

NOVEMBER HARBOR RECORD

The following report of the customs collector shows the arrivals and departures of ships which have entered Coos Bay during the month of November. The list is shorter than usual this month, owing probably, to the falling off in lumber shipments.

TIMES ARE GOOD ON COOS BAY

Marshfield Merchants Unanimous in Their Expressions of Increasing Business.

FLURRY ONLY TEMPORARY

Plenty of Evidence That the Holidays Will Be Busy and Happy Ones.

The Only Effect Noticeable Was Traced to the Uncertainty Created by News From Outside—Is All Over Now.

There is no denying the fact that there was some small falling off in business on Coos Bay for a time, though the slump was not great. Still, it was noticeable, and the merchants for a time wondered just how far the depression would go. The general effect for probably two weeks was not bright. But within the past few days, there has been a pleasing revival, and most of the merchants are now doing the usual amount of business and some even more than ever before. There is a unanimous feeling that things are soon to resume normal conditions.

A. M. PRENTIS said that a week ago he believed there was going to be a season of depression, but lately things had picked up wonderfully and he is doing a fine business.

JOHN MERCHANT, of Merchant Brothers: "Our firm has been doing a good business through the past flurry and the past few days has seen an increase."

ALBERT MATSON, of Magnes & Matson, was greatly pleased with the revival and stated that he drew his optimistic conclusions from his Saturday trade. Saturday trade, according to Mr. Matson, averages in ordinary times within 20 per cent, one day with another. During the pinch it had fluctuated greatly, but last Saturday it had come back to its usual volume and run some higher.

E. K. JONES, of the Pioneer Hardware, said the store had done a larger business yesterday than it had since the company had been organized. He added that there was one thing about the scare which he had observed; that the payment of bills had not been interrupted and there had been no excuses offered about hard times, and no money with which to liquidate.

MR. PARSONS, of the Lockhart-Parsons Drug company, said he had no reason to complain, and that business had been up to the ordinary right along.

MR. TOWER, the jeweler, said he had never complained, and that business was good at all times. He thought, however, that when the governor's holidays are ended there will be a greater freedom in buying. Mr. McArthur was too busy to say much, but he was satisfied and happy.

S. LANDO, was seen and he was greatly pleased with the business of the past four days.

MR. HANSEN, of Norton & Hansen, news stand, said he had been too busy to see any change at all, and there had been none in his business, though just now it is increasing.

MR. BOLT gave evidence to the effect that the past three or four days had witnessed more business in his store.

GEORGE GOODRUM, who has been doing a gents furnishing business for a short time, said he had been doing well ever since he had opened, the 15th of November, and that he had as good a day yesterday as on Saturday. He is well satisfied with the outlook.

MR. PREUSS, druggist and stationery, had observed some temporary depression, but said present business was as good as usual.
