

MARSHFIELD MINOR MENTIONS.

The season for steelhead salmon fishing opened December 10th.

Mrs. C. W. Tower and daughter were shoppers in North Bend on Friday.

E. R. Hodson, of Coos River, where he has a fine fruit ranch, is a visitor in the city today.

Mrs. Robert McCann, of North Bend, was over on the East Side on a visit Saturday.

N. C. Nelson, of Port Orford, is visiting friends in the city and stopping at the Blanco hotel.

The regular term of circuit court scheduled to convene December 9 did not materialize on account of the holidays.

Invitations are out for a grand ball, to be given in I. O. F. hall, on December 17 by Mascot Lodge No. 5, D. of H. of A. O. U. W..

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Doyle, of McCleod, Cal., arrived in the city on the noon train yesterday and will spend a few days visiting friends at this point.

J. J. Clinkenbeard, a well known fruit grower of Coos River, was a visitor in Marshfield yesterday and attended the chamber of commerce meeting last night.

Aunt Sarah Bonebrake, so lovingly called by her numerous friends on the Bay, was down from Ross Inlet to North Bend recently. She was the guest of Mrs. Joe Hodson for the past week.

The roof of the Douglas building, which was damaged by storm several weeks ago, was repaired yesterday, and Architect Coddling will now not have to explain to the chamber of commerce on the ground floor why he failed to stop the water from passing through his office above, causing Secretary Lyon to feel that he could not keep out from in under the rain.

Eighteen passengers were brought to Marshfield and North Bend by the gasoline launch Gasco yesterday afternoon from Jarvis Landing where they were carried by the stage line from Drain by way of Gardiner and the Umpqua river. The number of travelers and the amount of baggage necessitated the use of two carryalls along the beach, as this appears to be the only feasible route from the north at present.

Mrs. Dave Gulovson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. Gulovson, of South Marshfield since October, will leave on the next steamer with her daughter Miss Agnes for their home at North Albina. Miss Gulovson has been seriously ill for several weeks and had to resign her position in the public school, which is deeply regretted by the entire school. Her many friends hope soon to hear of her recovery.

Miss Blanche Neilson, who has been stenographer for the chamber of commerce for the past six weeks, will resign her position this afternoon and leave next week for Myrtle Point, where she will visit with her uncle, Ira Arneson, while resting from her strenuous labors in answering the numerous letters sent to the boosting organization. Upon her return she may open an office and do stenographic work for the business public.

Colby K. Perry, of Dallas, Texas, arrived on the Plant from San Francisco and will make his home here where he expects to go into business. Mrs. Perry has been in Marshfield for two months as the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. Y. Stafford. Mr. Perry is also a brother in law of J. Montgomery of this city. For a number of years past he has been connected with a big dry goods and house furnishing firm in Dallas. He will be a welcome addition to the citizens of the city.

E. F. Carlton, who arrived here some weeks ago and who has been the guest of his uncle, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Harry Holmes stores in this city and North Bend. He is an experienced bookkeeper and hails from Nebraska, the same state famous William J. Bryan claims as his own. Mr. Carlton has made many friends since his arrival and is decidedly popular among the fair sex judging from the appearance of things. He is a welcome addition to Marshfield's growing population.

Dan Jones, of Berkley, Cal., is a business visitor in the city.

Miss Edyth Gulovson will leave shortly for Portland where she will spend the winter.

William C. Sellmer, of Bandon, arrived in Marshfield today on a business trip.

R.G. Bonell, of Portland, arrived in the city today on a business trip and is a guest at the Blanco hotel.

Alfred Johnson, of Coquille, arrived in Marshfield on the noon train to spend a few days on business and visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Laird arrived in the city on the noon train from Coquille and are stopping at the Blanco hotel.

Messrs. Lockhart and Parsons have donated a stuffed flying squirrel to the chamber of commerce, which is on exhibition in the windows of that organization.

G. W. Shelley will leave on the Plant for San Francisco to confer with the firm which he represents for the next year's business. He will probably not return until after the holidays.

There was a report on the streets today that there was an incipient blaze at the John Elliot residence Friday evening, but Mrs. Elliott said today that if there was she knew nothing of it and that it must have been only another false alarm.

There has been no cessation of the rush of newcomers to Coos Bay and the steamer Plant and the inbound stage have brought over a dozen new arrivals from Nevada, California, and from many of the eastern states. Most of the new arrivals are seeking ranch lands, while a few are looking for employment, with the intention of making this section their future home. Flattering comments are heard on every hand regarding the site here for a great city and seaport, and there is amazement over the manifold resources of the county which are explained by local boosters.

E. L. Hulbert, one of the boat builders employed at the plant of Max Timmerman, had his right hand severely injured this morning while operating a circular saw with which he had just finished shaping some ceiling material for a launch on the ways. In moving a piece of wood into position on the table of the circular saw his right hand came in contact with the quickly revolving steel which made a deep gash on the back of his hand between the middle and third finger. He was attended to by Dr. Mingus who used nine stitches in closing the wound, which will take several days to heal.

W. C. Murdick of this city has donated a sample of eggs produced by his hens, for which he receives seventy-five cents a dozen, to the chamber of Commerce where it is on exhibition. The egg is an average production and measures $8\frac{1}{4}$ inches around lengthwise, and $6\frac{1}{4}$ inches around the middle. Considerable interest is being aroused over the money to be made in eggs produced in Coos County. They bring five cents apiece and yet there are not nearly enough raised for local consumption. One retailer has imported \$4,000 worth of cold storage hen fruit since August 15, and this suggests the opening there is in the chicken ranch business for ranchers and newcomers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hilborn arrived in the city from across the river and are renewing acquaintances with old friends. Mr. Hilborn arrived on the Bay in 1866 and has watched the growth of this section closely from year to year. He said today that he was more enthusiastic than ever over the future prospects of the harbor. He believes that the most important thing to be done toward rapid progress is the deepening of the harbor and the bar so that ships of any size can make this port the same as any other big port. This, he believes, would do more to advertise what Coos Bay has than anything else and the improvements cannot be rushed through too soon. Mr. Hilborn wishes that he had been born fifty years later than he was so that he might have enjoyed the sight of a huge city on the shores of this harbor.

SHOWING IS SELLING

However, if there should happen to be anybody in the crowd that wanted to get the best—yes, just about the very best Heating Stove or range on the market, we would be glad to show you why our line consists of the kind of stoves you are looking for. The advantages of our stoves over the ordinary kind do not lie in any line of talk, but you can readily understand by just examining the inside construction of these stoves, why they will get more heat out of a hod of coal than any stove we know of. Come and see them.
