragists scheduled for today and tomorrow. So discouragingly small is the attendance that it is said the meeting will not last over the day. The purpose of the meeting is to form an organization for the purpose of electing members of the legislature pledged to give the women unrestricted rights of suffrage.
