Bankers Want Money Paid for Purchase of Certificates Left on Deposit.

GOLD GOING TO INTERIOR

Distribution of Coin for Relief of Country Is Becoming Heavier Each Day.

New York, Nov. 20.—The government's issue of $100,000,000 in treasury certificates continues to engross the attention of New York bankers, who apparently have not reached a definite decision on the course they will pursue. Subscriptions so far received at the local sub-treasury indicates that the larger banks are temporarily holding back offers of purchases. This fact has led to a more or less definite report that the needs of the larger institutions are desirous of obtaining some sort of assurance from Washington that money paid out here for the purchase of new securities will be left on deposit with local institutions. The currency premium varied between 2 1/2 and 3 during most of today's negotiations. With the price of money ruling at these figures it was said that bankers could not see their way clear to purchase certificates under any other arrangements. Money shipments from New York to the interior have been quite heavy recently and the banks are anxious to continue this means of assistance to the general situation. There has been absolutely no organization to buy the forthcoming certificates such as has been intimated since Monday, unless it be the fact that several large loans were called in today. Some of the New York bankers are said to be holding back in the matter of subscriptions so as to induce the small investor who has hoarded his money to bring his amount from hiding.

Administration Pleased.
Washington, Nov. 20.—Offers for the new Panama canal bonds and the one year treasury certificates continue to come to the treasury today, but no official announcement was made regarding the amount. Reports were received by telegraph from assistant treasurers at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco of the amount subscribed. The figures were said to be very satisfactory to the treasury officials.

Slater, Salem; Charles W. Carter, Pendleton.

WORK STOPPED ON ROAD TO EUREKA

Captain Payson Receives and Issues Orders to Drop Construction.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—All work has been ordered stopped on the railroad to Eureka. Such was the announcement made yesterday by Captain A. H. Payson, President of the Northwestern Pacific. He received telegraphic instructions yesterday from the east, from financial headquarters of the Santa Fe and the Harriman lines, the joint owners of the road, to discontinue all construction.

The operations immediately affected consists of a six-mile stretch of road being built from near Pepperwood southward to the Eel river, with an intervening big tunnel through a ridge forming an abrupt bend in the river.

Editor of Astorian in Town.

J. S. Dellinger, publisher of the Morning Astorian, of Astoria, is in Coos county for the purpose of seeing the country and spending a week among our people. Mr. Dellinger is making a big success of the publishing business and yesterday dropped around to call on the Times editor, and discuss matters of interest to the craft. He came on the Alliance and says the trip is going to prove a novelty.

Mickey's Business Growing.

—Because Mr. G. E. Mickey, the North Bend merchant advertises second hand goods, is no sign the customer should think that is the only class of goods he handles. He has just received a large shipment of the latest styles in new furniture, among which are some fine Christmas novelties, office desks, and library tables. He has constantly on hand a full line of second hand furnishings and can suit the buyer to a nicety. Within the past few days his second hand stock has been materially increased and the buyer is able to find choice selections. He makes a specialty of heating and cooking stoves and carries a line equal to that of any on the bay. Mr. Mickey was seen in his store and questioned as to his satisfaction with the returns since he has opened in North Bend. He said he knew the second hand business well, but the business that has developed in that city has surprised him.

FOUND WITH THROAT CUT

Jacob Lutz Wanders for Three Days. Too Weak to Tell Story.

Seattle, Nov. 20.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance from his home at Youngtown, November 14, of Jacob Lutz, and iron molder, was partially cleared up today when he was found wandering in the vicinity of Oxbow, a suburb of this city, with his throat cut so badly that it is the wonder of the physician who is attending him that he is alive.

Lutz is so weak that he cannot tell as yet the story of his wanderings. It is not known whether he was the victim of his own act or a murderous assault. Lutz disappeared after making an attempt to kill his wife and three children with an ax according to the wife's statement. They fled and the home was found in flames and the walls of the room spattered with blood.

TERRIBLE DEATH ON REVOLVING BUZZ SAW

The Oregon Journal Gives the Following Account of an Accident Which Happened in Portland.

"Shrieking in anguish as a whirling circular saw cut its way with lightning swiftness from his neck to his hip, William Warner was instantly killed while operating a saw at Archer Place this morning at 9 o'clock. Warner had noticed a defect in the operation of his machinery and stepped upon the hub of the wheel to adjust it, when his foot slipped and he fell to his death.

"Both hands were severed close to the wrists and the man's body was terribly mutilated as the saw continued on its flight. Warner's entire right side was cut out.

"Warner was 28 years of age and was in the employ of H. B. Clausen. The men were sawing wood at the residence of A. Miland when the accident occurred. Mr. Clausen had stepped away for a few moments and returned just in time to see the unfortunate man killed.

"Warner was a popular young man in the neighborhood and was prominent in the Baptist church, where he played a cornet. His father and mother are respected residents of the community and the father met with an accident last year while operating a wood saw, in which he lost a hand.

"Coroner Finley was notified of the accident and took charge of the remains. No inquest will be held, as the man's death was plainly accidental."

JURY WILL SOON HAVE ADAMS CASE

Defendant's Evidence Closed and Arguments Should Commence Today—Had Poor Memory.

Spokane, Nov. 20.—A special to the Spokesman-Review from Rathdrum, says that after being on the witness stand almost constantly since Tuesday morning, Steve Adams stepped down this afternoon. Clarence Darrow, for the defense, said his side would finish within half an hour tomorrow morning. The state's rebuttal will not take long and it is possible the arguments will begin tomorrow. In this event, the jury will have the case by Saturday night. Prosecutor Hawley had Adams in hand all day. He said his memory was bad when pinned down on date or incident and like a number of those who testified for him, crouched behind "I don't remember." The cross-examination was far more severe and much longer than in the previous trial.

Mothers' Club.

The meeting of the Mothers' Club last Friday was well attended.

It was very gratifying to note several new faces, as it indicates that the club is becoming better known and greater interest is being felt. The subject, "Home Making" was quite ably discussed. Mrs. Hall read several verses from the Bible that touched on the home life, and also read a very pretty poem entitled, "Open the Door."

Mrs. Wheeler read an interesting article on the strengthening of homes, followed by a reading along similar lines by Miss Franz.

Mrs. Reeder also had something practical on decorating the walls of the home; showing that the walls of our home should not only be artistic to the eye but sanitary as well.

Mrs. Sweetman read a short article on the literature to be found in the home.

Mrs. Jones also read something regarding the home life of the Roosevelts.

The regular meeting of the club will be held Friday, Nov. 22, at 3 o'clock at the Baptist church.

The subject being, "How to Preserve the Unity of the Home." Everyone is welcome.

Ruby Sands.

In a certain locality, upon a high plateau not far from Marshfield, a tremendous deposit of ruby sand has been discovered. The area covers about half a section of land, the depth of the deposit is over twenty feet and the bottom has not been struck yet.

Value of sand—$35 and over per ton.

The finder is about to secure by bonding the best part of the land and expects to make money enough to place all the banks in the U. S. on a sound basis shortly.

ANGRY SEA LASHES SHIP

Tale Rivaling Story of Ancient Mariner Told by Crew of French Kerviler on Arrival.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 20.—A tale rivaling that related by Coleridge's "Ancient Mariner" was told by the crew of the French bark Rene Kerviler, which arrived here today from Hamburg.

Off the Tasmanian coast the Kerviler was becalmed and one of the sailors shot an albatross. Two days later the bark was in a terrific storm, during which the master, Captain Dennis, was washed about the deck suffering broken ribs and other injuries which kept him in his bunk for nearly three weeks.

The storm lasted 15 days, and while it raged four men were required to run the wheel. There were times when the men talked of throwing the carcass of the bird and the man who shot it overboard, but when the boat came into port the carcass was lashed to the foremast.

EUGENE BANKS PUT OUT CERTIFICATES

The new clearing house certificates issued by the Eugene clearing house association were placed in circulation this morning and before the day was over quite a few of them were seen on the streets and in the stores. The Guard, at several different times during last week, spoke of the intention of the local association to issue these certificates and at a meeting Saturday night final action was taken in the matter. While in Portland one day last week, President S. S. Spencer, of the Merchants' bank, had $10,000 worth of the certificates printed and brought them up with him. They are in $1, $2, $5, and $10 denominations and are better looking than either the San Francisco or Portland certificates, which have been in circulation here for the past week or ten days.

County Clerk Lee has been named as trustee by the clearing house association to hold the securities to back the certificates. Each bank agrees to redeem the certificates at any time after March 1, 1908.—Guard.

HOLIDAYS LAST ANOTHER WEEK

Governor Wants to Give Banks Every Chance to Fortify Themselves.

Salem, Nov. 20.—While fully satisfied that the financial situation in the state of Oregon is very much improved, in fact, almost restored to normal conditions, and that the banks of the state are in fair condition to handle the situation even at this time, Governor Chamberlain proclaimed a continuation of the holiday season for the entire week.

The governor says whatever panicky feeling existed a few weeks ago because of a lack of understanding of the true situation, has practically subsided, and believes that if the holidays should be discontinued at this time there would be no excitement, but thinks the banks should be given another week in which to thoroughly fortify themselves and convince the people that there was no cause for alarm.

EPIDEMIC OF SELF-DESTRUCTION STRIKES TOWN.

One Man Accidentally Kills Himself, Another Makes Attempt and Third Saved From Drowning.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—One man dead from a rifle shot wound, self-inflicted, but accidental, and two attempts by other men to destroy their lives, is a record of two days in Grand Forks, B. C., and vicinity.

Arthur Langford, while out deer hunting, leaned on the barrel of his rifle. The gun was discharged, and the bullet went through his stomach. Langford died Friday before medical assistance could be given him.

George Elliott cut his throat Friday with a jackknife and immediately thereafter jumped into Kettle river. The water proved to be too cold and he swam out. His wound will not prove fatal.

Another attempt to end his life by drowning was made Saturday by a man named Clancy, who also jumped into Kettle river. Clancy was rescued.
