THE NAME.

The total vote which was cast on the question of naming the proposed new city on Coos Bay was six hundred and thirty-eight. Of these votes the name Empire received a very pronounced majority, its vote aggregating three hundred and seventyive. The vote of Coos Bay, of Coosmay and Coos, was one hundred and

Those who voted were therefore mostly interested in the name Empire and in all probability the name Empire will be carefully considered by any committee which may hereafter be charged with the selection of a name for the cities on Coos Bay.

The proposition to take this vote was suggested to The Times by interested citizens. They evidently thought it was time to learn what Coos Bay people desired. The schools and the families were all expected to take part and the polls were held open for three weeks to enable them to show their sentiment. It is that the hour for consolidation for into court and tried. any purpose is still remote. The greater City of Coos Bay is not yet try the Binger Hermannn and John in sight.
