

MAN WHO LOST ROLL IS FOUND

John McGillivray Who Dropped
$2000 in Street Is Located.

GAVE FINDER ONLY $5

Although it Was Every Cent He Possessed He Pinched On the Man Who Returned It.

John McGillivray, the logger, said to be from Marshfield, who lost a roll containing $2400 on the streets of Portland, has been found. As a result of the publication of the find in the Portland papers John learned of the location of his roll and hastened to secure it. He rewarded the finder with a $5 note. This makes doubtful the story that he is from Marshfield, for Coos Bay men are not usually such tight wads. Here is what a Portland paper says of the affair.

"Kasper K. Kubli Monday afternoon was paid a little more than ten cents an hour for watching a lost wallet containing $2040 diligently since last Saturday evening. The owner of the treasure, John McGillivray, a logger, identified the pocket-book and its contents as his property shortly after the noon hour today, he handed its finder and guardian $5 for his honesty and watchfulness. McGillivray had given up his wallet as lost irrevocably, and was about to return to his place of employment on the Columbia when his attention was drawn to the account of the discovery of the wallet appearing in last Saturday's paper.

McGillivray is 50 years old, and came to Portland to pass the holiday season. He arrived here last Saturday morning, and while on his way to a bank to deposit his wealth dropped the wallet containing every cent he possessed on Stark street, outside the Kubli Stationery & Printing Company. The treasure was picked up a few minutes later by K. Kubli, and the paper were apprised of its discovery.

McGillivray traced his steps after becoming aware of his loss, and getting no trace of his wallet, returned to his room at the International Hotel, where, luckily, he had paid a little in advance. His name was stamped on the wallet, and all the McGillivrays known from Portland to Puyallup were questioned without result in an attempt to locate the owner.

"Mr. McGillivray, who is stopping at the International Hotel, said that while pulling some papers out of his pocket he had lost the money but wasn't able to find it upon looking again."

Personal Notes.

J. L. LYONS, of Bandon, arrived on the noon train from his home.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE FERRY, of Coquille, are visitors in the city today.

ALVON SMITH, of Coos River, was a visitor to friends in this city yesterday.

MR. AND MRS. L. A. WEBSTER, of Empire, were pleasant visitors to friends in this city this morning.

FIGIE, who have been spending a few days in the city as guests at the Blanco hotel, returned on the morning train to Beaver Hill, where they were employed with the coal company.

GEORGE E. PEOPLES, of Coquille, arrived in Marshfield today and states that the river is cleared of logs from Coquille to the Forks. The logs broke past the county seat and are being held by booms at points further down the river, enabling the ferry to operate between Coquille and Myrtle Point.

BANDON PRESIDENTIAL OFFICE
City by the Sea Is Advanced in Postoffice Class.

BANDON, Dec. 30.—The Bandon postoffice has been advanced to presidential rating.

Jack Coach a shingle weaver aged about 50 years died here yesterday from pneumonia. The funeral took place Sunday.

Ben Schuyler is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Y. M. C. A. MEN GATHER AGAIN

Add More to Committees and Hear Commendatory
Talks From Citizens.

Talks by Vice-President Mills, of the local railroad, and William Davenport, the North Bend attorney, were the principal features of the meeting of Y. M. C. A. enthusiasts in the Methodist church yesterday afternoon when Dr. Leslie presided before a gathering of about sixty young men.

Charles H. Lowry, of Marshfield, and Charles Plant, of North Bend, were added to the committee on membership. Reports were heard from members of the committees amid much enthusiasm and they were instructed to keep on with the good work. The most important move from now on is to secure the services of the state organizer at Portland, and to have him decide on the local institution as soon as the various committees have canvassed the field as to the prospects for a permanent Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Mills was heartily in favor of an organization for young men on the bay, as it was his firm conviction it engaged their time in a manner which could not be otherwise than edifying. He said that it produced the best employees to be found, men who could be trusted and who gave their best interests to the business of their employer. Mr. Davenport, speaking from an experience of about eight years in Y. M. C. A. work, said that he believed an organization could be successfully run in this city, and that it would get a good number of members from North Bend. He was enthusiastic over the prospects here and gave a brief outline of what he had known the organization to accomplish.

No special date was set for another meeting, as efforts will be made to hear from the state organizer and then get down to the work of forming an organization. The question of finding a suitable building is one that is being given serious attention by the building committee.

BACK HOME AGAIN

Coos County Wanderers Return to World's Favored Spot.
(From Coquille Herald.)

J. D. Kay arrived home last Monday after a sojourn of some time in San Francisco.

Paul Wilson, son of V. R. Wilson, of this city, returned from Fruitvale, California, where he has been attending school. He will spend the holidays at home.

William Rich, of Newberg, a former resident and merchant in this city, came in yesterday to spend Christmas with his daughters, the Mesdames Chase and Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nosler who left this section some months ago for Mr. Nosler's health, returned Monday from Los Angeles, California, just in time to be here for the holidays with relatives and friends who were exceedingly glad to see them back again. They purchased property in the Imperial valley, but sold it later, and have returned here with the expectation of remaining with us.

Paul Skeels who has been attending school at Salem, returned home for the holidays Monday.

Mrs. Joe Hudson, of this city, who has been absent from home for several months, returned from Los Angeles, California, on Monday. She first visited her daughter, Mrs. Finner, of the valley. Mrs. Tanner, of Montesano, Washington, before going to Los Angeles.

Mrs. L. H. Hazard arrived home Monday from La Canada, California, where she had spent several months with her little son, Austin, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Hacker. Her many friends were glad to see her home again.

James Richardson, of Parkersburg, who spent the summer and fall in the Willamette valley, Tillamook and other parts of Oregon, returned last Friday.

Andrew Perkins arrived in town Friday from Blaine, Washington, where he has been for some time in the employment of Ainsworth & Dunn, salmon packers, and will visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perkins, and other relatives and many friends of the county. He is looking well.

D. W. Baker, of Lee, who accompanied E. D. Myers and Web Mast on their trip east during which they visited most of the principal cities of the country from Niagara Falls to San Francisco, returned Monday, having parted company with them and taken up with one of the fairer

BIG GAME ON NEW YEAR'S

Marshfield and North Bend Ex-
College Players Are Out
For Blood.

What is expected to be the hardest fought and most interesting game of football ever played on Coos Bay will be pulled off on the North Bend grounds on New Year's day. The game will be called sharply at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and arrangements have been made to carry a large crowd over from this city in special boats. The best players in North Bend and Marshfield will be pitted against each other in the field in this big contest.

The men forming both teams are mostly college men, nearly all of whom have played important positions in their respective elevens. While most of them are in business either in Marshfield or North Bend, their university days are not far enough away to interfere with good work in the field.

Bert Dimmick, captain of the Marshfield eleven, stated last night that the team was in good shape and that practice would be held in the skating rink every night until the day of the match One day before the contest will be given over to field practice. He asserts that the North Bend team has been greatly strengthened since Thanksgiving day, and that the contest will be closely fought. The lineup is as follows:

A. Tower, R. E.; V. Dimmick, R. T.; John Egenhoff, R. G.; J. E. Mauzey, C.; H. McLain, L. G.; H. Brown, L. T.; W. C. Weaver, L. G.; L. Liljeqvist, Q. B.; Bert Dimmick, R. H.; W. Butler, F. B.; Joe Schooley, L. H.

The lineup of the North Bend team could not be secured, but Arnold, who was injured on Thanksgiving day, will be back in the game, and the weak points in the team have been strengthened by two or three good men. The North Bend contingent is confident of victory and are getting in some good practice.

The fact that nearly every man on each team has been on a college or club eleven makes it possible for the citizens of the bay to see as good a game as can be provided by most universities. Bert Dimmick is well known as a star player and L. Liljeqvist is right there with the "goods" from the opening whistle until the clouds roll by. Both men played a splendid game on Thanksgiving. In fact the whole team made an excellent showing.

North Bend, however, has not forgotten the cleanup it received on the local grounds, and is anxious for a revenge and a big victory. The players of that lively town declare they are going to win the game on New Year's day.

The local team will give close attention to signal practice during the next few days, as this feature of its play in the last game rather astonished the visitors.

sex in the person of Miss Mary Cable whom he brought back with him to be a partner for the balance of his days. They were accompanied by Miss Stella Clark, a niece of Mr. Baker, who will make her home with them. While in North Carolina Mr. Baker visited J. W. Byers, formerly a resident of Coos and who talks of coming back soon.

Classified ads. are universal "bookers" and negotiators. They INITIATE thousands of transactions in this city every year.

One woman sometimes wonders how another "manages so well with so small an income!" BUYING ADVERTISED THINGS probably explains it—or most of it.

Don't rent that house for $5 a month less than it is worth when less than $5 spent in advertising will find a tenant willing and anxious to pay full price.

IMPROVE STATE DAIRIES NOW

Oregon Board of Health Will Give Closer Attention to Them.

MUST BE KEPT CLEAN

Sanitary Conditions Will Be Insisted

Upon In All Establishments
Catering to Public.

Closer attention will be given by the State Board of Health in the future to the milk supply of the state, according to a decision made at the annual meeting of the board, held in Salem. It was the opinion of the board that many dairies throughout the state, and especially those which furnish milk and other dairy products to Portland, are improperly conducted.

That the inspection of the dairies was a matter which should be under the direct supervision of the board instead of the state pure food commissioner, was the general consensus of opinion, and an effort will also be made to secure information regarding the sanitary conditions of all dairies. This will apply to the health of the cattle, the construction and drainage of the stables and the manner of handling the milk and other products.

Dr. Alfred Kinney, of Astoria, was elected president of the board, and Dr. A. C. Smith, of Portland, vice-president. Dr. R. C. Yenney was re-elected secretary and state health officer. Various reports were read of the work done the past year and by the various officers, and committees were appointed to visit the various state institutions.

Bay City Is Somewhere.—Frank M. Marhoffer, who operates a store in this vicinity, registered at the Blanco Hotel as being from Somewhere. A close investigation of the location of Somewhere, proved that Bay City is Somewhere, and consequently is somewhere on the map.

Takes in Two More.—Officer Condon, who has warrants out for the gamblers in North Bend who escaped during the haul made several days ago, last night arrested Will Ferry and a man giving his name as Bay, against whom the warrants had been served. The men did not seek to escape and they will appear before Justice Pennock this afternoon, when it is expected they will follow the plan of the others implicated and waive examination to the grand jury. Bay is the alleged proprietor of a game in the dance hall, which was operated by Will Ferry, according to the warrants.

COQUILLE CULLINGS.

News of the Week Clipped From the Columns of The Herald.

Married—At Riverton, December 24, 1907, Marion L. Wilkinson and Miss Nora M. Baumgartner; Rev. John Thomas, of Coquille, officiating.

J. O. Stemmler, of Dora, went to the bay Friday with a carload of fat hogs and sheep for the market of Henry Holm, at Marshfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wilson went to Bridge Thursday where Mrs. Wilson will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nasler.

Died—In Coquille, Oregon, December 23, 1907, Mrs. Wm. Candlin. The husband of the deceased started for Portland Monday with the body for the purpose of having it cremated, in accordance with her request. Mrs. Candlin has been a sufferer for some months from internal cancer and her death has been expected at any time for weeks.

Miss Jennie Lindebeck, of Arago, who has been in town attending school, went home Saturday to spend the holidays.

Mrs. James Boone came over from Marshfield on Monday and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edward Boyd.

DRINK ****

NATIONAL BEER

ABSOLUTELY PURE

BOTTLED BY Mirrasoul Bros.
PHONE 1531

The Steamer Steamer Delhi

Sails from Marshfield Thursday Jan. 2.
No reservation will be held after the arrival of ship unless ticket is bought.

F. S. DOW Agent
MARSHFIELD, : : : OREGON

Oil - Oil - Oil

We have it in any quantity,
Gasoline—Distillate—Gas Engine
Cylinder and Engine Oils—Coal Oil
Signal Oil—Separator Oil

Also
Launch Fittings of All Kinds.

Coos Bay Oil & Supply Co.

Water Front Near "A" Street - Phone 33

JACK FLANAGAN - - BILL LAWLOR

Special Holiday Rates

From now until after New Years,
Kelly's boats will carry passengers for 25 cents round trip. DAY and NIGHT.

J. A. O'KELLY

Proprietor.
DOES THIS LOOK GOOD?

Favor Us and Yourself

By buying your furniture here. This is the only furniture store in the city where no second hand goods are carried and our prices are right too. A fair profit is all we ask, Anything in the furniture line to be had here.

C. A. Johnson Furniture Co.

FRONT STREET

SPACE EMPHASIS

Sometimes "Makes An Ad!"

WHEN A GLANCE at a daily advertisement gives you a sense of type-crowding—of "economy" of inches—of lack of "breathing-room," you are not likely to read that ad!

When, However, the first glance is inviting—when ample and even liberal space is given to the message, you are almost certain to read that ad!

ANY REASONABLY interesting display ad. is improved very materially by this quality of "space-emphasis"—this knack of making your message "stand out" so attractively that it is both eye arresting and eye resisting.

Try an Advertisement in

THE TIMES

It Cures that Dull Trade Feeling.