

FOR RELIEF OF TROUBLE

President Roosevelt Places Fifty Million In Panama Bonds on Market and $100,000,000 in Certificates.

New York, Nov. 18.—Satisfaction was general today in banking circles because of the government's plan of relief to the market by the issue of $50,000,000 in Panama bonds and $100,000,000 in one year treasury certificates.

So strong was this feeling that it was understood that gold engagements would practically cease after today. School 25 yard line. With the ball in their possession, the High School made a criss-cross play and gave Wieder the ball. The Independents had massed on the wrong end, and Wieder had an easy time going through the other end. He got away clean, and sprinted down the field with no one in front of him but Jimmy Cowan. The excitement of the crowd was at fever heat and all wondered if Cowan would stop him. He had got about 50 yards when Cowan attempted the tackle, and failed to land his man. Wieder carried the ball across and directly behind the goal. It was brought out and Rasmussen kicked goal. The run which netted the touchdown was 85 yards and is an unusual sprint in a football game. The ball was put in play again and at the end of the first half was on the ten yard line of the High School, in the High School's possession.

Bernitt, for the Independents, got away through the line in the first half and looked to be dangerously near to a touchdown for his team but Rasmussen got him after he had covered 25 yards.

The second half was as interesting as the first, except that there was no score until near the close. The Independents had forced the ball down to the ten yard line of the High School, when they lost it on downs. The Highs made two attempts at linebucking, but did not make the yardage. It was decided to punt, and Rasmussen stepped back for the kick. Bolt, the High center, passed the ball over his head and out of reach and it fell behind the goal post. Both teams ran back but nobody seemed to know what to do with the ball and it lay on the ground for some time, when one of the Independents grabbed Olson and threw him on the sphere, thus making safety against the High School. He the Independent fallen on the ball himself, it would have counted a touchdown, and the score would likely have been a tie, as there was more scoring. The High School to a great deal of ground through sticking to line-bucking when they had failed on downs, instead of punting and thus gaining ground which they needed badly at times.
